Attachment for Section III – Income or Compensation to, Or Ownership by, City Elected Officials:

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of NB Holdings, which itself is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2024, the Corporation had approximately $3.3 trillion dollars in assets. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V:

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.3.a.:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, neither BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") nor its registered Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS has had its authorization to act as a federal contractor revoked or suspended. No such information with respect to state or local entities is reported or to the best of our knowledge maintained separately.

V.B.3.b, c and e:

On May 11, 2019, BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") agreed with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("MLPF&S") to assume the assets and liabilities of the Global Banking and Markets business previously conducted by MLPF&S, including the regulatory and legal matters below.

In the ordinary course of business, BofA Securities is subject to regulatory examinations, information gathering requests, inquiries, and investigations ("Regulatory Inquiries") by various federal or state securities regulatory agencies and attorneys general, other local, state, and federal agencies, law enforcement, and self-regulatory organizations (collectively, "Regulators"); and is on occasion a defendant in or party to pending threatened legal actions and proceedings. In connection with formal and informal Regulatory Inquiries, BofA Securities receives numerous requests, subpoenas and orders for documents, testimony and information in connection with various aspects of their regulated activities, and in some cases regulatory action has been taken against BofA Securities. BofA Securities believes that it has cooperated fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries to date and intends to continue to cooperate fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries involving BofA Securities in the future.

Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), BofA Securities' ultimate parent, makes all required disclosures in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, which are updated in Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") ("Regulatory Filings"). BofA Securities makes all required disclosures in its Form BD and ADV filings ("Form BD and ADV Filings") with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). Those Regulatory Filings and Form BD and ADV Filings include disclosures of Regulatory Inquiries as required by federal law and applicable regulations. The Regulatory Filings are publicly available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. The Form BD Filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://brokercheck.finra.org/. The Form ADV filings are publicly available on the SEC's Investment Adviser Search website at: http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/default.aspx.

The Corporation cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other, non-public Regulatory Inquiry conducted by any Regulator unless required to do so by law.

Please note the following public matters involving BofA Securities' public finance business over the past five (5) years:

Municipal Bond Underwriting False Claims Act Lawsuits

Beginning in January 2016, the Corporation was served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Roger Hayes and Talbot Heppenstall (the "Relators") in Illinois, California, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In each case, the Relators alleged that the defendants falsely represented to state and municipal officials that they would obtain the lowest yields/highest prices for new negotiated municipal bond offerings in order to secure underwriting engagements for those offerings. All of the cases have been dismissed or withdrawn: The Illinois lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in September 2017; the California lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court with prejudice in March 2019; the New Jersey lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in early May 2019; and the Relators voluntarily discontinued the New York lawsuit in June 2019.

VRDO False Claims Act Lawsuits

Since November 2017, the Corporation has been served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Edelweiss Fund, LLC ("Edelweiss") in Illinois, California, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In February 2019, the Massachusetts state court permitted the substitution of Bjorn Johan Rosenberg for Edelweiss as the relator in the case. In each case, Edelweiss and Rosenberg purport to assert claims that the defendants engaged in a coordinated "robo-setting" scheme under which they allegedly set the rates for Variable Rate Demand Obligations ("VRDOs") mechanically in order to keep the rates artificially high and thereby reduce the chances of having to remarket the bonds. To date, the Attorney Generals of each of these states have declined to join in the lawsuits. The Massachusetts Supreme Court affirmed the trial court's dismissal of that case in May 2021. In October 2023, the defendants, including Bank of America, reached an agreement to settle the Illinois case for an aggregate of $70 million. On December 27, 2024, the New Jersey Appellate Court reversed the trial court, held that Relator's claims are foreclosed by the public disclosure bar, and directed that judgment be entered in defendants' favor. Relator has filed a motion seeking leave to appeal and defendants have opposed. The motion is pending. In the New York case, the trial court has denied the parties' motions for summary judgment except as to Relator's motion as it relates to materiality. The court's decision also eliminates several categories of damages that Relator had asserted, substantially reducing the defendants' exposure. Nonetheless, defendants intend to appeal the decision to the Appellate Division. The California case remains pending and is in discovery.

VRDO Antitrust Actions

On February 20, 2019, the City of Philadelphia filed a putative antitrust class action complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging that several of the Corporation's affiliates and affiliates of six other large banks, acting in their capacity as remarketing agents for VRDOs, conspired between 2008 and 2016 to artificially inflate interest rates on VRDOs to the detriment of their municipal issuer customers. The complaint asserts causes of action (i) under Section 1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act and Sections 4 and 16 of the Clayton Antitrust Act, (ii) for breach of contract, and (iii) for unjust enrichment. On March 25, 2019, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, Maryland filed a similar class action antitrust complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York against several Bank of America affiliates and affiliates of other banks. The trial judge has ordered the cases to be consolidated. On June 3, 2021, a new VRDO antitrust class action complaint was filed in the Southern District of New York on behalf of a proposed subclass of California municipal issuers and asserting several claims under California law based on the same alleged conduct. On August 6, 2021, Plaintiffs in the main case filed an amended complaint that includes the California plaintiffs as named parties and otherwise absorbs/covers their claims. In September 2023, the trial judge granted Plaintiffs motion for class certification. On February 5, 2024, the 2d Cir. Court of Appeals granted our 23(f) petition seeking an interlocutory appeal of the class certification decision. Shortly after, the trial judge ordered that the case be stayed pending the outcome of the appeal, which remains pending.

Puerto Rico Lawsuits

On September 15, 2022, Drivetrain, LLC as trustee for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico ("Trustee") filed a second amended complaint in the adversary proceeding captioned Drivetrain, LLC v. Barclays Capital, Inc. et al., Adv. Pro. No. 19-00280 in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Puerto Rico against BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA"), Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. ("MLPF&S"), and Merrill Lynch Capital Services, Inc. ("MLCS," and collectively with BofA and MLPF&S, the "BANA Entities") and numerous other financial institutions that served as underwriters on 17 bond issuances by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its instrumentalities and/or entered into interest rate swap agreements in the years leading up to the bankruptcy. The Trustee asserts claims against MLCS (the swap counterparties) and the other swap counterparties for rescission of the swap agreements because they were allegedly never registered in accordance with Puerto Rico law. In addition, the Trustee asserts claims against the BANA Entities and the other financial institutions for: (i) recovery of fees provided under the underwriter and swap agreements based on a theory that the bond issuances were allegedly contrary to Puerto Rico laws and increased Puerto Rico's insolvency because (1) the Puerto Rico agency issuing the bonds allegedly did not have the authority to so, (2) the bond issuances were allegedly not in the interest of the general welfare of Puerto Rico, or (3) the bond issuances allegedly added general obligation debt in violation of Puerto Rico's constitutional debt limit, and (ii) fraudulent conveyance of all fees and/or interest and principal payments on bonds the BANA Entities received in connection with the allegedly invalid bond issuances and swap agreements.

In addition, Ambac Assurance Corporation ("AMBAC"), Financial Guaranty Insurance Company ("FGIC") and National Public Finance Guarantee Corporation have brought lawsuits in a local court in Puerto Rico against Merrill Lynch and certain affiliates and 8 other underwriters for one or more bonds issued from 2001 to 2007 by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its agencies. The plaintiffs allege that they were induced to insure the bonds based upon defendants assurances that they had reasonably investigated the statements in the Official Statements and that the underwriters had a reasonable basis for believing that the statements were true and complete. All three complaints are based on two equitable doctrines of Puerto Rican law: Doctrina de Actos Propious (i.e., "doctrine of own acts," which protects a third party who relies in good faith on the veracity of manifestations or actions of another); and Unilateral Declaration of Will (i.e., the creation of an obligation through a unilateral act in the form of a concrete promise on which others are intended to rely). On July 9, 2021, the FGIC complaint was dismissed with prejudice. On July 30, 2021, the AMBAC complaint was also dismissed. The Puerto Rico Court of Appeals has affirmed both dismissals. On December 20, 2021, the Court of Appeals reversed the trial court's denial of defendant's motion to dismiss the National complaint and dismissed that lawsuit too. National sought permission to appeal to the Puerto Rico Supreme Court and the Supreme Court denied the petition on May 13, 2022.

BofA Securities' registered officers and employees make required disclosures in their Form U-4, which are filed with FINRA pursuant to a directive from the SEC. These Form U-4 filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://brokercheck.finra.org/.

V.B.3.d:

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.5.a, b and c:

Please see response to V.B.3. b c and e above.

In addition, to the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofA Securities believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither BofA Securities nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, BofA Securities is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofA Securities.

V.B.8:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofA Securities believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofA Securities (or any controlling person of BofA Securities) nor any entity that BofA Securities has been affiliated with (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, BofA Securities believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofA Securities nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, BofA Securities is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofA Securities.

Attachment for Section V.B.2:

As of the date hereof, neither the Disclosing Party nor any Affiliated Persons are delinquent in the payment of any fine, fee, tax or other source of indebtedness owed to the City of Chicago. In the interest of ongoing transparency, we acknowledge a preliminary sales and use tax audit report from the City Department of Revenue and are working with the City to ensure all taxes are timely paid. We stress that we have received no actual notice of delinquency and there is no final finding of any amounts that may be owed. In accordance with this certification, the Disclosing Party will update at the end of each calendar quarter any event that materially affects the accuracy of the statements and information put forth in this certification.

Attachment for Section V.B.12-13/Appendix A:

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of NB Holdings, which itself is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2024, the Corporation had approximately $3.3 trillion dollars in assets. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.D.:

Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities, Inc. to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

ADDENDUM

CITY OF CHICAGO AFFIDAIVT DISCLOSING SLAVERY ERA PARTICIPATION, INVESTMENTS, OR PROFITS

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

Attachment for Section III – Income or Compensation to, Or Ownership by, City Elected Officials:

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of NB Holdings, which itself is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2024, the Corporation had approximately $3.3 trillion dollars in assets. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V:

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.3.a.:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, neither BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") nor its registered Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS has had its authorization to act as a federal contractor revoked or suspended. No such information with respect to state or local entities is reported or to the best of our knowledge maintained separately.

V.B.3.b, c and e:

On May 11, 2019, BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") agreed with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("MLPF&S") to assume the assets and liabilities of the Global Banking and Markets business previously conducted by MLPF&S, including the regulatory and legal matters below.

In the ordinary course of business, BofA Securities is subject to regulatory examinations, information gathering requests, inquiries, and investigations ("Regulatory Inquiries") by various federal or state securities regulatory agencies and attorneys general, other local, state, and federal agencies, law enforcement, and self-regulatory organizations (collectively, "Regulators"); and is on occasion a defendant in or party to pending threatened legal actions and proceedings. In connection with formal and informal Regulatory Inquiries, BofA Securities receives numerous requests, subpoenas and orders for documents, testimony and information in connection with various aspects of their regulated activities, and in some cases regulatory action has been taken against BofA Securities. BofA Securities believes that it has cooperated fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries to date and intends to continue to cooperate fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries involving BofA Securities in the future.

Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), BofA Securities' ultimate parent, makes all required disclosures in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, which are updated in Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") ("Regulatory Filings"). BofA Securities makes all required disclosures in its Form BD and ADV filings ("Form BD and ADV Filings") with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). Those Regulatory Filings and Form BD and ADV Filings include disclosures of Regulatory Inquiries as required by federal law and applicable regulations. The Regulatory Filings are publicly available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. The Form BD Filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://brokercheck.finra.org/. The Form ADV filings are publicly available on the SEC's Investment Adviser Search website at: http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/default.aspx.

The Corporation cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other, non-public Regulatory Inquiry conducted by any Regulator unless required to do so by law.

Please note the following public matters involving BofA Securities' public finance business over the past five (5) years:

Municipal Bond Underwriting False Claims Act Lawsuits

Beginning in January 2016, the Corporation was served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Roger Hayes and Talbot Heppenstall (the "Relators") in Illinois, California, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In each case, the Relators alleged that the defendants falsely represented to state and municipal officials that they would obtain the lowest yields/highest prices for new negotiated municipal bond offerings in order to secure underwriting engagements for those offerings. All of the cases have been dismissed or withdrawn: The Illinois lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in September 2017; the California lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court with prejudice in March 2019; the New Jersey lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in early May 2019; and the Relators voluntarily discontinued the New York lawsuit in June 2019.

VRDO False Claims Act Lawsuits

Since November 2017, the Corporation has been served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Edelweiss Fund, LLC ("Edelweiss") in Illinois, California, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In February 2019, the Massachusetts state court permitted the substitution of Bjorn Johan Rosenberg for Edelweiss as the relator in the case. In each case, Edelweiss and Rosenberg purport to assert claims that the defendants engaged in a coordinated "robo-setting" scheme under which they allegedly set the rates for Variable Rate Demand Obligations ("VRDOs") mechanically in order to keep the rates artificially high and thereby reduce the chances of having to remarket the bonds. To date, the Attorney Generals of each of these states have declined to join in the lawsuits. The Massachusetts Supreme Court affirmed the trial court's dismissal of that case in May 2021. In October 2023, the defendants, including Bank of America, reached an agreement to settle the Illinois case for an aggregate of $70 million. On December 27, 2024, the New Jersey Appellate Court reversed the trial court, held that Relator's claims are foreclosed by the public disclosure bar, and directed that judgment be entered in defendants' favor. Relator has filed a motion seeking leave to appeal and defendants have opposed. The motion is pending. In the New York case, the trial court has denied the parties' motions for summary judgment except as to Relator's motion as it relates to materiality. The court's decision also eliminates several categories of damages that Relator had asserted, substantially reducing the defendants' exposure. Nonetheless, defendants intend to appeal the decision to the Appellate Division. The California case remains pending and is in discovery.

VRDO Antitrust Actions

On February 20, 2019, the City of Philadelphia filed a putative antitrust class action complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging that several of the Corporation's affiliates and affiliates of six other large banks, acting in their capacity as remarketing agents for VRDOs, conspired between 2008 and 2016 to artificially inflate interest rates on VRDOs to the detriment of their municipal issuer customers. The complaint asserts causes of action (i) under Section 1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act and Sections 4 and 16 of the Clayton Antitrust Act, (ii) for breach of contract, and (iii) for unjust enrichment. On March 25, 2019, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, Maryland filed a similar class action antitrust complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York against several Bank of America affiliates and affiliates of other banks. The trial judge has ordered the cases to be consolidated. On June 3, 2021, a new VRDO antitrust class action complaint was filed in the Southern District of New York on behalf of a proposed subclass of California municipal issuers and asserting several claims under California law based on the same alleged conduct. On August 6, 2021, Plaintiffs in the main case filed an amended complaint that includes the California plaintiffs as named parties and otherwise absorbs/covers their claims. In September 2023, the trial judge granted Plaintiffs motion for class certification. On February 5, 2024, the 2d Cir. Court of Appeals granted our 23(f) petition seeking an interlocutory appeal of the class certification decision. Shortly after, the trial judge ordered that the case be stayed pending the outcome of the appeal, which remains pending.

Puerto Rico Lawsuits

On September 15, 2022, Drivetrain, LLC as trustee for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico ("Trustee") filed a second amended complaint in the adversary proceeding captioned Drivetrain, LLC v. Barclays Capital, Inc. et al., Adv. Pro. No. 19-00280 in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Puerto Rico against BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA"), Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. ("MLPF&S"), and Merrill Lynch Capital Services, Inc. ("MLCS," and collectively with BofA and MLPF&S, the "BANA Entities") and numerous other financial institutions that served as underwriters on 17 bond issuances by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its instrumentalities and/or entered into interest rate swap agreements in the years leading up to the bankruptcy. The Trustee asserts claims against MLCS (the swap counterparties) and the other swap counterparties for rescission of the swap agreements because they were allegedly never registered in accordance with Puerto Rico law. In addition, the Trustee asserts claims against the BANA Entities and the other financial institutions for: (i) recovery of fees provided under the underwriter and swap agreements based on a theory that the bond issuances were allegedly contrary to Puerto Rico laws and increased Puerto Rico's insolvency because (1) the Puerto Rico agency issuing the bonds allegedly did not have the authority to so, (2) the bond issuances were allegedly not in the interest of the general welfare of Puerto Rico, or (3) the bond issuances allegedly added general obligation debt in violation of Puerto Rico's constitutional debt limit, and (ii) fraudulent conveyance of all fees and/or interest and principal payments on bonds the BANA Entities received in connection with the allegedly invalid bond issuances and swap agreements.

In addition, Ambac Assurance Corporation ("AMBAC"), Financial Guaranty Insurance Company ("FGIC") and National Public Finance Guarantee Corporation have brought lawsuits in a local court in Puerto Rico against Merrill Lynch and certain affiliates and 8 other underwriters for one or more bonds issued from 2001 to 2007 by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its agencies. The plaintiffs allege that they were induced to insure the bonds based upon defendants assurances that they had reasonably investigated the statements in the Official Statements and that the underwriters had a reasonable basis for believing that the statements were true and complete. All three complaints are based on two equitable doctrines of Puerto Rican law: Doctrina de Actos Propious (i.e., "doctrine of own acts," which protects a third party who relies in good faith on the veracity of manifestations or actions of another); and Unilateral Declaration of Will (i.e., the creation of an obligation through a unilateral act in the form of a concrete promise on which others are intended to rely). On July 9, 2021, the FGIC complaint was dismissed with prejudice. On July 30, 2021, the AMBAC complaint was also dismissed. The Puerto Rico Court of Appeals has affirmed both dismissals. On December 20, 2021, the Court of Appeals reversed the trial court's denial of defendant's motion to dismiss the National complaint and dismissed that lawsuit too. National sought permission to appeal to the Puerto Rico Supreme Court and the Supreme Court denied the petition on May 13, 2022.

BofA Securities' registered officers and employees make required disclosures in their Form U-4, which are filed with FINRA pursuant to a directive from the SEC. These Form U-4 filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://brokercheck.finra.org/.

V.B.3.d:

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.5.a, b and c:

Please see response to V.B.3. b c and e above.

In addition, to the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofA Securities believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither BofA Securities nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, BofA Securities is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofA Securities.

V.B.8:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofA Securities believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofA Securities (or any controlling person of BofA Securities) nor any entity that BofA Securities has been affiliated with (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, BofA Securities believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofA Securities nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, BofA Securities is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofA Securities.

Attachment for Section V.B.2:

As of the date hereof, neither the Disclosing Party nor any Affiliated Persons are delinquent in the payment of any fine, fee, tax or other source of indebtedness owed to the City of Chicago. In the interest of ongoing transparency, we acknowledge a preliminary sales and use tax audit report from the City Department of Revenue and are working with the City to ensure all taxes are timely paid. We stress that we have received no actual notice of delinquency and there is no final finding of any amounts that may be owed. In accordance with this certification, the Disclosing Party will update at the end of each calendar quarter any event that materially affects the accuracy of the statements and information put forth in this certification.

Attachment for Section V.B.12-13/Appendix A:

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of NB Holdings, which itself is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.D.:

Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities, Inc. to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

ADDENDUM

CITY OF CHICAGO AFFIDAIVT DISCLOSING SLAVERY ERA PARTICIPATION, INVESTMENTS, OR PROFITS

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

Attachment for Section III – Income or Compensation to, Or Ownership by, City Elected Officials:

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of NB Holdings, which itself is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2024, the Corporation had approximately $3.3 trillion dollars in assets. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V:

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.3.a.:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, neither BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") nor its registered Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS has had its authorization to act as a federal contractor revoked or suspended. No such information with respect to state or local entities is reported or to the best of our knowledge maintained separately.

V.B.3.b, c and e:

On May 11, 2019, BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") agreed with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("MLPF&S") to assume the assets and liabilities of the Global Banking and Markets business previously conducted by MLPF&S, including the regulatory and legal matters below.

In the ordinary course of business, BofA Securities is subject to regulatory examinations, information gathering requests, inquiries, and investigations ("Regulatory Inquiries") by various federal or state securities regulatory agencies and attorneys general, other local, state, and federal agencies, law enforcement, and self-regulatory organizations (collectively, "Regulators"); and is on occasion a defendant in or party to pending threatened legal actions and proceedings. In connection with formal and informal Regulatory Inquiries, BofA Securities receives numerous requests, subpoenas and orders for documents, testimony and information in connection with various aspects of their regulated activities, and in some cases regulatory action has been taken against BofA Securities. BofA Securities believes that it has cooperated fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries to date and intends to continue to cooperate fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries involving BofA Securities in the future.

Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), BofA Securities' ultimate parent, makes all required disclosures in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, which are updated in Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") ("Regulatory Filings"). BofA Securities makes all required disclosures in its Form BD and ADV filings ("Form BD and ADV Filings") with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). Those Regulatory Filings and Form BD and ADV Filings include disclosures of Regulatory Inquiries as required by federal law and applicable regulations. The Regulatory Filings are publicly available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. The Form BD Filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://brokercheck.finra.org/. The Form ADV filings are publicly available on the SEC's Investment Adviser Search website at: http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/default.aspx.

The Corporation cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other, non-public Regulatory Inquiry conducted by any Regulator unless required to do so by law.

Please note the following public matters involving BofA Securities' public finance business over the past five (5) years:

Municipal Bond Underwriting False Claims Act Lawsuits

Beginning in January 2016, the Corporation was served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Roger Hayes and Talbot Heppenstall (the "Relators") in Illinois, California, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In each case, the Relators alleged that the defendants falsely represented to state and municipal officials that they would obtain the lowest yields/highest prices for new negotiated municipal bond offerings in order to secure underwriting engagements for those offerings. All of the cases have been dismissed or withdrawn: The Illinois lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in September 2017; the California lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court with prejudice in March 2019; the New Jersey lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in early May 2019; and the Relators voluntarily discontinued the New York lawsuit in June 2019.

VRDO False Claims Act Lawsuits

Since November 2017, the Corporation has been served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Edelweiss Fund, LLC ("Edelweiss") in Illinois, California, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In February 2019, the Massachusetts state court permitted the substitution of Bjorn Johan Rosenberg for Edelweiss as the relator in the case. In each case, Edelweiss and Rosenberg purport to assert claims that the defendants engaged in a coordinated "robo-setting" scheme under which they allegedly set the rates for Variable Rate Demand Obligations ("VRDOs") mechanically in order to keep the rates artificially high and thereby reduce the chances of having to remarket the bonds. To date, the Attorney Generals of each of these states have declined to join in the lawsuits. The Massachusetts Supreme Court affirmed the trial court's dismissal of that case in May 2021. In October 2023, the defendants, including Bank of America, reached an agreement to settle the Illinois case for an aggregate of $70 million. On December 27, 2024, the New Jersey Appellate Court reversed the trial court, held that Relator's claims are foreclosed by the public disclosure bar, and directed that judgment be entered in defendants' favor. Relator has filed a motion seeking leave to appeal and defendants have opposed. The motion is pending. In the New York case, the trial court has denied the parties' motions for summary judgment except as to Relator's motion as it relates to materiality. The court's decision also eliminates several categories of damages that Relator had asserted, substantially reducing the defendants' exposure. Nonetheless, defendants intend to appeal the decision to the Appellate Division. The California case remains pending and is in discovery.

VRDO Antitrust Actions

On February 20, 2019, the City of Philadelphia filed a putative antitrust class action complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging that several of the Corporation's affiliates and affiliates of six other large banks, acting in their capacity as remarketing agents for VRDOs, conspired between 2008 and 2016 to artificially inflate interest rates on VRDOs to the detriment of their municipal issuer customers. The complaint asserts causes of action (i) under Section 1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act and Sections 4 and 16 of the Clayton Antitrust Act, (ii) for breach of contract, and (iii) for unjust enrichment. On March 25, 2019, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, Maryland filed a similar class action antitrust complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York against several Bank of America affiliates and affiliates of other banks. The trial judge has ordered the cases to be consolidated. On June 3, 2021, a new VRDO antitrust class action complaint was filed in the Southern District of New York on behalf of a proposed subclass of California municipal issuers and asserting several claims under California law based on the same alleged conduct. On August 6, 2021, Plaintiffs in the main case filed an amended complaint that includes the California plaintiffs as named parties and otherwise absorbs/covers their claims. In September 2023, the trial judge granted Plaintiffs motion for class certification. On February 5, 2024, the 2d Cir. Court of Appeals granted our 23(f) petition seeking an interlocutory appeal of the class certification decision. Shortly after, the trial judge ordered that the case be stayed pending the outcome of the appeal, which remains pending.

Puerto Rico Lawsuits

On September 15, 2022, Drivetrain, LLC as trustee for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico ("Trustee") filed a second amended complaint in the adversary proceeding captioned Drivetrain, LLC v. Barclays Capital, Inc. et al., Adv. Pro. No. 19-00280 in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Puerto Rico against BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA"), Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. ("MLPF&S"), and Merrill Lynch Capital Services, Inc. ("MLCS," and collectively with BofA and MLPF&S, the "BANA Entities") and numerous other financial institutions that served as underwriters on 17 bond issuances by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its instrumentalities and/or entered into interest rate swap agreements in the years leading up to the bankruptcy. The Trustee asserts claims against MLCS (the swap counterparties) and the other swap counterparties for rescission of the swap agreements because they were allegedly never registered in accordance with Puerto Rico law. In addition, the Trustee asserts claims against the BANA Entities and the other financial institutions for: (i) recovery of fees provided under the underwriter and swap agreements based on a theory that the bond issuances were allegedly contrary to Puerto Rico laws and increased Puerto Rico's insolvency because (1) the Puerto Rico agency issuing the bonds allegedly did not have the authority to so, (2) the bond issuances were allegedly not in the interest of the general welfare of Puerto Rico, or (3) the bond issuances allegedly added general obligation debt in violation of Puerto Rico's constitutional debt limit, and (ii) fraudulent conveyance of all fees and/or interest and principal payments on bonds the BANA Entities received in connection with the allegedly invalid bond issuances and swap agreements.

In addition, Ambac Assurance Corporation ("AMBAC"), Financial Guaranty Insurance Company ("FGIC") and National Public Finance Guarantee Corporation have brought lawsuits in a local court in Puerto Rico against Merrill Lynch and certain affiliates and 8 other underwriters for one or more bonds issued from 2001 to 2007 by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its agencies. The plaintiffs allege that they were induced to insure the bonds based upon defendants assurances that they had reasonably investigated the statements in the Official Statements and that the underwriters had a reasonable basis for believing that the statements were true and complete. All three complaints are based on two equitable doctrines of Puerto Rican law: Doctrina de Actos Propious (i.e., "doctrine of own acts," which protects a third party who relies in good faith on the veracity of manifestations or actions of another); and Unilateral Declaration of Will (i.e., the creation of an obligation through a unilateral act in the form of a concrete promise on which others are intended to rely). On July 9, 2021, the FGIC complaint was dismissed with prejudice. On July 30, 2021, the AMBAC complaint was also dismissed. The Puerto Rico Court of Appeals has affirmed both dismissals. On December 20, 2021, the Court of Appeals reversed the trial court's denial of defendant's motion to dismiss the National complaint and dismissed that lawsuit too. National sought permission to appeal to the Puerto Rico Supreme Court and the Supreme Court denied the petition on May 13, 2022.

BofA Securities' registered officers and employees make required disclosures in their Form U-4, which are filed with FINRA pursuant to a directive from the SEC. These Form U-4 filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://brokercheck.finra.org/.

V.B.3.d:

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.5.a, b and c:

Please see response to V.B.3. b c and e above.

In addition, to the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofA Securities believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither BofA Securities nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, BofA Securities is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofA Securities.

V.B.8:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofA Securities believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofA Securities (or any controlling person of BofA Securities) nor any entity that BofA Securities has been affiliated with (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, BofA Securities believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofA Securities nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, BofA Securities is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofA Securities.

Attachment for Section V.B.2:

As of the date hereof, neither the Disclosing Party nor any Affiliated Persons are delinquent in the payment of any fine, fee, tax or other source of indebtedness owed to the City of Chicago. In the interest of ongoing transparency, we acknowledge a preliminary sales and use tax audit report from the City Department of Revenue and are working with the City to ensure all taxes are timely paid. We stress that we have received no actual notice of delinquency and there is no final finding of any amounts that may be owed. In accordance with this certification, the Disclosing Party will update at the end of each calendar quarter any event that materially affects the accuracy of the statements and information put forth in this certification.

Attachment for Section V.B.12-13/Appendix A:

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of NB Holdings, which itself is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2024, the Corporation had approximately $3.3 trillion dollars in assets. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.D.:

Please note that Bank of America Corporation ("BAC") and its subsidiaries had approximately 213,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2024. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities, Inc. to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

ADDENDUM

CITY OF CHICAGO AFFIDAIVT DISCLOSING SLAVERY ERA PARTICIPATION, INVESTMENTS, OR PROFITS

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA Securities") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

Note from City of Chicago Department of Law:

SECTION 5.K.(1) Separately Managed Accounts

After subtracting the amounts reported in Item 5.D.(3)(d)-(f) from your total regulatory assets under management, indicate the approximate percentage of this remaining amount attributable to each of the following categories of assets. If the remaining amount is at least $10 billion in regulatory assets under management, complete Question (a). If the remaining amount is less than $10 billion in regulatory assets under management, complete Question (b).

Any regulatory assets under management reported in Item 5.D.(3)(d), (e), and (f) should not be reported below.

If you are a subadviser to a separately managed account, you should only provide information with respect to the portion of the account that you subadvise.

End of year refers to the date used to calculate your regulatory assets under management for purposes of your annual updating amendment . Mid-year is the date six months before the end of year date. Each column should add up to 100% and numbers should be rounded to the nearest percent.

Investments in derivatives, registered investment companies, business development companies, and pooled investment vehicles should be reported in those categories. Do not report those investments based on related or underlying portfolio assets. Cash equivalents include bank deposits, certificates of deposit, bankers' acceptances and similar bank instruments.

Some assets could be classified into more than one category or require discretion about which category applies. You may use your own internal methodologies and the conventions of your service providers in determining how to categorize assets, so long as the methodologies or conventions are consistently applied and consistent with information you report internally and to current and prospective clients. However, you should not double count assets, and your responses must be consistent with any instructions or other guidance relating to this Section.

Item 12 Small Businesses

The SEC is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act to consider the effect of its regulations on small entities. In order to do this, we need to determine whether you meet the definition of "small business" or "small organization" under rule 0-7.

Answer this Item 12 only if you are registered or registering with the SEC and you indicated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) that you have regulatory assets under management of less than $25 million. You are not required to answer this Item 12 if you are filing for initial registration as a state adviser, amending a current state registration, or switching from SEC to state registration.

For purposes of this Item 12 only:

- Total Assets refers to the total assets of a firm, rather than the assets managed on behalf of clients. In determining your or another person's total assets, you may use the total assets shown on a current balance sheet (but use total assets reported on a consolidated balance sheet with subsidiaries included, if that amount is larger).
- Control means the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through ownership of securities, by contract, or otherwise. Any person that directly or indirectly has the right to vote 25 percent or more of the voting securities, or is entitled to 25 percent or more of the profits, of another person is presumed to control the other person.

		Yes	No
A.	Did you have total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of your most recent fiscal year?	○	○
	If "yes," you do not need to answer Items 12.B. and 12.C.
B.	Do you:
(1)	control another investment adviser that had regulatory assets under management (calculated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) of Form ADV) of $25 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○
(2)	control another person (other than a natural person) that had total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○
C.	Are you:
(1)	controlled by or under common control with another investment adviser that had regulatory assets under management (calculated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) of Form ADV) of $25 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○

(2) controlled by or under common control with another person (other than a natural person) that had total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year? ○ ○

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
March 31, 2025

Note 1. General

The accompanying unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of Berkshire Hathaway Inc. ("Berkshire" or "Company") consolidated with the accounts of all subsidiaries and affiliates in which Berkshire holds a controlling financial interest as of the financial statement date. In these notes, the terms "us," "we" or "our" refer to Berkshire and its consolidated subsidiaries. Reference is made to Berkshire's most recently issued Annual Report on Form 10-K ("Annual Report"), which includes information necessary or useful to understanding Berkshire's businesses and financial statement presentations. Our significant accounting policies and practices were presented as Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in the Annual Report.

Financial information in this Quarterly Report reflects all adjustments that are, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of results for the interim periods in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). For several reasons, our results for interim periods may not be indicative of results to be expected for the year. The timing and magnitude of catastrophe losses incurred by insurance subsidiaries and the estimation error inherent to the process of determining liabilities for unpaid losses of insurance subsidiaries can be more significant to results of interim periods than to results for a full year. Changes in market prices of our investments in equity securities and the related changes in unrealized gains and losses will produce significant volatility in our interim and annual earnings. In addition, gains and losses from the periodic revaluation of certain assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies and asset impairment charges may cause significant variations in periodic net earnings.

Significant estimates are used in the preparation of our Consolidated Financial Statements, including those associated with evaluations of long-lived assets, goodwill and other intangible assets for impairment, expected credit losses on the amounts owed to us and the estimation of certain losses assumed under insurance and reinsurance contracts. These estimates may be subject to significant adjustments in future periods.

Changes in macroeconomic conditions and geopolitical events, including changes in international trade policies and tariffs, may negatively affect our operating results and the values of our investments in equity securities and of our operating businesses. We are currently unable to reliably predict the nature, timing or magnitude of the potential economic consequences of any such changes or the impacts on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

As described in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in the Annual Report, we reclassified the asset, liability, revenue and expense balances of Pilot Travel Centers LLC ("Pilot") from the Railroad, Utilities and Energy sections to the Insurance and Other sections of our Consolidated Balance Sheets and Statements of Earnings. Accordingly, we reclassified the Pilot balances in the accompanying Consolidated Statement of Earnings for the first quarter of 2024 from the Railroad, Utilities and Energy section to the Insurance and Other section to conform with current presentations for comparability purposes. These reclassifications had no effect on consolidated revenues, expenses or net earnings from the amounts previously reported. The reclassifications to the amounts previously reported in our Consolidated Statement of Earnings are summarized below (in millions).

Note 2. New accounting and financial reporting pronouncements

In December 2023, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2023-09, "Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures" ("ASU 2023-09"), which provides for additional income tax rate reconciliation and income taxes paid disclosures in annual financial statements. ASU 2023-09 may be adopted prospectively or retrospectively and is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024.

In November 2024, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2024-03, "Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses" ("ASU 2024-03"), which requires detailed disclosure in the notes to the financial statements of specific categories underlying certain expense captions on the income statement. ASU 2024-03 may be adopted prospectively or retrospectively and is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, with early adoption permitted.

We are evaluating the impacts these pronouncements will have on disclosures in our Consolidated Financial Statements.

On March 6, 2024, the U.S. Securities Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued Release No. 33-11275 and No. 34-99678 "The Enhancement and Standardization of Climate-Related Disclosures for Investors" ("Climate Disclosure Rules"). On April 4, 2024, the SEC stayed implementation of the Climate Disclosure Rules, pending the completion of an ongoing judicial review. On March 27, 2025, the SEC voted to end its defense of the Climate Disclosure Rules.

Note 4. Investments in equity securities

Our investments in equity securities over the years have been concentrated in relatively few companies. The fair value of our five largest holdings at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 represented 69% and 71%, respectively, of the aggregate fair value of our equity securities shown in the preceding tables. The five largest holdings at each date were American Express Company, Apple Inc., Bank of America Corporation, The Coca-Cola Company and Chevron Corporation.

Since 2019, we have also owned non-voting Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock of Occidental Petroleum Corporation ("Occidental") and Occidental common stock warrants. Our investments in the Occidental preferred stock and Occidental common stock warrants are recorded at fair value and included as equity securities in our Consolidated Balance Sheets, as such investments are not in-substance common stock under GAAP. We account for our investment in Occidental common stock under the equity method. See Note 5.

The Occidental preferred stock accrues dividends at 8% per annum and is redeemable at the option of Occidental commencing in 2029 at a redemption price equal to 105% of the liquidation value. As of March 31, 2025, our investment in Occidental preferred stock had an aggregate liquidation value of approximately $8.5 billion. To date, Occidental has been required to redeem approximately $1.5 billion of the aggregate liquidation value due to excess distributions by Occidental to its common stockholders, as defined under the terms of the Occidental preferred stock certificate of designations.

The Occidental common stock warrants allow us to purchase up to 83.86 million shares of Occidental common stock at an exercise price of $59.62 per share. The warrants are exercisable in whole or in part until one year after the date the preferred stock is fully redeemed.

As of March 31, 2025, we owned 151.6 million shares of American Express Company ("American Express") common stock representing 21.6% of the outstanding common stock of American Express. Since 1995, we have been party to an agreement with American Express whereby we agreed to vote a significant portion of our shares in accordance with the recommendations of the American Express Board of Directors. We have also agreed to passivity commitments as requested by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, which collectively, in our judgment, restrict our ability to exercise significant influence over the operating and financial policies of American Express. Accordingly, we do not use the equity method with respect to our investment in American Express common stock, and we continue to record our investment at fair value.

Note 5. Equity method investments

Berkshire and its subsidiaries hold investments in certain entities that are accounted for pursuant to the equity method. The most significant of these are our investments in the common stock of The Kraft Heinz Company ("Kraft Heinz") and Occidental. As of March 31, 2025, we owned 27.3% of the outstanding Kraft Heinz common stock and 28.2% of the outstanding Occidental common stock which excludes the potential effect of the exercise of Occidental's outstanding common stock warrants.

Kraft Heinz manufactures and markets food and beverage products, including condiments and sauces, cheese and dairy, meals, meats, refreshment beverages, coffee and other grocery products. Occidental is an international energy company, whose activities include oil and natural gas exploration, development and production, and chemicals manufacturing businesses.

We also own a 50% interest in Berkadia Commercial Mortgage LLC ("Berkadia"). Jefferies Financial Group Inc. ("Jefferies") owns the other 50% interest. Berkadia engages in mortgage banking, investment sales and servicing commercial/multi-family real estate loans. Berkadia's commercial paper borrowing capacity (limited to $1.5 billion) is supported by a surety policy issued by a Berkshire insurance subsidiary. Jefferies is obligated to indemnify us for one-half of any losses incurred under the policy.

The fair values and our carrying values of these investments are included in the following table (in millions).

	Carrying Value		Fair Value
	March 31, 2025	December 31, 2024	March 31, 2025	December 31, 2024
Kraft Heinz	$ 13,523	$ 13,395	$ 9,903	$ 9,994
Occidental	17,165	17,287	13,078	13,053
Berkadia	456	452
	$ 31,144	$ 31,134

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 5. Equity method investments

Kraft Heinz and Occidental common stocks are publicly traded. As of March 31, 2025, the excess of the carrying values over the fair values of our investments in Kraft Heinz and Occidental was 27% and 24%, respectively, of the carrying values of each investment. We evaluated these investments for other-than-temporary impairment as of March 31, 2025. For each investment, we considered our ability and intent to hold the investment until the fair value exceeds carrying value, the magnitude and duration of the decline in fair value, the operating results and financial condition of the company, as well as other factors. Based on the prevailing facts and circumstances, we concluded the recognition of an impairment charge in earnings was not required as of March 31, 2025.

As of March 31, 2025, the carrying values of our investments in Kraft Heinz and Berkadia approximated our share of shareowners' equity of each of these entities. The carrying value of our investment in Occidental common stock exceeded our share of its shareholders' equity as of December 31, 2024 by approximately $9.9 billion. Based upon the limited information available to us, we concluded the excess represents goodwill.

Our earnings and distributions received from equity method investments are summarized in the following table (in millions). Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 13. Unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses

Our claim liabilities under property and casualty insurance and reinsurance contracts are based upon estimates of the ultimate claim costs associated with claim events that have occurred as of the balance sheet date and include estimates for incurred-but-not-reported ("IBNR") claims. Losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred in the preceding table related to events occurring in the current year ("current accident year") and events occurring in all prior years ("prior accident years"). Losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred and paid are net of reinsurance recoveries. Current accident year incurred losses from significant catastrophe events (losses exceeding $150 million per event) in the first quarter of 2025 were $1.1 billion from the Southern California wildfires. There were no significant catastrophe events in the first quarter of 2024.

We recorded net reductions of estimated ultimate liabilities for prior accident years' claims of $163 million in the first quarter of 2025 and $634 million in the first quarter of 2024, which reduced losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred in those periods. These reductions, as percentages of the net liabilities at the beginning of each year, were 0.1% in 2025 and 0.6% in 2024.

Our primary insurance businesses recorded net increases in prior accident years' estimated ultimate claim liabilities of $167 million in the first quarter of 2025, primarily attributable to increased loss estimates for casualty exposures, partly offset by lower loss estimates for property coverages. Our primary insurance businesses reduced estimated losses for prior accident years in the first quarter of 2024 by $248 million, which derived primarily from lower estimates for medical professional liability and property coverages. Our reinsurance businesses recorded net reductions of estimated ultimate liabilities for prior accident years in the first quarter of $330 million in 2025 and $386 million in 2024. These reductions were primarily attributable to lower estimates for property coverages.

Note 14. Retroactive reinsurance contracts

Retroactive reinsurance policies provide indemnification of losses and loss adjustment expenses of short-duration insurance contracts with respect to underlying loss events that occurred prior to the contract inception date. Exposures include significant asbestos, environmental and other mass tort claims. Retroactive reinsurance contracts are generally subject to aggregate policy limits and thus, our exposure to such claims under these contracts is likewise limited. Reconciliations of the changes in estimated liabilities for retroactive reinsurance unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses follow (in millions).

	2025	2024
Balance at the beginning of the year	$ 32,443	$ 34,647
Losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred	2	51
Losses and loss adjustment expenses paid	(511)	(408)

Losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred above	$ 2	$ 51
Deferred charge adjustments	169	177
Losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred, including deferred charge adjustments	$ 171	$ 228

We classify incurred and paid losses and loss adjustment expenses based on the inception dates of the contracts, which reflect when our exposure to losses began. Substantially all of the losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred and paid related to contracts written in prior years. Losses and loss adjustment expenses incurred include changes in estimated ultimate liabilities and related adjustments to deferred charge assets arising from the changes in the estimated timing and amount of loss payments. Deferred charge assets on retroactive reinsurance contracts were $8.6 billion at March 31, 2025 and $8.8 billion at December 31, 2024.

Short-term subsidiary borrowings	6.3%	1,236	1,315
		$ 44,461	$ 44,885

Berkshire borrowings consist of senior unsecured debt. Berkshire repaid approximately $1.3 billion of maturing debt in the first quarter of 2025. In April 2025, Berkshire issued ¥90 billion ($632 million) of senior notes with maturity dates ranging from 2028 to 2055 and a weighted average interest rate of 1.637% and repaid ¥41.6 billion ($289 million) of senior notes that matured.

Borrowings of BHFC, a wholly-owned finance subsidiary of Berkshire, consist of senior unsecured notes used to fund manufactured housing loans originated or acquired and equipment held for lease of certain subsidiaries. BHFC borrowings are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by Berkshire. Berkshire also guarantees certain debt of other subsidiaries, aggregating approximately $2.7 billion at March 31, 2025. Generally, Berkshire's guarantee of a subsidiary's debt obligation is an absolute, unconditional and irrevocable guarantee for the full and prompt payment when due of all payment obligations.

The carrying values of Berkshire and BHFC non-U.S. Dollar denominated senior notes (€4.85 billion, £1.75 billion and ¥1,988 billion par at March 31, 2025) reflect the applicable exchange rates as of each balance sheet date. The effects of changes in foreign currency exchange rates during the period on these borrowings are recorded in earnings as a component of selling, general and administrative expenses. Changes in the exchange rates produced pre-tax losses of $936 million in the first quarter of 2025 and pre-tax gains of $781 million in the first quarter of 2024.

Notes payable and other borrowings of our railroad, utilities and energy businesses are summarized below (dollars in millions). The weighted average interest rates and maturity date ranges are based on borrowings as of March 31, 2025.

		$ 81,466	$ 79,877

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 16. Notes payable and other borrowings

BHE subsidiary debt represents amounts issued pursuant to separate financing agreements. Substantially all of the assets of certain BHE subsidiaries are, or may be, pledged or encumbered to support or otherwise secure such debt. These borrowing arrangements generally contain various covenants, including covenants which pertain to leverage ratios, interest coverage ratios and/or debt service coverage ratios. In the first quarter of 2025, BHE subsidiaries issued $2.4 billion of term debt, with a weighted average interest rate of 6.5% and maturity dates ranging from 2035 to 2055, and BHE and its subsidiaries repaid term debt and short-term borrowings of approximately $890 million in the aggregate.

BNSF's borrowings are primarily senior unsecured debentures. As of March 31, 2025, BHE, BNSF and their subsidiaries were in compliance with all applicable debt covenants. Berkshire does not guarantee any debt, borrowings or lines of credit of BHE, BNSF or their subsidiaries.

Unused and available lines of credit and commercial paper capacity to support operations and provide additional liquidity for our subsidiaries were approximately $11.7 billion at March 31, 2025, of which approximately $10.6 billion related to BHE and its subsidiaries.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 17. Fair value measurements

The fair values of substantially all of our financial instruments were measured using market or income approaches. The hierarchy for measuring fair value consists of Levels 1 through 3, which are described below.

Level 1 – Inputs represent unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities exchanged in active markets.

Level 2 – Inputs include directly or indirectly observable inputs (other than Level 1 inputs) such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities exchanged in active or inactive markets; quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities exchanged in inactive markets; other inputs that may be considered in fair value determinations of the assets or liabilities, such as interest rates and yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates; and inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. Pricing evaluations generally reflect discounted expected future cash flows, which incorporate yield curves for instruments with similar characteristics, such as credit ratings, estimated durations and yields for other instruments of the issuer or entities in the same industry sector.

Level 3 – Inputs include unobservable inputs used in the measurement of assets and liabilities. Management is required to use its own assumptions regarding unobservable inputs because there is little, if any, market activity in the assets or liabilities and it may be unable to corroborate the related observable inputs. Unobservable inputs require management to make certain projections and assumptions about the information that would be used by market participants in valuing assets or liabilities.

Reconciliations of significant assets and liabilities measured and carried at fair value on a recurring basis with the use of significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) follow (in millions).

	Balance at January 1	Gains (losses) in earnings	Balance at March 31
Investments in equity securities:

Quantitative information as of March 31, 2025 for the significant assets and liabilities measured and carried at fair value on a recurring basis with the use of significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) follows (dollars in millions).

	Fair Value	Principal Valuation Techniques	Unobservable Inputs	Weighted Average
Investments in equity securities:
Preferred stock	$ 8,618	Discounted cash flow	Expected duration	5 years
			Discounts for liquidity and subordination	325 bps
Common stock warrants	1,162	Warrant pricing model	Expected duration	6 years
			Volatility	42%

Investments in equity securities in the preceding table include our investments in certain preferred stock and common stock warrants that do not have readily determinable market values as defined by GAAP. These investments are private placements and are not traded in securities markets. We applied discounted cash flow techniques in valuing the preferred stock and we made assumptions regarding the expected duration of the investment and the effects of illiquidity and subordination in liquidation. In valuing the common stock warrants, we used a warrant valuation model. While most of the inputs to the warrant model are observable, we made assumptions regarding the expected duration and volatility.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 18. Common stock

Each Class A common share is entitled to one vote per share. Class B common stock possesses dividend and distribution rights equal to one-fifteen-hundredth (1/1,500) of such rights of Class A common stock. Each Class B common share possesses voting rights equal to one-ten-thousandth (1/10,000) of the voting rights of a Class A share. Unless otherwise required under Delaware General Corporation Law, Class A and Class B common shares vote as a single class. Each share of Class A common stock is convertible, at the option of the holder, into 1,500 shares of Class B common stock. Class B common stock is not convertible into Class A common stock. On an equivalent Class A common stock basis, there were 1,438,223 shares outstanding as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

Since we have two classes of common stock, we provide earnings per share data on the Consolidated Statements of Earnings for average equivalent Class A shares outstanding and average equivalent Class B shares outstanding. Average equivalent Class A shares outstanding represents average Class A shares outstanding plus one-fifteen-hundredth (1/1,500) of the average Class B shares outstanding. Average equivalent Class B shares outstanding represents average Class B shares outstanding plus 1,500 times the average Class A shares outstanding.

Berkshire's common stock repurchase program permits Berkshire to repurchase its shares any time that Warren Buffett, Berkshire's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, believes that the repurchase price is below Berkshire's intrinsic value, conservatively determined. The program allows share repurchases in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions and does not specify a maximum number of shares to be repurchased. However, repurchases will not be made if they would reduce the value of Berkshire's consolidated cash, cash equivalents and U.S. Treasury Bill holdings below $30 billion. The repurchase program does not obligate Berkshire to repurchase any specific dollar amount or number of Class A or Class B shares and there is no expiration date to the program. There were no treasury shares acquired during the first quarter of 2025.

Note 19. Income taxes

Our consolidated effective income tax rate in the first quarter of 2025 was 9.2% compared to 18.3% in the first quarter of 2024. Our effective income tax rate normally reflects recurring benefits from dividends-received deductions applicable to investments in certain equity securities and production tax credits related to wind-powered electricity generation placed in service in the U.S. Our periodic effective income tax rate will also vary due to the changes in mix of pre-tax earnings, including realized and unrealized investment gains or losses with respect to our investments in equity securities, the amount of non-deductible goodwill impairment charges and other expenses and the underlying income tax rates applicable in the various taxing jurisdictions.

The Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development issued Pillar Two model rules introducing a global minimum tax of 15%. While the U.S. has not adopted the Pillar Two rules, various countries are enacting legislation to adopt the rules. We do not currently have material operations in jurisdictions with income tax rates lower than the Pillar Two minimum tax rate, and we do not currently expect these rules will materially increase our global tax costs. There remains uncertainty as to the final Pillar Two rules.

Note 22. Contingencies and commitments

We are parties in a variety of legal actions that routinely arise out of the normal course of business, including legal actions seeking to establish liability directly through insurance contracts or indirectly through reinsurance contracts issued by Berkshire subsidiaries. Plaintiffs occasionally seek punitive or exemplary damages. We do not believe that such normal and routine litigation will have a material effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

PacifiCorp, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Berkshire Hathaway Energy Company ("BHE"), operates as a regulated electric utility in Utah, Oregon, Wyoming and other Western states. HomeServices of America, Inc. ("HomeServices") is also a wholly-owned subsidiary of BHE. Certain legal matters related to these entities are described below.

PacifiCorp

In September 2020, a severe weather event with high winds, low humidity and warm temperatures contributed to several major wildfires, which resulted in real and personal property and natural resource damage, personal injuries, loss of life and widespread power outages in Oregon and Northern California. These wildfires spread across certain parts of PacifiCorp's service territory and surrounding areas across multiple counties in Oregon and California, including Siskiyou County, California; Jackson County, Oregon; Douglas County, Oregon; Marion County, Oregon; Lincoln County, Oregon; and Klamath County, Oregon, burning over 500,000 acres in aggregate and included the Santiam Canyon, Beachie Creek, South Obenchain, Echo Mountain Complex, 242, Archie Creek, Slater and other fires. The Slater fire occurred in both Oregon and California. Third-party reports for these wildfires (the "2020 Wildfires") indicate over 2,000 structures destroyed, including residences; several other structures damaged; multiple individuals injured; and several fatalities.

A significant number of complaints and demands alleging similar claims have been filed in Oregon and California, including a class action complaint in Oregon associated with the 2020 Wildfires for which certain jury verdicts were issued as described below. The plaintiffs seek damages for economic losses, noneconomic losses, including mental suffering, emotional distress, personal injury and loss of life, as well as punitive damages, other damages and attorneys' fees. Several insurance carriers have filed subrogation complaints in Oregon and California with allegations similar to those made in the aforementioned complaints.

Additionally, PacifiCorp received correspondence from the U.S. and Oregon Departments of Justice regarding the potential recovery of certain costs and damages alleged to have occurred on federal and state lands in connection with certain of the 2020 Wildfires. In December 2024, the United States of America filed a complaint against PacifiCorp in conjunction with the correspondence from the U.S. Department of Justice. The civil cover sheet accompanying the complaint demands damages estimated to exceed $900 million. PacifiCorp is actively cooperating with the U.S. and Oregon Departments of Justice on resolving these alleged claims.

Amounts sought in outstanding complaints and demands filed in Oregon and in certain demands in California approximate $51 billion, excluding any doubling or trebling of damages or punitive damages included in the complaints. Generally, the complaints filed in California do not specify damages sought and are excluded from this amount. Of the $51 billion, $48 billion represents the economic and noneconomic damages sought in the James mass complaints described below. Oregon law provides for doubling of economic and property damages in the event the defendant is found to have acted with gross negligence, recklessness, willfulness or malice. Oregon law provides for trebling of damages associated with timber, shrubs and produce in the event the defendant is determined to have willfully and intentionally trespassed.

The 2020 wildfires and 2022 wildfire discussed below are referred to as the "Wildfires." Based on available information to date, we believe it is probable that losses will be incurred associated with the Wildfires. Final determinations of liability will only be made following the completion of comprehensive investigations, litigation and similar processes. Investigations into the cause and origin of each of the 2020 Wildfires are complex and ongoing and have been or are being conducted by various entities, including the U.S.

Department of Agriculture Forest Service ("USFS"), the California Public Utilities Commission, the Oregon Department of Forestry ("ODF"), the Oregon Department of Justice, PacifiCorp and various experts engaged by PacifiCorp.

Note 22. Contingencies and commitments

In May 2022, the USFS issued its report of investigation into the Archie Creek fire concluding that the probable cause of the fire was power lines owned and operated by PacifiCorp. The report also states that evidence indicates failure of power line infrastructure. The USFS report of investigation into the Slater fire for the investigation period October 5, 2020 to December 8, 2020, concluded that the fire was caused by a downed power line owned and operated by PacifiCorp. The report states that evidence indicates a tree fell onto the power line and that wind blew over the 137-foot tree with internal rot that showed no outward signs of distress and would not have been classified or identified as a hazard tree. Settlements have been reached with substantially all individual plaintiffs, timber companies and insurance subrogation plaintiffs in both the Archie Creek and Slater fires with government timber and suppression cost claims remaining.

In April 2023, the USFS issued its report of investigation into a wildland fire that began in the Opal Creek wilderness outside of the Santiam Canyon that was first reported on August 16, 2020 ("Beachie Creek Fire"), approximately three weeks prior to the September 2020 wind event described above. In March 2025, PacifiCorp received the ODF's final investigation report on the Santiam Canyon fires ("ODF's Report"), which concluded that embers from the pre-existing Beachie Creek Fire caused 12 fires within the Santiam Canyon. The ODF's Report also found that PacifiCorp's power lines did not contribute to the overall spread of fire into the Santiam Canyon even though its power lines ignited seven spot fires within the Santiam Canyon that were each suppressed.

The Beachie Creek fire that spread into the Santiam Canyon burned approximately 193,000 acres; the South Obenchain fire burned approximately 33,000 acres; the Echo Mountain Complex fire burned approximately 3,000 acres; and the 242 fire burned approximately 14,000 acres. The James cases described below are associated with the Beachie Creek (Santiam Canyon), South Obenchain, Echo Mountain Complex and 242 fires, which are four distinct fires located hundreds of miles apart.

On September 30, 2020, a class action complaint against PacifiCorp was filed captioned Jeanyne James et al. v. PacifiCorp et al. ("James"), in Oregon Circuit Court in Multnomah County, Oregon (the "Multnomah Court") in connection with the 2020 Wildfires. In November 2021, the plaintiffs filed an amended complaint to limit the class to include Oregon citizens allegedly impacted by the Santiam Canyon, Echo Mountain Complex, South Obenchain and 242 wildfires, as well as to add claims for noneconomic damages. The amended complaint alleged that PacifiCorp's assets contributed to the Oregon wildfires occurring on or after September 7, 2020, and that PacifiCorp acted with gross negligence, among other things, seeking damages not less than $600 million of economic damages and in excess of $1 billion of noneconomic damages for the plaintiffs and the class. Numerous cases were consolidated into the original James complaint.

Between April 2024 and January 2025, six separate mass complaints against PacifiCorp naming 1,591 individual class members were filed in the Multnomah Court referencing the James case as the lead case. Complaints for five of the plaintiffs in the mass complaints were subsequently dismissed. These James case mass complaints make damages-only allegations seeking economic, noneconomic and punitive damages, as well as doubling of economic damages. In December 2024, two additional complaints were filed in Multnomah Court on behalf of eight plaintiffs also referencing the James case as the lead case. PacifiCorp believes the magnitude of damages sought by the class members in the James case mass complaints and additional two complaints to be of remote likelihood of being awarded based on the amounts awarded in the jury verdicts described below that are being appealed.

In January, April and June 2024, the Multnomah Court entered limited judgments and money awards for the James jury verdicts issued in June 2023 for the first trial in which the jury found PacifiCorp's conduct grossly negligent, reckless and willful as to each of the 17 named plaintiffs and the entire class, and the first two damages phase trials for which the verdicts were issued in January and March 2024. The limited judgments award aggregate damages of $210 million, including $32 million of doubled economic damages, $147 million of noneconomic damages and $41 million of punitive damages based on a 0.25 multiplier applied to economic and noneconomic damages, partially offset by insurance proceeds received by plaintiffs. For each limited judgment entered in the court, PacifiCorp posted a supersedeas bond, which stays any effort to seek payment of the judgments pending final resolution of any appeals. Under Oregon Revised Statutes 82.010, interest at a rate of 9% per annum will accrue on the judgments commencing at the date the judgments were entered until the entire money award is paid, amended or reversed by an appellate court. In January 2024, PacifiCorp filed a notice of appeal associated with the June 2023 verdict in the James case, including whether the case can proceed as a class action and filed a motion to stay further damages phase trials. PacifiCorp amended its appeal of the June 2023 James verdict to include both the January and March 2024 jury verdicts. The appeals process and further actions could take several years.

In February and March 2025, the juries for the third and fourth James damages phase trials awarded fifteen plaintiffs $66 million of noneconomic damages in addition to over $6 million of economic damages. PacifiCorp expects the court will award the doubling of economic damages to $13 million and increase the awards for $18 million in punitive damages consistent with the June 2023 James verdict. As a result, PacifiCorp expects the total awards for the fifteen plaintiffs to be approximately $97 million. PacifiCorp filed post-trial motions with the Multnomah Court requesting the court offset the damage awards by deducting insurance proceeds received by any of the plaintiffs. PacifiCorp intends to appeal the jury's damage awards associated with the February and March 2025 jury verdicts once judgments are entered.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 22. Contingencies and commitments

In October 2024, the Multnomah Court issued a case management order, which sets forth nine additional damages phase trials with up to ten plaintiffs per trial. The trials are scheduled to occur throughout 2025, with the verdicts for the first trials received in February and March 2025, as described above. A hearing is scheduled for May 9, 2025, to evaluate scheduling additional damages phase trials in 2026. On March 20, 2025, PacifiCorp filed a motion to stay the remaining James damages phase trials in consideration of the ODF's Report. The motion was heard by the court and was denied on April 18, 2025.

On April 1, 2025, PacifiCorp filed its opening brief with the Oregon Court of Appeals in connection with its appeal of the June 2023 James verdict and the January and March 2024 verdicts for the first two James damages phase trials. In the opening brief, PacifiCorp addressed numerous procedural and legal issues, including that the class certification is improper due to the plaintiffs being impacted by distinct fires with independent ignition points that were hundreds of miles apart; awarding of noneconomic damages is not allowed under Oregon law; plaintiffs failed to prove that PacifiCorp caused harm to every class member; and jury instructions applied incorrect legal standards in assessing class-wide evidence and individual claims. Additionally, PacifiCorp incorporated the ODF's Report into its opening appellate brief. Various parties who are not party to the James case have filed supportive amicus briefs with the court. Plaintiffs' reply brief and cross-appeal is due May 20, 2025.

According to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, a wildfire began on July 29, 2022, in the Oak Knoll Ranger District of the Klamath National Forest in Siskiyou County, California located in PacifiCorp's service territory (the "2022 Wildfire") burning over 60,000 acres. Third-party reports indicate that the 2022 Wildfire resulted in 11 structures damaged, 185 structures destroyed, 12 injuries and four fatalities. The USFS issued a Wildland Fire Origin and Cause Supplemental Incident Report. The report concluded that a tree coming in contact with a power line is the probable cause of the 2022 Wildfire.

A provision for a loss contingency is recorded when it is probable a liability has been incurred and the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. PacifiCorp evaluates the related range of reasonably estimated losses and records a loss based on its best estimate within that range or the lower end of the range if there is no better estimate.

Estimated probable losses associated with the Wildfires were based on the information available to the date of this filing, including (i) ongoing cause and origin investigations; (ii) ongoing settlement and mediation discussions; (iii) other litigation matters and upcoming legal proceedings; and (iv) the status of the James case. Estimated losses on the Wildfires include estimates for fire suppression costs, real and personal property damages, natural resource damages and noneconomic damages such as personal injury damages and loss of life damages that are considered probable of being incurred and that it is able to reasonably estimate at this time, and which is subject to change as additional relevant information becomes available.

Through March 31, 2025, PacifiCorp recorded cumulative estimated probable Wildfire losses, before taxes and expected related insurance recoveries, of approximately $2.75 billion, of which approximately $1.3 billion has been paid in connection with settlements. There were no Wildfire loss accruals recorded in the first quarters of 2025 or 2024. Estimated unpaid liabilities were approximately $1.4 billion at March 31, 2025. Insurance recoveries recorded to date in connection with the Wildfires were $530 million, which were recorded prior to 2024. All insurance recoveries have been received and no further insurance recoveries are expected to become available.

It is reasonably possible PacifiCorp will incur significant additional losses beyond the amounts currently accrued; however, it is currently unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible additional losses that could be incurred due to the number of properties and parties involved, including claimants in the class to the James case and the 2022 Wildfire, the variation in the types of properties and damages and the ultimate outcome of legal actions, including mediation, settlement negotiations, jury verdicts and the appeals process.

HomeServices of America, Inc.

HomeServices is currently defending against several antitrust cases, all in federal district courts. In each case, plaintiffs claim HomeServices and certain of its subsidiaries (and in one case BHE) conspired with co-defendants to artificially inflate real estate commissions by following and enforcing multiple listing service ("MLS") rules that require listing agents to offer a commission split to cooperating agents in order for the property to appear on the MLS ("Cooperative Compensation Rule"). None of the complaints specify damages sought. However, two cases also allege Texas state law deceptive trade practices claims, for which plaintiffs have asserted damages totaling approximately $9 billion by separate written notice as required by Texas law.

Note 22. Contingencies and commitments

In one of these cases, Burnett (formerly Sitzer) et al. v. HomeServices of America, Inc. et al. (the "Burnett case"), a jury trial in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Missouri returned a verdict for the plaintiffs on October 31, 2023, finding that the named defendants participated in a conspiracy to follow and enforce the Cooperative Compensation Rule, which conspiracy had the purpose or effect of raising, inflating, or stabilizing broker commission rates paid by home sellers. The jury further found that the class plaintiffs had proved damages of $1.8 billion. Joint and several liability applies for the co-defendants. Federal law authorizes trebling of damages and the award of pre-judgment interest and attorney fees. To date, all co-defendants have reached settlements with the plaintiffs. The U.S District Court approved these settlements in May and November 2024. All settlements have been appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit.

In April 2024, HomeServices agreed to terms with the plaintiffs to settle all claims asserted against HomeServices and certain of its subsidiaries in the Burnett case to effectuate a nationwide class settlement. The final settlement agreement includes scheduled payments over the next four years and aggregating $250 million. HomeServices has made payments of $67 million through March of 2025. If the settlement is not affirmed by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, HomeServices intends to vigorously appeal on multiple grounds the jury's findings and damage award in the Burnett case, including whether the case can proceed as a class action. The appeals process and further actions could take several years.

Other legal matters

In September 2024, National Indemnity Company ("NICO") entered into a settlement agreement reached concerning certain non-insurance affiliates that filed voluntary petitions under Chapter 11 of the bankruptcy code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of New Jersey (the "Court") in 2023. Under the terms of the settlement agreement, NICO agreed to pay $535 million to the bankruptcy estate in consideration of a release of all estate causes of action against NICO and its affiliates. In connection with the settlement agreement, NICO recorded a pre-tax charge of $490 million, which is net of $45 million from a third party that was covered under the release. Certain creditors are opposing approval of the settlement agreement and could potentially pursue appeals of any approval granted by the Court.

Berkshire and certain of its subsidiaries are also involved in other kinds of legal actions, some of which assert or may assert claims or seek to impose fines and penalties. We currently believe that liabilities that may arise as a result of such other pending legal actions will not have a material effect on our consolidated financial condition or results of operations.

Commitments

In January 2024, we acquired the remaining noncontrolling interests in Pilot for $2.6 billion. On September 30, 2024, BHE repurchased 5.85% of its outstanding common stock held by certain noncontrolling BHE shareholders for $2.9 billion. Additionally, in September and October 2024, Berkshire acquired the remaining 2.12% of BHE's outstanding common stock held by noncontrolling shareholders in exchange for 2,291,631 shares of Berkshire Class B common stock valued at $1.045 billion. The acquisitions of these noncontrolling interests represented equity transactions. We recorded the differences between the consideration paid and the carrying values of the noncontrolling interests, net of deferred income tax liabilities, if applicable, to capital in excess of par value. Pilot and BHE are now wholly-owned subsidiaries.

Note 24. Business segment data

Berkshire's numerous and diverse businesses are managed on an unusually decentralized basis. These businesses are aggregated into operating segments in a manner that reflects how Berkshire views the business activities. The tabular information that follows shows data of Berkshire's reportable business segments reconciled to amounts reflected in our Consolidated Financial Statements. Intersegment transactions are not eliminated from segment results when those transactions are considered in assessing the results of the respective segments. Furthermore, investment gains and losses, goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible asset impairments and amortization of certain acquisition accounting adjustments or certain other corporate income and expense items are not considered in assessing the financial performance of operating businesses. Collectively, these items are included in corporate, eliminations and other to reconcile segment totals to consolidated amounts. The information in the following tables includes additional disclosures pursuant to ASU 2023-07, which we adopted as of December 31, 2024.

We view our insurance segment as possessing two distinct activities – underwriting and investing. Through our subsidiaries, we engage in numerous diverse business activities. The business segment data (Note 24 to the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements and Note 26 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024) should be read in conjunction with this discussion.

Our periodic operating results may be affected in future periods by impacts of ongoing macroeconomic and geopolitical events, as well as changes in industry or company-specific factors or events. The pace of changes in these events, including international trade policies and tariffs, has accelerated in 2025. Considerable uncertainty remains as to the ultimate outcome of these events. We are currently unable to reliably predict the potential impact on our businesses, whether through changes in product costs, supply chain costs and efficiency, and customer demand for our products and services. It is reasonably possible there could be adverse consequences on most, if not all, of our operating businesses, as well as on our investments in equity securities, which could significantly affect our future results.

Insurance underwriting after-tax earnings decreased $1.3 billion in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Underwriting results in the first quarter of 2025 included after-tax losses from the Southern California wildfires of approximately $860 million. After-tax earnings from insurance investment income increased $295 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, attributable to higher interest income from investments in U.S. Treasury Bills, partially offset by lower dividend income.

After-tax earnings of BNSF increased 6.2% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024 from higher volumes and overall improved operating efficiencies, despite the negative impacts of severe weather in February 2025. After-tax earnings of BHE increased $380 million (53.0%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The earnings increase reflected higher earnings from the utilities and energy businesses, lower earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests and reduced losses from the real estate brokerage businesses, primarily due to the impact of litigation settlement charges in the first quarter of 2024.

After-tax earnings from our manufacturing, service and retailing businesses decreased slightly in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Earnings in 2025 reflected an overall increase from our service and retailing businesses and an overall decrease from our manufacturing businesses. The majority of our businesses experienced lower revenues and earnings in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024.

Investment gains (losses) predominantly derive from our investments in equity securities and include significant unrealized gains and losses from changes in market prices and foreign currency exchange rates applicable to certain of our investments. We believe that investment gains and losses, whether realized from dispositions or unrealized from changes in market prices, are generally meaningless in understanding our reported periodic results or evaluating the economic performance of our operating businesses. These gains and losses have caused and will continue to cause significant volatility in our periodic earnings.

Other earnings include corporate investment income, earnings from equity method investments and foreign currency exchange rate gains and losses related to the non-U.S. denominated debt of Berkshire and BHFC. After-tax foreign currency exchange rate losses were $713 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to gains of $597 million in the first quarter of 2024.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Results of Operations

Insurance—Underwriting

Our periodic underwriting earnings may be subject to considerable volatility from the timing and magnitude of significant property catastrophe loss events. Further, we generally do not retrocede the risks we assume. We currently consider consolidated pre-tax losses exceeding $150 million from an event occurring in the current year to be significant. We incurred significant losses from the Southern California wildfires in the first quarter of 2025, while we experienced no significant catastrophe events in the first quarter of 2024. Changes in estimates for unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses, including amounts established for occurrences in prior years, and foreign currency transaction gains and losses arising from the remeasurement of non-U.S. Dollar denominated assets and liabilities can also significantly affect our periodic underwriting results.

We write primary insurance and reinsurance policies covering property and casualty risks, as well as life and health risks. Our insurance and reinsurance businesses are GEICO, Berkshire Hathaway Primary Group ("BH Primary") and Berkshire Hathaway Reinsurance Group ("BHRG"). We strive to generate pre-tax underwriting earnings (defined as premiums earned less insurance losses/benefits incurred and underwriting expenses) over the long term in all business categories, except in our retroactive reinsurance and periodic payment annuity businesses. Time-value-of-money concepts are important considerations in establishing premiums for these policies, which are recognized as charges to earnings over the claim settlement periods.

Underwriting results of our insurance businesses are summarized below (dollars in millions).

	First Quarter
	2025	2024
Pre-tax underwriting earnings (loss):
GEICO	$ 2,173	$ 1,928
Berkshire Hathaway Primary Group	(144)	486

GEICO

GEICO writes property and casualty policies, primarily private passenger automobile insurance, in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. GEICO offers policies mainly by direct response methods where most customers apply for coverage directly to the company via the Internet or over the telephone. GEICO also operates an insurance agency that offers primarily homeowners and renters insurance to its auto policyholders. A summary of GEICO's underwriting results follows (dollars in millions).

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Insurance—Underwriting

GEICO

Premiums written increased $710 million (6.6%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, reflecting an increase in policies-in-force and higher average premiums per policy. Premiums earned increased $518 million (5.1%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024.

Losses and loss adjustment expenses increased $10 million (0.1%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. GEICO's loss ratio (losses and loss adjustment expenses to premiums earned) was 69.0% in the first quarter of 2025, a decrease of 3.5 percentage points compared to 2024. The loss ratio decline reflected the impact of higher average premiums per auto policy and lower claims frequencies, partially offset by increases in average claims severities and less favorable development of prior accident years' claims estimates.

Private passenger automobile claims frequencies declined in the first quarter of 2025 versus 2024 for property damage and collision coverages (six to nine percent range), with bodily injury coverage down slightly. Average auto claims severities increased in the first quarter of 2025 for property damage and collision coverages (one to three percent range) and bodily injury coverage (six to eight percent range) compared to 2024. Losses and loss adjustment expenses included reductions in the ultimate loss estimates for prior accident years' claims of $45 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to $155 million in 2024.

Underwriting expenses increased $263 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. GEICO's expense ratio (underwriting expense to premiums earned) was 10.8% in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of 2.1 percentage points compared to 2024, attributable to increased policy acquisition related expenses, partially offset by increased operating leverage. The earnings from GEICO's insurance agency (third-party commissions, net of operating expenses) are included as a reduction of underwriting expenses.

Berkshire Hathaway Primary Group

BH Primary consists of several independently managed businesses that provide a variety of primarily commercial insurance solutions, including healthcare professional liability, workers' compensation, automobile, general liability, property and specialty coverages for small, medium and large clients. BH Primary's insurers include Berkshire Hathaway Specialty Insurance ("BHSI"), RSUI Group Inc. and CapSpecialty, Inc. ("RSUI and CapSpecialty"), Berkshire Hathaway Homestate companies ("BHHC"), MedPro Group, GUARD Insurance group of companies ("GUARD"), National Indemnity Company ("NICO Primary"), Berkshire Hathaway Direct ("BH Direct") and U.S. Liability Insurance companies ("USLI").

A summary of BH Primary's underwriting results follows (dollars in millions).

	First Quarter
	2025		2024
	Amount	%	Amount	%
Premiums written	$ 4,423		$ 4,493
Premiums earned	$ 4,577	100.0	$ 4,541	100.0
Losses and loss adjustment expenses	3,452	75.4	2,812	61.9
Underwriting expenses	1,269	27.7	1,243	27.4
Total losses and expenses	4,721	103.1	4,055	89.3
Pre-tax underwriting earnings (loss)	$ (144)		$ 486

Premiums written declined 1.6% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The decline was primarily due to a 34% reduction at GUARD and, to a lesser degree at RSUI, partially offset by higher volumes at NICO Primary, BHHC and BH Direct. GUARD's premium decline reflected volume reductions across multiple product categories through exiting certain unprofitable lines and tightened overall underwriting standards. The decline at RSUI was primarily due to lower volumes, partly offset by increased retentions. The increases at NICO Primary and BHHC were primarily attributable to commercial auto business, while the increase at BH Direct reflected growth across several lines of business and product categories.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Insurance—Underwriting

Berkshire Hathaway Primary Group

Losses and loss adjustment expenses increased $640 million (22.8%) and the loss ratio increased 13.5 percentage points in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Losses incurred from the Southern California wildfires were approximately $300 million in the first quarter of 2025. Losses incurred in 2025 also included increases in estimated ultimate losses for prior accident years' claims of $212 million, attributable to higher ultimate loss estimates in liability coverages, partly offset by lower ultimate loss estimates in property and medical liability coverages. Incurred loss estimates for prior accident years' claims were reduced $93 million in the first quarter of 2024. Medical professional liability and other liability claim costs continue to be negatively impacted by unfavorable social inflation trends, including the impacts of jury awards and litigation costs.

Berkshire Hathaway Reinsurance Group

The Berkshire Hathaway Reinsurance Group offers excess-of-loss and quota-share reinsurance coverages on property and casualty risks to insurers and reinsurers worldwide through several subsidiaries, led by National Indemnity Company, General Reinsurance Corporation, General Reinsurance AG and Transatlantic Reinsurance Company. We also write life and health reinsurance coverages through General Re Life Corporation, General Reinsurance AG and Berkshire Hathaway Life Insurance Company of Nebraska. Total losses and expenses	5,167	98.7	4,427	81.5
Pre-tax underwriting earnings	$ 68		$ 1,008

Premiums written in the first quarter of 2025 declined $320 million (5.0%) versus 2024, primarily attributable to lower volumes in property coverages. Premiums earned in the first quarter of 2025 decreased 3.7% compared to 2024.

Losses and loss adjustment expenses increased $606 million (20.2%) and the loss ratio increased 13.6 percentage points in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Losses incurred from the Southern California wildfires were approximately $770 million in the first quarter of 2025. Estimated ultimate liabilities for losses occurring in prior accident years were reduced $330 million in the first quarter of 2025 and $386 million in 2024, mostly attributable to lower-than-expected property losses.

Underwriting expenses increased $134 million (9.3%) and the expense ratio increased 3.6 percentage points in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Underwriting expenses included foreign currency exchange losses from the remeasurement of certain non-U.S. Dollar denominated liabilities of $142 million in the first quarter of 2025 and gains of $26 million in 2024. Otherwise, underwriting expenses in 2025 declined 2.3% from 2024.

Life/health

A summary of our life/health reinsurance underwriting results follows (dollars in millions).

	First Quarter
	2025		2024

Premiums written	$ 1,243		$ 1,231

Total benefits and expenses	1,170	94.4	1,121	91.2
Pre-tax underwriting earnings	$ 70		$ 108

Premiums written and earned in the first quarter of 2025 were substantially unchanged from 2024. Pre-tax underwriting earnings in the first quarter of 2025 declined $38 million, reflecting the impact of life contract commutation gains of $51 million in the first quarter of 2024 and increased losses from U.S. long-term care business, partially offset by increased earnings from other life business.

Retroactive reinsurance

We have written no significant new retroactive reinsurance contracts over the past several years. Pre-tax underwriting results derive from changes in the ultimate claim liability estimates and changes in the related deferred charge assets, as well as from foreign currency exchange gains and losses attributable to non-U.S. Dollar denominated contracts. Changes in foreign currency exchange rates produced losses of $40 million in the first quarter of 2025 and gains of $45 million in 2024. Pre-tax underwriting losses before foreign currency exchange gains were $169 million in the first quarter of 2025 and $192 million in 2024.

Unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses for retroactive reinsurance contracts declined $469 million in the first quarter of 2025 to $32.0 billion at March 31, 2025, primarily due to loss payments. Deferred charge assets on retroactive reinsurance contracts declined $169 million in the first quarter of 2025 to $8.6 billion at March 31, 2025. Deferred charge balances will be charged to earnings over the expected remaining claims settlement periods.

Periodic payment annuity

Periodic payment annuity business is price and demand sensitive, and the supply of available business is affected by the timing of underlying legal claim settlements. Premium rates for new business continue to be at unacceptable levels. We have written no new business since 2022.

Pre-tax underwriting losses from periodic payment annuity contracts in each period included the accretion of discounted liabilities and includes liabilities for contracts without life contingencies, as well as foreign currency exchange gains and losses on non-U.S. Dollar denominated contracts. Changes in foreign currency exchange rates produced losses of $49 million in the first quarter of 2025 and were insignificant in the first quarter of 2024. Pre-tax underwriting losses before foreign currency effects were $150 million in the first quarter of 2025 and $149 million in 2024. Periodic payment annuity liabilities were $14.4 billion at March 31, 2025, including liabilities of $4.0 billion for contracts without life contingencies and the effects of discount rate changes recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income.

Variable annuity

Our variable annuity guarantee reinsurance contracts produced pre-tax losses of $37 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to earnings of $94 million in 2024. Earnings are affected by changes in securities markets, interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates. These contracts have been in run-off for many years.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Insurance—Investment Income

A summary of net investment income attributable to our insurance operations follows (dollars in millions).

	First Quarter		Percentage Change
	2025	2024
Interest and other investment income	$ 2,519	$ 1,931	30.5%
Dividend income	1,042	1,221	(14.7)
Pre-tax net investment income	3,561	3,152	13.0
Income taxes	668	554
Net investment income	$ 2,893	$ 2,598
Effective income tax rate	18.8%	17.6%

Interest and other investment income in the first quarter of 2025 increased $588 million (30.5%) compared to 2024. The increase was primarily attributable to increases in U.S. Treasury Bills and other short-term investment balances, partially offset by lower interest rates. We continue to believe that maintaining ample liquidity is paramount and we insist on safety over yield with respect to short-term investments.

Dividend income in the first quarter of 2025 declined $179 million (14.7%) compared to 2024. The decline was primarily due to net dispositions of equity securities, partially offset by higher dividend rates on certain of our holdings. Dividend income also varies from period to period due to changes in the investment portfolio and the frequency and timing of dividends from certain investees.

Invested assets of our insurance businesses derive from shareholder capital and net liabilities assumed under insurance contracts or "float." The major components of float are unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses, including liabilities under retroactive reinsurance contracts, life, annuity and health benefit liabilities, unearned premiums and certain other liabilities, which are reduced by insurance premiums receivable, reinsurance receivables, deferred charges assumed under retroactive reinsurance contracts and deferred policy acquisition costs. The effect of discount rate changes on long-duration insurance contracts, recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income, are excluded from float, as such amounts are not included in earnings in the Consolidated Statements of Earnings.

Float was approximately $173 billion at March 31, 2025 and $171 billion at December 31, 2024. The cost of float is measured as the ratio of pre-tax underwriting earnings to float balances. Our combined insurance operations generated pre-tax underwriting gains in the first quarter of 2025 and 2024, and the average cost of float was negative in each period.

BNSF

Burlington Northern Santa Fe, LLC ("BNSF") operates one of the largest railroad systems in North America, with over 32,500 route miles of track in 28 states. BNSF also operates in three Canadian provinces. BNSF classifies its major business groups by type of product shipped, including consumer products, agricultural and energy products, industrial products and coal. A summary of BNSF's earnings follows (dollars in millions).

	First Quarter
	2025	2024
Railroad operating revenues	$ 5,676	$ 5,644

Income taxes	389	376
Net earnings	$ 1,214	$ 1,143
Effective income tax rate	24.3%	24.8%

A summary of BNSF's railroad freight volumes by business group follows (cars/units in thousands).

	Cars/Units
	First Quarter		Percentage
	2025	2024	Change
Consumer products	1,382	1,272	8.6%
Agricultural and energy products	345	346	(0.3)
Industrial products	332	353	(5.9)
Coal	298	293	1.7
	2,357	2,264	4.1

Railroad operating revenues increased slightly in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024 primarily due to a 4.1% increase in unit volume and core pricing gains, partially offset by a decline in average revenue per car/unit resulting from lower fuel surcharge revenue and unfavorable business mix. Pre-tax earnings increased 5.5% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024.

Operating revenues from consumer products were $2.0 billion in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of 3.2% from 2024, reflecting an increase in volumes of 8.6%, partially offset by lower average revenue per car/unit. The volume increase was primarily due to higher intermodal shipments resulting from increased west coast imports and an increase in automotive volume from higher vehicle production.

Operating revenues from agricultural and energy products were $1.6 billion in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of 0.8% compared to 2024, attributable to higher average revenue per car/unit, partially offset by a slight volume decrease. The slight volume decrease was mainly due to lower volumes of domestic grains.

Operating revenues from industrial products were $1.2 billion in the first quarter of 2025, a 3.3% decrease from 2024. The decline was attributable to a 5.9% decrease in volumes, partially offset by higher average revenue per car/unit. The volume decline was primarily due to weather related impacts and lower demand for construction and building products.

Operating revenues from coal were $734 million in the first quarter of 2025, a decline of 4.1% compared to 2024, reflecting lower average revenue per car/unit, partially offset by higher volumes of 1.7%. The volume increase was attributable to increased demand from higher natural gas prices.

Railroad operating expenses declined $66 million (1.7%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Fuel expenses declined $84 million (9.8%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, reflecting lower average fuel prices, partially offset by higher volumes. Purchased services expenses increased $34 million (6.9%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, primarily due to higher volume related costs, cargo security investments and general inflation.

BHE

Berkshire Hathaway Energy Company ("BHE") is a holding company with subsidiaries that primarily operate within the energy industry. BHE's domestic regulated utility interests include PacifiCorp, MidAmerican Energy Company ("MEC") and NV Energy. BHE's natural gas pipelines consist of five domestic regulated interstate natural gas pipeline systems and a 75% interest in a liquefied natural gas export, import and storage facility ("Cove Point"). Other energy subsidiaries operate two regulated electricity distribution businesses in Great Britain ("Northern Powergrid"), a regulated electricity transmission-only business in Alberta, Canada, and a diversified portfolio of mostly renewable independent power projects and investments. Another BHE subsidiary, HomeServices of America, Inc. ("HomeServices"), operates a residential real estate brokerage business and a large network of real estate brokerage franchises in the United States.

The rates BHE's regulated businesses charge customers for energy and services are largely based on the costs of business operations, including income taxes and a return on capital, and are subject to regulatory approval. To the extent such costs are not allowed in the approved rates, operating results will be adversely affected. A summary of BHE's net earnings follows (dollars in millions).

BHE

The U.S. utilities operate independently in several states, including Utah, Oregon, Wyoming and other Western states (PacifiCorp), Iowa and Illinois (MEC) and Nevada (NV Energy). Net earnings increased $52 million (13.8%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, reflecting comparative increases in electric utility margin (operating revenue less cost of sales) and income tax benefits from recognized wind production tax credits ($40 million), partially offset by an increase in energy operating expenses and lower other income.

The U.S. utilities' electric utility margin was $1.9 billion in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of $225 million (13.2%) compared to 2024. The increase reflected higher retail customer rates in certain territories, higher retail customer volumes and higher wholesale prices and volumes, partially offset by higher energy costs. Retail customer volumes increased 4.2% overall (up 11.3% at MEC, 2.4% at PacifiCorp and 0.8% at NV Energy) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, primarily due to an overall favorable impact of weather and an increase in the average number of customers. The increase in energy operating expenses was primarily due to depreciation and amortization expense, insurance expenses and general and plant maintenance costs.

Net earnings of natural gas pipelines decreased $11 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The decrease in earnings reflected higher interest expense, largely due to debt issued in January 2025 and debt refinancings in the fourth quarter of 2024 at higher interest rates, decreased margin on gas sales and lower other income, partially offset by higher transportation and storage revenues.

Net earnings of other energy businesses increased $65 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The increase was primarily due to higher earnings at Northern Powergrid, from higher distribution revenue due to higher tariffs from inflation adjustments, partially offset by an income tax charge related to the March 2025 enactment of a change in the Energy Profits Levy income tax in the United Kingdom.

Net losses of real estate brokerage decreased by $144 million in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, primarily attributable to charges in 2024 with respect to the ongoing real estate industry litigation matters. In April 2024, HomeServices agreed to terms with the plaintiffs to settle all claims asserted against HomeServices and certain of its subsidiaries and effectuate a nationwide class settlement. See Note 22 to the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information. The real estate brokerage business continues to be negatively impacted by the availability of homes for sale and high home prices.

Corporate interest and other after-tax earnings include BHE corporate interest expense and unallocated corporate and income tax expenses. Noncontrolling interests and preferred stock dividends include earnings attributable to non-Berkshire owners of BHE common stock and dividends on preferred stock held by other Berkshire subsidiaries. All remaining noncontrolling interests in BHE common stock were acquired in the second half of 2024 and the preferred stock was redeemed in the first quarter of 2025.

These expenses are included in "Other" in the summary of earnings on page 29 and in the "Other" earnings table on page 43.*

Industrial products

The industrial products group includes metal products for aerospace, power and general industrial markets (Precision Castparts Corp. ("PCC")), specialty chemicals (The Lubrizol Corporation ("Lubrizol")), metal cutting tools/systems (IMC International Metalworking Companies ("IMC")), and Marmon, which consists of more than 100 autonomous manufacturing and service businesses, internally aggregated into twelve groups, and includes equipment leasing for the rail, intermodal tank container and mobile crane industries. The industrial products group also includes equipment and systems for the livestock and agricultural industries (CTB International), a leader in drag reducing agents for pipelines (LiquidPower Specialty Products) and a structural steel fabrication products business (W&W|AFCO).

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Manufacturing, Service and Retailing

Revenues of the industrial products group were $9.1 billion in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of $174 million (2.0%) compared to the first quarter of 2024. Pre-tax earnings in 2025 increased $24 million (1.5%) compared to 2024. Pre-tax earnings as a percentage of revenues for the group were 17.5% for the first quarter of 2025, unchanged from 2024.

PCC's revenues were $2.7 billion in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of 8.8% compared to the first quarter of 2024, primarily attributable to higher demand for aerospace products. PCC's pre-tax earnings increased 40.7% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to the first quarter of 2024. The improved results reflect sales increases and improved manufacturing and operating efficiencies, partly offset by charges and expenses associated with a fire at a fasteners facility in the first quarter of 2025.

Lubrizol's revenues were $1.6 billion in the first quarter of 2025, a decrease of 4.7% compared to 2024. The decline was attributable to lower volumes and selling prices, partially offset by favorable product mix. Lubrizol's pre-tax earnings declined 25.8% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The decrease was primarily attributable to restructuring charges in 2025 and lower volumes and selling prices, partially offset by lower raw material costs.

Marmon's revenues were $3.1 billion in the first quarter of 2025, an increase of 3.4% compared to 2024. Seven of the twelve business groups generated higher revenues led by the Rail & Leasing group (17.5%), attributable to higher average lease rates and higher repair rates and volumes. Additionally, revenues increased in the Water Technologies (7.6%) and Foodservice Technologies (9.5%) groups, primarily due to volume increases, while revenues increased in the Electrical (6.8%) and Plumbing & Refrigeration (5.9%) groups, primarily attributable to copper price increases. The largest revenue declines were experienced by the Metal Services (13.2%) and Retail Solutions (25.2%) groups, reflecting a combination of reduced volumes and lower steel prices.

Marmon's pre-tax earnings declined 2.4% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Seven of Marmon's business groups reported lower earnings, primarily driven by the Electrical group due to lower margins in the building wire business and soft demand in the utilities market. Additionally, earnings declined in the Metal Services and Retail Solutions groups due to lower revenues. These earnings decreases were partially offset by earnings increases in the Water Technologies, Plumbing & Refrigeration and Transportation Products groups. The impact of higher revenues in the Rail & Leasing group was largely offset by increased maintenance costs on tank cars requiring regulatory inspection and maintenance procedures and reduced gains from asset sales.

IMC's revenues were $1.0 billion in the first quarter of 2025, a decrease of 3.3% compared to the first quarter of 2024. The decline reflected lower organic sales attributable to sluggish customer demand across all major regions, unfavorable foreign currency translation from a stronger U.S. Dollar and lower investment income, partially offset by the impact of business acquisitions. The decline in organic sales was attributable to weaker general economic conditions and ongoing geopolitical conflicts. IMC's pre-tax earnings declined 18.7% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, primarily attributable to lower sales and gross margin rates and lower investment and other income. IMC operates globally and a large portion of its products are manufactured in Israel. IMC's operations in Israel have not been significantly impacted by the conflicts in the region.

Building products

The building products group includes manufactured and site-built home construction and related lending and financial services (Clayton Homes), flooring (Shaw), insulation, roofing and engineered products (Johns Manville), bricks and masonry products (Acme Building Brands), paint and coatings (Benjamin Moore) and residential and commercial construction and engineering products and systems (MiTek).

Revenues of the building products group increased $79 million (1.3%) and pre-tax earnings declined $117 million (11.7%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to the first quarter of 2024.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Manufacturing, Service and Retailing

Clayton Homes' revenues increased 7.4% to $2.9 billion in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. Revenues from home sales increased $92 million (4.5%), reflecting a 6.3% increase in new home unit sales and higher average selling prices attributable to changes in sales mix. Financial services revenues in the first quarter of 2025 increased 14.7% compared to 2024, primarily due to increased interest income from higher average loan balances. Loan balances, net of allowances for credit losses, were approximately $27.6 billion as of March 31, 2025, an increase of 12.2% since March 31, 2024. Loan portfolio balances are largely funded by borrowings from Berkshire finance affiliates.

Pre-tax earnings of Clayton Homes declined $23 million (5.0%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, attributable to lower earnings from financial services, partially offset by higher earnings from manufacturing and site-building activities. The decrease in earnings from financial services earnings was primarily attributable to increases in interest expense on borrowings from Berkshire finance affiliates and losses from homeowner property insurance claims. Interest expense increased $99 million (71.3%) in 2025 versus 2024, as borrowings from affiliates increased $6.6 billion to $24.6 billion at March 31, 2025 compared to March 31, 2024. The corresponding interest income on such borrowings is included in the "Other" earnings section on page 43. The increase in manufacturing and site-building earnings was primarily attributable to the increase in sales, partially offset by lower gross margin rates.

Our other building products businesses generated revenues of approximately $3.2 billion in the first quarter of 2025, a decrease of $123 million (3.6%) versus 2024. The decline was primarily attributable to MiTek and Shaw, due to falling demand and the impact of a divesture in 2025. Pre-tax earnings of our other building products businesses in the first quarter of 2025 declined $93 million (17.0%) compared to 2024. Earnings as a percentage of revenues in the first quarter of 2025 also declined 2.3 percentage points versus 2024. The earnings decline was primarily attributable to overall lower sales and average gross margin rates.

Consumer products

The consumer products group includes leisure vehicles (Forest River), several apparel and footwear operations (including Fruit of the Loom, Garan, H.H. Brown Shoe Group and Brooks Sports) and a manufacturer of high-performance alkaline batteries (Duracell). This group also includes a global toy company (Jazwares), jewelry products (Richline) and custom picture framing products (Larson-Juhl).

Consumer products group revenues were $3.5 billion in the first quarter of 2025, a decline of 0.4% compared to 2024. Revenue increases were generated by Forest River and Brooks Sports, reflecting overall higher volumes and sales mix changes, as well as from Richline, primarily due to the passthrough of higher metals costs. These increases were more than offset by revenue declines across the rest of the businesses, including Jazwares, Fruit of the Loom, Duracell and Garan, primarily due to lower customer demand.

Pre-tax earnings of our consumer products group declined $105 million (29.6%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The decrease was primarily attributable to lower earnings from Forest River, due to higher selling, general and administrative expenses, and from Garan, Jazwares and Duracell, primarily due to the impact of lower volumes and average gross margin rates. These declines were partially offset by higher earnings from Brooks Sports, attributable to increased revenues and gross margin rates, and Fruit of the Loom, attributable to lower manufacturing costs and the benefits of restructuring efforts.

Service

Our service group consists of several businesses. The largest of these businesses are NetJets and FlightSafety (aviation services), which offer shared ownership programs for general aviation aircraft and high technology training products and services to operators of aircraft, and TTI, a distributor of electronics components. Our other service businesses franchise and service a network of quick service restaurants (Dairy Queen), lease transportation equipment (XTRA) and furniture (CORT), provide third party logistics services that primarily serve the petroleum and chemical industries (Charter Brokerage), distribute electronic news, multimedia and regulatory filings (Business Wire), provide various facilities construction management services (IPS-Integrated Project Services, LLC (IPS)) and operate a television station in Miami, Florida (WPLG). McLane, which we view as a service business, is addressed separately, since it is deemed a separate segment for financial reporting purposes.

Service group revenues increased $342 million (6.6%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to the first quarter of 2024, primarily attributable to higher revenues from aviation services (10.4%) and IPS (16.0%). Revenues from TTI in the first quarter of 2025 increased slightly versus 2024. The revenue increase from aviation services was primarily due to increases in the number of aircraft in shared aircraft ownership programs and an increase in flight hours across NetJets' various programs, as well as higher average rates.

Service group pre-tax earnings increased $57 million (9.6%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, primarily attributable to increases from aviation services, the leasing businesses and Charter Brokerage, partially offset by lower earnings from TTI. Pre-tax earnings as a percentage of revenues rose 0.3 percentage points in 2025 compared to 2024. The earnings increase from aviation services was primarily attributable to increased revenues, partially offset by higher flight crew, maintenance, fuel costs and depreciation expense. TTI's earnings decline was primarily due to lower average gross margin rates, attributable to sales price pressures, as well as from unfavorable foreign currency effects.

McLane Company

McLane Company, Inc. ("McLane") operates a wholesale distribution business that provides grocery and non-food consumer products to retailers and convenience stores ("retail") and to restaurants ("restaurant"). McLane also operates businesses that are wholesale distributors of distilled spirits, wine and beer ("beverage"). The retail and restaurant businesses generate high sales and very low profit margins and operate in a highly competitive environment. These businesses have several significant customers and a reduction in purchasing by any of these customers could have an adverse impact on McLane's revenues and earnings.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Manufacturing, Service and Retailing

McLane's revenues declined $300 million (2.4%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, primarily due to lower volumes attributable to changing overall economic conditions and consumer preferences on dining at restaurants. Pre-tax earnings in the first quarter of 2025 increased $16 million (9.7%) compared to 2024, reflecting an increase in the overall gross sales margin rate, partially offset by the impacts of lower sales and higher selling, general and administrative expenses.

Retailing

Our largest retailing business is Berkshire Hathaway Automotive, Inc. ("BHA"), which represented 71% of our retailing group revenue in 2025. BHA consists of over 80 auto dealerships that sell new and pre-owned automobiles and offer repair services and related products. BHA also offers and insures vehicle service contracts and related insurance products. Our retailing businesses also include four home furnishings businesses (Nebraska Furniture Mart, R.C. Willey, Star Furniture and Jordan's), which sell furniture, appliances, flooring and electronics. The home furnishings group represented 17% of the retailing group revenues in 2025.

Other retailing businesses include three jewelry businesses (Borsheims, Helzberg and Ben Bridge), See's Candies (confectionery products), Pampered Chef (high quality kitchen tools), Oriental Trading Company (party supplies, school supplies and toys and novelties) and Detlev Louis Motorrad ("Louis"), a retailer of motorcycle accessories based in Germany. Pilot Travel Centers ("Pilot"), which is primarily a retail business, is addressed separately since it is deemed a separate segment for financial reporting purposes.

Retailing group aggregate revenues increased 2.0% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. BHA revenues increased 5.3% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024, while the home furnishings businesses experienced a comparative revenue decline of 1.4%. Revenues of the other retailing businesses in the first quarter of 2025 declined 9.8% versus 2024.

The comparative increase in BHA revenues in the first quarter of 2025 reflected higher new and pre-owned vehicle sales (6.0%), primarily due to increased units sold. BHA's finance and insurance revenues increased 6.7% in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The comparative declines in revenues of the home furnishings and the other retailing businesses were primarily attributable to a combination of increased competition, sluggish demand and impacts of higher economic uncertainty.

Retailing group pre-tax earnings declined $24 million (7.6%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. BHA's pre-tax earnings in the first quarter of 2025 were essentially unchanged from 2024, attributable to lower gross margins on auto sales offset by earnings increases from the parts/service/repair and finance/service contract operations. Aggregate pre-tax earnings in the first quarter of 2025 for the remainder of our retailing group declined $24 million (32.8%) compared to 2024, reflecting lower earnings from our other retailing businesses, partially offset by increased earnings from the home furnishings businesses.

Pilot Travel Centers

Pilot operates travel centers, primarily under the names Pilot or Flying J, and fuel-only retail locations. Pilot also operates large wholesale fuel and fuel marketing platforms in the U.S. We acquired the remaining 20% noncontrolling interest in Pilot on January 16, 2024.

Pilot's revenues in the first quarter of 2025 declined $2.1 billion (16.6%) compared to the same period in 2024. The decline was primarily attributable to lower average fuel prices per gallon, partially offset by higher fuel volumes.

Pilot's pre-tax earnings increased $98 million (140.0%) in the first quarter of 2025 compared to 2024. The increase reflected gains from asset dispositions and lower interest expense, partially offset by higher selling, general and administrative expenses. The increase in selling, general and administrative expenses reflected higher compensation and benefits and maintenance costs, as well as several other expense categories. The decline in interest expense was attributable to reduced borrowing levels and lower rates. Pilot's borrowings are currently from certain Berkshire insurance subsidiaries and approximated $4.2 billion at March 31, 2025, a decline of approximately $1.5 billion since March 31, 2024. The interest on Pilot's borrowings from affiliates is included in insurance investment income on page 34.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Investment Gains (Losses)

A summary of investment gains (losses) recorded in earnings follows (dollars in millions).

	First Quarter
	2025	2024
Investment gains (losses)	$ (6,435)	$ 1,876
Income taxes and noncontrolling interests	(1,397)	396
Net earnings	$ (5,038)	$ 1,480
Effective income tax rate	21.6%	21.0%

Unrealized gains and losses arising from changes in market prices of our investments in equity securities are included in our reported earnings, which significantly increases the volatility of our periodic net earnings due to the magnitude of our equity securities portfolio and the inherent volatility of equity securities prices. Unrealized gains and losses on our investments in equity securities also include the effects of changes in foreign currency exchange rates on investments in equity securities of non-U.S. issuers that are held by our U.S.-based subsidiaries.

Pre-tax investment gains and losses included net unrealized losses of $6.8 billion in the first quarter of 2025 and net unrealized gains of $4.0 billion in the first quarter of 2024, attributable to changes in market prices on equity securities we held at the end of each period. Taxable investment gains and losses on equity securities sold, which is generally the difference between sales proceeds and the original cost basis of the securities sold, were gains of $3.1 billion in the first quarter of 2025 compared to $14.2 billion in 2024.

We believe that investment gains and losses, whether realized from sales or unrealized from changes in market prices, are often meaningless in terms of understanding our reported consolidated earnings or evaluating our periodic economic performance. We also continue to believe the investment gains and losses recorded in earnings in any given period has little analytical or predictive value.

Other

A summary of after-tax other earnings (losses) follows (in millions).

	First Quarter
	2025	2024
Investment income	$ 869	$ 303
Foreign currency exchange rate gains (losses) on Berkshire and BHFC non-U.S. Dollar senior notes	(713)	597
Equity method earnings	116	405
Acquisition accounting expenses	(124)	(125)
Other earnings (losses)	(107)	(102)
	$ 41	$ 1,078

Investment income includes interest income, dividend income and investment expenses allocated to the Berkshire parent company. After-tax investment income in the first quarter of 2025 increased $566 million compared to 2024, primarily due to interest income from increased investments in U.S. Treasury Bills.

Foreign currency exchange rate gains and losses on Berkshire's and BHFC's non-U.S. Dollar denominated senior notes represent the effects of changes in foreign currency exchange rates recognized in earnings from the periodic revaluation of these liabilities into U.S. Dollars. The gains and losses recorded in any given period can be significant due to the magnitude of the borrowings and the inherent volatility in foreign currency exchange rates.

Equity method earnings include our proportionate share of earnings of Kraft Heinz, Occidental and Berkadia. After-tax equity method earnings in the first quarter of 2025 declined $289 million compared to 2024. The decline was primarily due to lower earnings from Occidental, which we report on a one-quarter lag.

Acquisition accounting expenses include charges arising from the application of the acquisition method in connection with certain of Berkshire's past business acquisitions. These charges are primarily from the amortization of intangible assets recorded in connection with those acquisitions. Other earnings and losses primarily include unallocated general and administrative expenses, interest expense, income tax expense and interest income on certain intercompany loans.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

Our Consolidated Balance Sheet continues to reflect significant liquidity and a very strong capital base. Berkshire's shareholders' equity at March 31, 2025 was $654.5 billion, an increase of $5.1 billion since December 31, 2024. Net earnings attributable to Berkshire shareholders were $4.6 billion for the first quarter of 2025 and included after-tax investment losses of approximately $5.0 billion. Investment gains and losses from changes in the market prices of our investments in equity securities usually produce significant volatility in our earnings.

Berkshire's common stock repurchase program permits Berkshire to repurchase its Class A and Class B shares at prices below Berkshire's intrinsic value, as conservatively determined by Warren Buffett, Berkshire's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer. We are not committed to a minimum or subject to a maximum repurchase amount. We will not repurchase our stock if it reduces our consolidated cash, cash equivalents and U.S. Treasury Bills holdings to below $30 billion. Financial strength and redundant liquidity will always be of paramount importance at Berkshire. There were no share repurchases in the first quarter of 2025.

At March 31, 2025, our insurance and other businesses held cash, cash equivalents and U.S. Treasury Bills (net of payables for unsettled purchases) of $328.0 billion. Investments in equity and fixed maturity securities, excluding our equity method investments, were $278.8 billion.

Our consolidated borrowings at March 31, 2025 were $125.9 billion, of which over 95% were issued by Berkshire and BHFC, or by BNSF and BHE and its subsidiaries. Berkshire's outstanding debt at March 31, 2025 was $20.6 billion, a decline of approximately $500 million since December 31, 2024. In the first quarter of 2025, Berkshire repaid approximately $1.3 billion of maturing debt. Additionally, the carrying value of Berkshire's non-U.S. Dollar denominated debt increased $809 million in the first quarter of 2025 due to changes in foreign currency exchange rates.

Senior note borrowings of BHFC, a wholly-owned financing subsidiary, were approximately $18.0 billion at March 31, 2025, relatively unchanged from December 31, 2024. BHFC's borrowings are used to fund a portion of loans originated and acquired by Clayton Homes and equipment held for lease by our railcar leasing business. Berkshire guarantees BHFC's senior notes for the full and timely payment of principal and interest.

BNSF's outstanding debt was $23.5 billion as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024. BHE's aggregate borrowings were approximately $58.0 billion at March 31, 2025, an increase of $1.6 billion from December 31, 2024. In the first quarter of 2025, BHE subsidiaries issued $2.4 billion of term debt, with a weighted average interest rate of 6.5% and maturity dates ranging from 2035 to 2055, and BHE and its subsidiaries repaid term debt and short-term borrowings aggregating approximately $890 million. Berkshire does not guarantee the repayment of debt issued by BNSF, BHE or any of their subsidiaries or affiliates.

In the first quarter of 2025, our diverse group of businesses generated net operating cash flows of $10.9 billion. Our consolidated capital expenditures for property, plant and equipment and equipment held for lease were $4.3 billion in the first quarter of 2025, which included capital expenditures by BNSF and BHE of $2.8 billion. BNSF and BHE maintain very large investments in capital assets (property, plant and equipment) and regularly make significant capital expenditures in the normal course of business. Forecasted capital expenditures for BHE and BNSF over the remainder of 2025 are approximately $11.9 billion.

Contractual Obligations

We are party to other contracts associated with ongoing business activities, which will result in cash payments to counterparties in future periods. Certain obligations are included in our Consolidated Balance Sheets, such as borrowings, operating lease liabilities and shared aircraft repurchase liabilities.

We are also obligated to pay claims arising from property and casualty contracts issued by our insurance subsidiaries, including amounts from retroactive reinsurance. However, the timing and amount of the payments under insurance and reinsurance contracts are contingent upon the outcome of future events. Actual payments will likely vary, perhaps materially, from any forecasted payments, as well as from the liabilities recorded in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. We anticipate that these payments will be funded by operating cash flows.

Other obligations pertaining to the acquisition of goods or services in the future, such as certain purchase obligations, are not currently reflected in the Consolidated Financial Statements and will be recognized in future periods as the goods are delivered or services are provided. Except as otherwise disclosed in this Quarterly Report, our contractual obligations as of March 31, 2025 were, in the aggregate, not materially different from those disclosed in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" contained in Berkshire's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Critical Accounting Estimates

Certain accounting policies require us to make estimates and judgments in determining the amounts reflected in our Consolidated Financial Statements. Such estimates and judgments necessarily involve varying and possibly significant degrees of uncertainty. Accordingly, certain amounts currently recorded in our Consolidated Financial Statements will likely be adjusted in the future based on new available information and changes in other facts and circumstances. Reference is made to "Critical Accounting Estimates" discussed in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" included in Berkshire's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Our Consolidated Balance Sheet as of March 31, 2025 included estimated liabilities for unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses from property and casualty insurance and reinsurance contracts of $149.1 billion. Due to the inherent uncertainties in the processes of establishing these liabilities, the actual ultimate claim amounts will likely differ from the currently recorded amounts. A very small percentage change in estimates of this magnitude can result in a material effect on periodic earnings. The effects from changes in these estimates are recorded as a component of insurance losses and loss adjustment expenses in the period of the change.

Our Consolidated Balance Sheet as of March 31, 2025 included goodwill of acquired businesses of $84.0 billion and indefinite-lived intangible assets of $18.9 billion. In connection with the annual goodwill impairment review conducted in the fourth quarter of 2024, our estimated fair values of seven reporting units did not exceed our carrying values by at least 20%, as disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024. Our estimated aggregate fair value of these units at that time was approximately $65.6 billion, which exceeded our aggregate carrying value of approximately $57.4 billion. Goodwill of these reporting units totaled approximately $18.6 billion.

Goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible asset impairment reviews include determining the estimated fair values of the reporting units and of the indefinite-lived intangible assets. Several methods and inputs may be used to estimate fair values, and significant judgments are required in making such estimates. Due to the inherent subjectivity and uncertainty in forecasting future cash flows and earnings over long periods of time, actual results may differ materially from the forecasts.

As of March 31, 2025, we concluded it was more likely than not that goodwill and other indefinite-lived intangible assets recorded in our Consolidated Balance Sheet were not impaired. However, the fair value estimates of the reporting units and assets are subject to change based on changes in market and economic conditions and events affecting our businesses, which we cannot reliably predict. It is reasonably possible that adverse changes in such conditions or events could result in the recognition of impairment losses in our Consolidated Financial Statements in the future.

Information concerning accounting pronouncements to be adopted in the future is included in Note 2 to the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements.

Forward-Looking Statements

Investors are cautioned that certain statements contained in this document as well as some statements in periodic press releases and some oral statements of Berkshire officials during presentations about Berkshire or its subsidiaries are "forward-looking" statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (the "Act"). Forward-looking statements include statements which are predictive in nature, which depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or which include words such as "expects," "anticipates," "intends," "plans," "believes," "estimates" or similar expressions. In addition, any statements concerning future financial performance (including future revenues, earnings or growth rates), ongoing business strategies or prospects and possible future Berkshire actions, which may be provided by management, are also forward-looking statements as defined by the Act. Forward-looking statements are based on current expectations and projections about future events and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions about Berkshire and its subsidiaries, economic and market factors and the industries in which we do business, among other things. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and we have no specific intention to update these statements.

Actual events and results may differ materially from those expressed or forecasted in forward-looking statements due to a number of factors. The principal risk factors that could cause our actual performance and future events and actions to differ materially from such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, changes in market prices of our investments in equity securities; the occurrence of one or more catastrophic events, such as an earthquake, hurricane, geopolitical conflict, act of terrorism or cyber-attack that causes losses insured by our insurance subsidiaries and/or losses to our business operations; the frequency and severity of epidemics, pandemics or other outbreaks, and other events that negatively affect our operating results and restrict our access to borrowed funds through the capital markets at reasonable rates; changes in laws or regulations affecting our insurance, railroad, utilities and energy and finance subsidiaries; changes in federal income tax laws; and changes in general economic and market factors that affect the prices of securities or the industries in which we do business.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Reference is made to Berkshire's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024 and in particular the "Market Risk Disclosures" included in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations." As of March 31, 2025, there were no material changes in the market risks described in Berkshire's Annual Report.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

As of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Chairman (Chief Executive Officer) and the Senior Vice President (Chief Financial Officer), of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Exchange Act Rule 13a-15. Based upon that evaluation, the Chairman (Chief Executive Officer) and the Senior Vice President (Chief Financial Officer) concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective in timely alerting them to material information relating to the Company (including its consolidated subsidiaries) required to be included in the Company's periodic SEC filings. During the quarter, there have been no significant changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting or in other factors that could significantly affect internal control over financial reporting.

Part II Other Information

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

Berkshire and its subsidiaries are parties in a variety of legal actions that routinely arise out of the normal course of business, including legal actions seeking to establish liability directly through insurance contracts or indirectly through reinsurance contracts issued by Berkshire subsidiaries. Plaintiffs occasionally seek punitive or exemplary damages. We do not believe that such normal and routine litigation will have a material effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

Reference is made to Note 22 to the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements for information concerning certain litigation involving Berkshire subsidiaries. Berkshire and certain of its subsidiaries are also involved in other kinds of legal actions, some of which assert or may assert claims or seek to impose fines and penalties. We currently believe that any liability that may arise as a result of other pending legal actions will not have a material effect on our consolidated financial condition or results of operations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Our significant business risks are described in Item 1A to Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024, to which reference is made herein. The risks and uncertainties we describe are not the only ones facing us. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial may also impair our business or operations. Any adverse effect on our business, financial condition or operating results could result in a decline in the value of our securities and the loss of all or part of your investment.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds and Issuer Repurchases of Equity Securities

Berkshire's common stock repurchase program permits Berkshire to repurchase its Class A and Class B shares any time that Warren Buffett, Berkshire's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, believes that the repurchase price is below Berkshire's intrinsic value, conservatively determined. Repurchases may be in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions. No Class A or Class B shares were repurchased in the first quarter of 2025.

Period	Total number of shares purchased	Average price paid per share	Total number of shares purchased as part of publicly announced program	Maximum number or value of shares that yet may be repurchased under the program
January	—	$ —	—	*
February	—	—	—	*
March	—	—	—	*

 The program does not specify a maximum number of shares to be repurchased or obligate Berkshire to repurchase any specific dollar amount or number of Class A or Class B shares and there is no expiration date to the repurchase program. Berkshire will not repurchase its common stock if the repurchases reduce the value of Berkshire's consolidated cash, cash equivalents and U.S. Treasury Bills holdings to less than $30 billion.*

Item 3. Defaults Upon Senior Securities

None

Item 4. Mine Safety Disclosures

Information regarding the Company's mine safety violations and other legal matters disclosed in accordance with Section 1503(a) of the Dodd-Frank Reform Act is included in Exhibit 95 to this Form 10-Q.

Item 5. Other Information

Berkshire has not adopted a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement (as defined in Item 408(a)(1)(i) of Regulation S-K) and no directors or executive officers adopted or terminated a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement or a non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement (as defined in Item 408(c) of Regulation S-K) during the first quarter of 2025.

Barclays Capital Inc.

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment IV

Barclays Capital Inc.

(Certification Regarding Equal Employment Opportunity)

The Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit ("EDS") include questions regarding equal employment opportunity, specifically concerning 41 CFR Part 60-2 (the "Regulation"). The Regulation is inapplicable to the underwriting services proposed to be provided by Barclays pursuant to the Matter. First, Barclays does not provide any goods or services to City of Chicago (the "City") in whole or in part necessary to the performance of any one or more the City's federal contracts and as such, Barclays is not a federal contractor or subcontractor. See, as an example, Liberty Mutual Ins. Co. v. Friedman, 639 F.2d 164 (4th Cir. 1981), which held that workers' compensation policies sold to government contractors by an insurance company were not covered subcontracts for purposes of OFCCP enforcement. Second, Barclays compensation under the EDS is not derived from federal funds. Rather, the source of Barclays compensation is from its underwriting services rendered on behalf of the City. Based on the foregoing, the Regulations are inapplicable to Barclays obligations under the EDS and Barclays is not required to maintain an affirmative action plan or any similar obligation.

Although the services provided by Barclays are outside of and unrelated to the scope of the Regulations, Barclays has a strong commitment to providing for a diverse and positive work environment free of unlawful discrimination. First, Barclays is strongly committed to implementing employment policies and practices that are fair to all of its employees, applicants and clients. Barclays recruits, hires, trains and promotes into all job levels the most qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, ethnicity, age, disability, genetic information, marital status, military service, gender identity or expression or sexual orientation, or any other characteristic protected by federal, state or local law. In sum, Barclays complies with all relevant state, federal and local equal employment opportunity laws and will continue to do so if this bid is accepted.

Attachment III

Barclays Group US, Inc.

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Barclays US LLC

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment III

Barclays US Holdings Limited

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment III

Barclays Bank PLC

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment III

Barclays PLC

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

These condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP") and include the accounts of the Company and its controlled subsidiaries. Noncontrolling interests ("NCI") on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition represent the portion of consolidated sponsored investment products ("CIPs") and a consolidated affiliate in which the Company does not have direct equity ownership. Intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated upon consolidation.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expense during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Certain financial information that normally is included in annual financial statements, including certain financial statement footnotes, is not required for interim reporting purposes and has been condensed or omitted herein. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's consolidated financial statements and footnotes related thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024, which was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on February 25, 2025 ("2024 Form 10-K").

The interim financial information at March 31, 2025 and for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 is unaudited. However, in the opinion of management, the interim information includes all normal recurring adjustments necessary for the fair presentation of the Company's results for the periods presented. The results of operations for interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results to be expected for the full year.

Certain prior period presentations were reclassified to ensure comparability with current period classifications.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

Income Tax Disclosure Requirements. In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures ("ASU 2023-09"), which enhances annual income tax disclosures. The two primary enhancements disaggregate existing income tax disclosures related to the effective tax rate reconciliation and income taxes paid. The Company will include the required ASU 2023-09 disclosures within BlackRock's 2025 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses. In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses ("ASU 2024-03"), which requires entities to disaggregate in a tabular presentation disclosures about specific types of expenses included in the expense captions presented on the face of the income statement, as well as disclosures about selling expenses. Specifically, ASU 2024-03 requires disaggregation of expense captions that include any of the following natural expenses: (1) purchases of inventory, (2) employee compensation, (3) depreciation, (4) intangible asset amortization, and (5) depreciation, depletion, and amortization recognized as part of oil- and gas-producing activities or other types of depletion expenses. The requirements are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027 and are required to be applied prospectively with the option for retrospective application. Early adoption is permitted. The Company does not expect the additional disclosure requirements under ASU 2024-03 to have a material impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements.

Fair Value Measurements

Hierarchy of Fair Value Inputs. The Company uses a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation approaches used to measure fair value. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs. Assets and liabilities measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following categories:

Level 1 Inputs:

Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities at the reporting date.

- Level 1 assets may include listed mutual funds, ETFs, listed equities, commodities and certain exchange-traded derivatives.

Level 2 Inputs:

Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities that are not active; quotes from pricing services or brokers for which the Company can determine that orderly transactions took place at the quoted price or that the inputs used to arrive at the price are observable; and inputs other than quoted prices that are observable, such as models or other valuation methodologies.

- Level 2 assets may include debt securities, loans held within consolidated collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs"), short-term floating-rate notes, asset-backed securities, as well as over-the-counter derivatives, including interest rate swaps and foreign currency exchange contracts that have inputs to the valuations that generally can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3 Inputs:

Unobservable inputs for the valuation of the asset or liability, which may include nonbinding broker quotes. Level 3 assets include investments for which there is little, if any, market activity. These inputs require significant management judgment or estimation.

- Level 3 assets may include direct private equity investments, including those held within CIPs, investments in CLOs, and loans held within consolidated CLOs and CIPs.
- Level 3 liabilities may include borrowings of consolidated CLOs and contingent liabilities related to acquisitions valued using the income approach based on unobservable market data, or other valuation techniques.

Significance of Inputs. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the financial instrument.

Valuation Approaches. The fair values of certain Level 3 assets and liabilities were determined using various valuation approaches as appropriate, including third-party pricing vendors, broker quotes and market and income approaches.

A significant number of inputs used to value equity, debt securities, and loans held within CLOs and CIPs are sourced from third-party pricing vendors. Generally, prices obtained from pricing vendors are categorized as Level 1 inputs for identical securities traded in active markets and as Level 2 for other similar securities if the vendor uses observable inputs in determining the price.

In addition, quotes obtained from brokers generally are nonbinding and categorized as Level 3 inputs. However, if the Company is able to determine that market participants have transacted for the asset in an orderly manner near the quoted price or if the Company can determine that the inputs used by the broker are observable, the quote is classified as a Level 2 input.

Investments Measured at Net Asset Value. As a practical expedient, the Company uses net asset value ("NAV") as the fair value for certain investments. The inputs to value these investments may include the Company's capital accounts for its partnership interests in various alternative investments, including hedge funds, real assets and private equity funds. The various partnerships are investment companies, which record their underlying investments at fair value based on fair value policies established by management of the underlying fund. Fair value policies at the underlying fund generally require the fund to utilize pricing/valuation information from third-party sources, including independent appraisals. However, in some instances, current valuation information for illiquid securities or securities in markets that are not active may not be available from any third-party source or fund management may conclude that the valuations that are available from third-party sources are not reliable. In these instances, fund management may perform model-based analytical valuations that could be used as an input to value these investments.

Fair Value Assets and Liabilities of Consolidated CLO. The Company applies the fair value option provisions for eligible assets, including loans, held by a consolidated CLO. As the fair value of the financial assets of the consolidated CLO is more observable than the fair value of the borrowings of the consolidated CLO, the Company measures the fair value of the borrowings of the consolidated CLO equal to the fair value of the assets of the consolidated CLO less the fair value of the Company's economic interest in the CLO.

Derivatives and Hedging Activities. The Company does not use derivative financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. The Company uses derivative financial instruments primarily for purposes of hedging exposures to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates of certain assets and liabilities, and market price and interest rate exposures with respect to its total portfolio of seed investments in sponsored investment products. In addition, certain CIPs also utilize derivatives as a part of their investment strategies.

In addition, the Company uses derivatives and makes investments to economically hedge market valuation changes on certain deferred cash compensation plans, for which the final value of the deferred amount distributed to employees in cash upon vesting is determined based on the returns of specified investment funds. The Company recognizes compensation expense for the appreciation (depreciation) of the deferred cash compensation liability in proportion to the vested amount of the award during a respective period, while the gain (loss) to economically hedge these plans is immediately recognized in nonoperating income (expense). See Note 5, Investments, and Note 9, Derivatives and Hedging, for further information on the Company's investments and derivatives, respectively, used to economically hedge these deferred cash compensation plans.

The Company records all derivative financial instruments as either assets or liabilities at fair value on a gross basis in the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. Credit risks are managed through master netting and collateral support agreements. The amounts related to the right to reclaim or the obligation to return cash collateral may not be used to offset amounts due under the derivative instruments in the normal course of settlement. Therefore, such amounts are not offset against fair value amounts recognized for derivative instruments with the same counterparty and are included in other assets and other liabilities. Changes in the fair value of the Company's derivative financial instruments are recognized in earnings and, where applicable, are offset by the corresponding gain or loss on the related foreign-denominated or hedged assets or liabilities, on the condensed consolidated statements of income.

The Company may also use financial instruments designated as net investment hedges for accounting purposes to hedge net investments in international subsidiaries, the functional currency of which is not United States ("US") dollars. The gain or loss from revaluing net investment hedges at the spot rate is deferred and reported within accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) ("AOCI") on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. The Company reassesses the effectiveness of its net investment hedge at least quarterly.

Separate Account Assets and Liabilities. Separate account assets are maintained by BlackRock Life Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, which is a registered life insurance company in the United Kingdom ("UK"), and represent segregated assets held for purposes of funding individual and group pension contracts. The life insurance company does not underwrite any insurance contracts that involve any insurance risk transfer from the insured to the life insurance company. The separate account assets primarily include equity securities, debt securities, money market funds and derivatives. The separate account assets are not subject to general claims of the creditors of BlackRock. These separate account assets and the related equal and offsetting liabilities are recorded as separate account assets and separate account liabilities on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition.

The net investment income attributable to separate account assets supporting individual and group pension contracts accrues directly to the contract owner and is not reported on the condensed consolidated statements of income. While BlackRock has no economic interest in these separate account assets and liabilities, BlackRock earns policy administration and management fees associated with these products, which are included in investment advisory, administration fees and securities lending revenue on the condensed consolidated statements of income.

Separate Account Collateral Assets Held and Liabilities Under Securities Lending Agreements. The Company facilitates securities lending arrangements whereby securities held by separate accounts maintained by BlackRock Life Limited are lent to third parties under global master securities lending agreements. In exchange, the Company obtains either (1) the legal title, or (2) a first ranking priority security interest, in the collateral. The minimum collateral values generally range from approximately 102% to 112% of the value of the securities in order to reduce counterparty risk. The required collateral value is calculated on a daily basis. The global master securities lending agreements provide the Company the right to request additional collateral or, in the event of borrower default, the right to liquidate collateral. The securities lending transactions entered into by the Company are accompanied by an agreement that entitles the Company to request the borrower to return the securities at any time; therefore, these transactions are not reported as sales.

In situations where the Company obtains the legal title to collateral under these securities lending arrangements, the Company records an asset on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition in addition to an equal collateral liability for the obligation to return the collateral. Additionally, in situations where the Company obtains a first ranking priority security interest in the collateral, the Company does not have the ability to pledge or resell the collateral and therefore does not record the collateral on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the fair value of loaned securities held by separate accounts was approximately $10.1 billion and $9.9 billion, respectively, and the fair value of the collateral under these securities lending agreements was approximately $11.0 billion and $10.6 billion, respectively, of which approximately $5.8 billion as of March 31, 2025 and $6.1 billion as of December 31, 2024 was recognized on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. During the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company had not resold or repledged any of the collateral obtained under these arrangements. The securities lending revenue earned from lending securities held by the separate accounts is included in investment advisory, administration fees and securities lending revenue on the condensed consolidated statements of income.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets. Goodwill represents the cost of a business acquisition in excess of the fair value of the net assets acquired. The Company has determined that it has one reporting unit for goodwill impairment testing purposes, the consolidated BlackRock single operating segment, which is consistent with internal management reporting and management's oversight of operations. The Company performs an impairment assessment of its goodwill at least annually, as of July 31. In its assessment of goodwill for impairment, the Company considers such factors as the book value and market capitalization of the Company as well as other qualitative factors. See Note 10, Goodwill, for further information on the Company's goodwill.

Intangible assets are comprised of indefinite-lived intangible assets and finite-lived intangible assets acquired in a business acquisition. The value of contracts to manage assets in proprietary open-end funds and collective trust funds and certain other commingled products without a specified termination date is generally classified as indefinite-lived intangible assets. In addition, trade names/trademarks are considered indefinite-lived intangible assets when they are expected to generate cash flows indefinitely.

Indefinite-lived intangible assets and goodwill are not amortized. Finite-lived investor/customer relationships, technology-related assets, and management contracts, which relate to acquired separate accounts and funds, that are expected to contribute to the future cash flows of the Company for a specified period of time, are amortized over their estimated useful lives. On a quarterly basis, the Company considers whether the indefinite-lived and finite-lived classifications are still appropriate.

The Company performs assessments to determine if any intangible assets are potentially impaired at least annually, as of July 31. The carrying value of finite-lived assets and their remaining useful lives are reviewed to determine if circumstances exist which may indicate a potential impairment or revisions to the amortization period.

In evaluating whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of indefinite-lived intangibles is less than its carrying value, BlackRock assesses various significant quantitative factors, including assets under management ("AUM"), revenue basis points, projected AUM growth rates, operating margins, tax rates and discount rates. If an indefinite-lived intangible is determined to be more likely than not impaired, then the fair value of the asset is compared with its carrying value and any excess of the carrying value over the fair value would be recognized as an expense in the period in which the impairment occurs. See Note 11, Intangible Assets, for further information on the Company's intangible assets.

For finite-lived intangible assets, if potential impairment circumstances are considered to exist, the Company will perform a recoverability test using an undiscounted cash flow analysis. If the carrying value of the asset is determined not to be recoverable based on the undiscounted cash flow test, the excess of the carrying value of the asset over its fair value would be recognized as an expense in the period in which the impairment occurs.

3. Acquisitions

Preqin

On March 3, 2025, BlackRock completed the acquisition of 100% of the shares of Preqin Holding Limited (the "Preqin Transaction" or "Preqin"), a leading provider of private markets data, for £2.5 billion (or approximately $3.2 billion) in cash.

The purchase price for the Preqin Transaction was allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based upon their estimated fair values at the date of the transaction. The goodwill recognized in connection with the acquisition is non-deductible for tax purposes and is primarily attributable to anticipated synergies from incorporating Preqin data, insight and analytics into BlackRock's investment technology, presenting an opportunity for Aladdin to bridge a transparency gap between public and private markets.

The following table summarizes the consideration paid for Preqin and the fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed recognized at the acquisition date:

(in millions)	Fair Value Estimate
Finite-lived intangible assets:
Customer relationships[1]	$ 1,090
Technology-related[2]	125
Trade name	7
Goodwill	2,344
Other assets[3]	59
Deferred revenue[3]	(104)
Deferred income tax liabilities	(308)
Other liabilities assumed[3]	(90)
Total consideration, net of cash acquired	$ 3,123
Summary of consideration, net of cash acquired:
Cash paid	$ 3,219
Cash acquired	(96)
Total cash consideration, net of cash acquired	$ 3,123

(1) The fair value was determined using an income approach (Level 3 inputs), has a weighted-average estimated useful life of approximately 9 years and is amortized based on its expected pattern of economic benefit.
(2) The fair value was determined using a replacement cost approach (Level 3 inputs), has a weighted-average estimated useful life of approximately 5 years and is amortized based on the straight-line method.
(3) Acquired deferred revenue was determined based on current revenue guidance. The acquired book values of the remaining assets and liabilities approximated their fair values.

At this time, the Company does not expect material changes to the value of the assets acquired or liabilities assumed in conjunction with the transaction.

Finite-lived intangible assets are amortized over their estimated useful lives, which range from 5 to 11 years. Amortization expense related to the finite-lived intangible assets was $9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. The finite-lived intangible assets had a weighted-average remaining useful life of approximately eight years with remaining amortization expense as follows:

(in millions)

Year	Amount
2025 (excluding the three months ended March 31, 2025)	$ 87
2026	144
2027	151
2028	162
2029	171
2030	145
Thereafter	353
Total	$ 1,213

Pro forma financial information for Preqin has not been presented, as the effects were not material to the Company's historical consolidated financial statements. See Note 10, Goodwill, Note 11, Intangible Assets, and Note 16, Revenue for further information regarding goodwill, intangible assets, and deferred revenue acquired, respectively.

Global Infrastructure Management, LLC

On October 1, 2024, BlackRock completed the acquisition of 100% of the issued and outstanding limited liability company interests of Global Infrastructure Management, LLC ("GIP" or the "GIP Transaction"), a leading infrastructure fund manager. BlackRock expects the combination of GIP with BlackRock's complementary infrastructure offerings will create a broad global infrastructure franchise with differentiated origination and asset management capabilities. Consideration at close included approximately $3 billion in cash, funded through the issuance of long-term notes in March 2024 (See Note 15, Borrowings, in the 2024 Form 10-K for more information regarding the Company's borrowings), and 6.9 million of unregistered shares of BlackRock common stock. The shares were valued at $5.9 billion at close, based on the price of BlackRock's common stock on September 30, 2024 of approximately $950, discounted for security-specific registration restrictions for two years after closing, resulting in a value of approximately $855 per share. In addition, as part of the purchase consideration, a contingent consideration payment, all in stock, may be due subject to achieving certain performance targets. The contingent consideration payment, if any, ranges from 4.0 million to 5.2 million shares, and will be valued based on the price of BlackRock's common stock at the time the contingency is resolved. The payment is expected to be payable no later than December 31, 2028 or based on the achievement of the agreed upon performance targets. The fair value of the contingent consideration payment, which was determined by using the income approach with the assistance of a third-party fair value specialist, was $4.2 billion at close, and was recorded within contingent consideration liabilities in the consolidated statements of financial condition. Certain significant inputs were used to determine the fair value, including assumptions on discount rates as well as estimates of the timing and amounts of fundraising forecasts, stock and AUM volatility, and correlation between stock price and AUM (Level 3 inputs). The contingent consideration payment was classified as a liability as the value of the consideration to be delivered in shares is predominately based on achieving certain performance targets. See Note 8, Fair Value Disclosures and Note 15, Commitments and Contingencies for additional information on the contingent consideration related to GIP.

The GIP Transaction was accounted for as a business combination under the acquisition method of accounting. Accordingly, the purchase price was allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based upon their estimated fair values at the date of the transaction. The goodwill recognized in connection with the acquisition includes future benefits for BlackRock as a result of scale and anticipated synergies from a combined global infrastructure franchise. The amount of goodwill expected to be deductible for tax purposes is approximately $200 million.

The following table summarizes the consideration paid for GIP and the fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed recognized at the acquisition date:

(in millions)	Fair Value Estimate
Finite-lived intangible assets:
Management contracts[1]	$ 1,840
Investor relationships[1]	820
Trade name[2]	80
Goodwill	10,297
Operating lease ROU assets[3]	75
Other assets[3]	114
Accrued compensation and benefits[3]	(154)
Operating lease liabilities[3]	(96)
Other liabilities assumed[3]	(10)
Total consideration, net of cash acquired	$ 12,966
Summary of consideration, net of cash acquired:
Cash paid	$ 2,930
Cash acquired	(68)
Closing stock consideration at fair value	5,904
Deferred stock consideration at fair value	4,200
Total stock and cash consideration, net of cash acquired	$ 12,966

(1) The fair value for management contracts and investor relationships was determined based on a discounted cash flow analysis (Level 3 inputs), have weighted-average estimated useful lives of approximately 8 years and 14 years, respectively, and are amortized based on their expected pattern of economic benefit.

(2) The fair value was determined based upon a relief from royalty method (Level 3 inputs), has a weighted-average estimated useful life of approximately 10 years and is amortized based on its expected pattern of economic benefit.

(3) Acquired operating lease ROU assets and operating lease liabilities were determined based on current lease guidance. The acquired book values of the remaining assets and liabilities approximated their fair values.

At this time, the Company does not expect material changes to the value of the assets acquired or liabilities assumed in conjunction with the transaction.

The following unaudited pro forma information presents combined results of operations of the Company as if the GIP Transaction and related $3.0 billion in aggregate notes issuance (see Note 3, Acquisitions, and Note 15, Borrowings, in the 2024 Form 10-K for more information regarding the Company's pro forma adjustments and borrowings, respectively) had occurred on January 1, 2023 and are not indicative of the actual results of operations that would have been achieved nor are they indicative of future results of operations of the combined Company. The pro forma combined provision for income taxes may not represent the amount that would have resulted had BlackRock and GIP filed consolidated tax returns during the years presented.

(Unaudited) (in millions)	Three Months Ended March 31, 2024
Total revenue	$ 4,937
Net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc.	$ 1,561

For purposes of the pro forma financial information above, pro forma adjustments, including compensation expense for retention-related deferred compensation awards, amortization of finite-lived intangible assets, interest expense for the $3.0 billion of notes, which were issued in March 2024 in connection with the GIP Transaction, acquisition-related transaction costs and related tax effects were reflected as if the GIP Transaction had occurred on January 1, 2023.

(5) Other investments include BlackRock's investments in nonmarketable equity securities, which are measured at cost, adjusted for observable price changes, and private equity, private credit, real asset, and commodity investments held by CIPs, which are measured at fair value.

Held-to-Maturity Investments

Held-to-maturity investments included certain investments in BlackRock sponsored CLOs. The amortized cost (carrying value) of these investments approximated fair value (primarily a Level 2 input). At March 31, 2025, $17 million of these investments mature between one and five years, $350 million of these investments mature between five and ten years and $163 million of these investments mature after ten years.

6. Consolidated Sponsored Investment Products

In the normal course of business, the Company is the manager of various types of sponsored investment products, which may be considered VIEs or voting rights entities ("VREs"). The Company consolidates certain sponsored investment funds accounted for as VREs because it is deemed to control such funds. In addition, the Company may from time to time own equity or debt securities issued by vehicles or enter into derivatives or loan arrangements with the vehicles, each of which are considered variable interests. The Company's involvement in financing the operations of the VIEs is generally limited to its economic interest in the entity. The Company's consolidated VIEs include certain sponsored investment products in which BlackRock has an economic interest and as the investment manager, is deemed to have both the power to direct the most significant activities of the products and the right to receive benefits (or the obligation to absorb losses) that could potentially be significant to these sponsored investment products. The assets of these VIEs are not available to creditors of the Company. In addition, the investors in these VIEs have no recourse to the credit of the Company.

The following table presents the balances related to these CIPs accounted for as VIEs and VREs that were recorded on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition, including BlackRock's net interest in these products:

	March 31, 2025			December 31, 2024
(in millions)	VIEs	VREs	Total	VIEs	VREs	Total

BlackRock's net interest in CIPs	$ 1,804	$ 601	$ 2,405	$ 1,460	$ 512	$ 1,972

(1) The Company generally cannot readily access cash and cash equivalents held by CIPs to use in its operating activities.
(2) At both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, other liabilities of VIEs primarily include deferred carried interest liabilities and borrowings of a consolidated CLO.

BlackRock's total exposure to CIPs represents the value of its economic interest in these CIPs. Valuation changes associated with financial instruments held at fair value by these CIPs are reflected in nonoperating income (expense) and partially offset in net income (loss) attributable to NCI for the portion not attributable to BlackRock.

Net gain (loss) related to consolidated VIEs is presented in the following table:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
(in millions)	2025	2024
Nonoperating net gain (loss) on consolidated VIEs	$ 12	$ 71
Net income (loss) attributable to NCI on consolidated VIEs	$ 8	$ 39

7. Variable Interest Entities

Nonconsolidated VIEs. At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company's carrying value of assets and liabilities included on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition pertaining to nonconsolidated VIEs and its maximum risk of loss related to VIEs in which it held a variable interest, but for which it was not the primary beneficiary, was as follows:

(in millions)	Investments	Advisory Fee Receivables	Other Net Assets (Liabilities)	Maximum Risk of Loss[1]
March 31, 2025
Sponsored investment products	$ 2,499	$ 137	$ (11)	$ 2,652
December 31, 2024
Sponsored investment products	$ 2,330	$ 158	$ (11)	$ 2,505

[1] At both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, BlackRock's maximum risk of loss associated with these VIEs primarily related to BlackRock's investments and the collection of receivables.

The net assets of sponsored investment products that are nonconsolidated VIEs approximated $52 billion and $46 billion at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively.

(1) Amounts are comprised of certain investments measured at fair value using NAV (or its equivalent) as a practical expedient.
(2) Amounts are comprised of investments held at amortized cost and cost, adjusted for observable price changes, and carried interest.
(3) Level 3 amount includes corporate minority private debt investments with changes in fair value recorded in AOCI, net of tax.
(4) Level 2 amount primarily includes fair value of derivatives (See Note 9, Derivatives and Hedging, for more information). Level 3 amount primarily includes borrowings of a consolidated CLO classified based on the significance of unobservable inputs used for calculating the fair value of consolidated CLO assets.

Level 3 Assets. Level 3 assets predominantly include investments in nonconsolidated CLOs, loans of consolidated CIPs, and corporate minority private debt investments. Investments in CLOs and loans were valued based on single-broker nonbinding quotes or quotes from pricing services which use significant unobservable inputs. BlackRock's corporate minority private debt investments were primarily valued using the income approach by discounting the expected cash flows to a single present value. For investments utilizing a discounted cashflow valuation technique, an increase (decrease) in the discount rate or risk premium in isolation could have resulted in a significantly lower (higher) fair value measurement as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

Level 3 Liabilities. Level 3 liabilities primarily include borrowings of a consolidated CLO, which were valued based on the fair value of the assets of the consolidated CLO less the fair value of the Company's economic interest in the CLO, as well as contingent consideration liabilities related to certain acquisitions, which were valued based upon discounted cash flow analyses using unobservable market data inputs or other valuation techniques.

At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the contingent consideration liability related to the GIP Transaction was estimated using the income approach, with certain significant inputs including risk-free discount rates of approximately 3.9% and 4.3%, respectively, as well as current estimates of the timing and amounts of fundraising forecasts, stock and AUM volatility, and correlation between stock price and AUM (Level 3 inputs). Accordingly, changes in key inputs and assumptions described will impact the amount of contingent consideration expense recorded in a reporting period until the contingency is resolved. Changes in fair value are recorded within general and administration expense of the condensed consolidated statements of income.

Realized and Unrealized Gains (Losses) for Level 3 Assets and Liabilities. Realized and unrealized gains (losses) recorded for Level 3 assets and liabilities are reported in nonoperating income (expense) or AOCI for corporate minority private debt investments. A portion of net income (loss) related to securities held by CIPs is allocated to NCI to reflect net income (loss) not attributable to the Company.

Transfers in and/or out of Levels. Transfers in and/or out of levels are reflected when significant inputs, including market inputs or performance attributes, used for the fair value measurement become observable/unobservable.

Disclosures of Fair Value for Financial Instruments Not Held at Fair Value. At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the fair value of the Company's financial instruments not held at fair value are categorized in the table below:

(in millions)	March 31, 2025 Carrying Amount	March 31, 2025 Estimated Fair Value	December 31, 2024 Carrying Amount	December 31, 2024 Estimated Fair Value	Fair Value Hierarchy

[1] See Note 5, Investments, for further information on investments not held at fair value.

[2] Cash and cash equivalents, other than money market funds, are carried at either cost or amortized cost, which approximates fair value due to their short-term maturities.

[3] At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, approximately $2.4 billion and $6.2 billion, respectively, of money market funds were recorded within cash and cash equivalents on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. Money market funds are valued based on quoted market prices, or $1.00 per share, which generally is the NAV of the fund.

[4] At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, other assets included cash collateral of approximately $91 million and $69 million, respectively. See Note 9, Derivatives and Hedging for further information on derivatives held by the Company. In addition, other assets included $17 million of restricted cash at both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

[5] Long-term borrowings are recorded at amortized cost, net of debt issuance costs. The fair value of the long-term borrowings, including the current portion of long-term borrowings, is determined using market prices and the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at the end of March 2025 and December 2024, respectively. See Note 14, Borrowings, for the fair value of each of the Company's long-term borrowings.

Investments in Certain Entities that Calculate NAV Per Share

As a practical expedient to value certain investments that do not have a readily determinable fair value and have attributes of an investment company, the Company uses NAV as the fair value. The following tables list information regarding all investments that use a fair value measurement to account for both their financial assets and financial liabilities in their calculation of a NAV per share (or equivalent).

N/R – Not Redeemable

(1) Comprised of equity method investments, which include investment companies that account for their financial assets and most financial liabilities under fair value measures; therefore, the Company's investment in such equity method investees approximates fair value.

(a) This category includes hedge funds, funds of hedge funds, and other funds that invest primarily in equities, fixed income securities, private credit, opportunistic and mortgage instruments and other third-party hedge funds. The fair values of the investments have been estimated using the NAV of the Company's ownership interest in partners' capital. The liquidation period for the investments in the funds that are not subject to redemption is unknown at both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

(b) This category includes private equity funds that initially invest in nonmarketable securities of private companies, which ultimately may become public in the future. The fair values of these investments have been estimated using capital accounts representing the Company's ownership interest in the funds and may also include other performance inputs. The Company's investment in each fund is not subject to redemption and is normally returned through distributions as a result of the liquidation of the underlying assets of the private equity funds. The liquidation period for the investments in these funds is unknown at both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

(c) This category includes several real assets funds that invest directly and indirectly in real estate or infrastructure. The fair values of the investments have been estimated using capital accounts representing the Company's ownership interest in the funds. The Company's investments that are not subject to redemption or are not currently redeemable are normally returned through distributions and realizations of the underlying assets of the funds. The liquidation period for the investments in the funds that are not subject to redemptions is unknown at both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024. The total remaining unfunded commitments were $759 million and $750 million at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively. The Company's portion of the total remaining unfunded commitments was $746 million and $736 million at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively.

(d) This category includes hedge funds and funds of hedge funds that invest primarily in equities, fixed income securities, mortgage instruments and other third-party hedge funds. The fair values of the investments have been estimated using the NAV of the Company's ownership interest in partners' capital. The investments in hedge funds will be redeemed upon settlement of certain deferred cash compensation liabilities.

(e) This category includes the underlying third-party private equity funds within consolidated BlackRock sponsored private equity funds of funds. These investments are not subject to redemption or are not currently redeemable; however, for certain funds, the Company may sell or transfer its interest, which may need approval by the general partner of the underlying funds. Due to the nature of the investments in this category, the Company reduces its investment by distributions that are received through the realization of the underlying assets of the funds. The liquidation period for the underlying assets of these funds is unknown.

Fair Value Option

At both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company elected the fair value option for certain investments in CLOs of approximately $72 million reported within investments.

In addition, the Company elected the fair value option for bank loans and borrowings of a consolidated CLO, recorded within investments and other liabilities, respectively. The following table summarizes the information related to these bank loans and borrowings at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024:

(in millions)	March 31, 2025	December 31, 2024
CLO loans:
Aggregate principal amounts outstanding	$ 138	$ 156
Fair value	115	141
Aggregate unpaid principal balance in excess of (less than) fair value	$ 23	$ 15
CLO borrowings:
Aggregate principal amounts outstanding	$ 122	$ 146
Fair value	102	129
Aggregate unpaid principal balance in excess of (less than) fair value	$ 20	$ 17

At March 31, 2025, the principal amounts outstanding of the borrowings issued by the consolidated CLO mature in 2030, and may be repaid prior to maturity at any time.

During the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, the net gains (losses) from the change in fair value of the bank loans and borrowings held by the consolidated CLO were not material and were recorded in net gain (loss) on the condensed consolidated statements of income. The change in fair value of the assets and liabilities included interest income and expense, respectively.

9. Derivatives and Hedging

The Company maintains a program to enter into exchange traded futures as a macro hedging strategy to hedge market price and interest rate exposures with respect to its total portfolio of seed investments in sponsored investment products. The Company had outstanding exchange traded futures related to this macro hedging strategy with aggregate notional values of approximately $1.8 billion at both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, with expiration dates during the second and first quarter of 2025, respectively.

In addition, the Company enters into exchange traded futures to economically hedge the exposure to market movements on certain deferred cash compensation plans. At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company had outstanding exchange traded futures with aggregate notional values related to its deferred cash compensation hedging program of approximately $218 million and $197 million, with expiration dates during the second and first quarter of 2025, respectively.

Changes in the value of the futures contracts are recognized as gains or losses within nonoperating income (expense). Variation margin payments, which represent settlements of profit/loss, are generally received or made daily, and are reflected in other assets and other liabilities on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. These amounts were not material as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

The Company executes forward foreign currency exchange contracts to mitigate the risk of certain foreign exchange movements. At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company had outstanding forward foreign currency exchange contracts with aggregate notional values of approximately $3.1 billion, with expiration dates primarily in April 2025, and $3.6 billion, with expiration dates in January 2025, respectively.

At both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company had a derivative providing credit protection with a notional amount of approximately $17 million to a counterparty, representing the Company's maximum risk of loss with respect to the derivative. The Company carries the derivative at fair value based on the expected discounted future cash outflows under the arrangement.

The following table presents the fair values of derivative instruments recognized in the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024:

13. Other Assets

The Company records certain corporate investments, which exclude seed and co-investments in the Company's sponsored investment products, within other assets on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition.

At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company had $933 million and $888 million, respectively, of corporate equity method investments, recorded within other assets. At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company's ownership interest in its minority investment in iCapital Network Inc. ("iCapital") was approximately 23%, and 24%, respectively, and the carrying value of the Company's interest was $685 million and $652 million, respectively. In accordance with GAAP, certain equity method investees, including iCapital, do not account for both their financial assets and liabilities under fair value measures; therefore, the Company's investment in such equity method investees may not represent fair value.

At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company had $456 million and $438 million, respectively, of other nonequity method corporate minority investments recorded within other assets. These investments include equity securities, generally measured at fair value or under the measurement alternative to fair value for nonmarketable securities, and corporate minority private debt investments measured at fair value. Changes in value of the equity securities are recorded in nonoperating income (expense) and changes in value of the debt securities are recorded in AOCI, net of tax. See Note 2, Significant Accounting Policies, in the notes to the consolidated financial statements contained in the 2024 Form 10-K for further information.

14. Borrowings

Short-Term Borrowings

2025 Revolving Credit Facility. The Company maintains an unsecured revolving credit facility (the "2025 Credit Facility") of $5.4 billion as of March 31, 2025, with a maturity date of March 2029 for lenders other than one non-extending lender and the commitment of the non-extending lender maturing in March 2028. The 2025 Credit Facility is available for working capital and general corporate purposes. The 2025 Credit Facility permits the Company to request up to an additional $1.0 billion of borrowing capacity, subject to lender credit approval, which could increase the overall size of the 2025 Credit Facility to an aggregate principal amount of up to $6.4 billion. Interest on outstanding borrowings accrues at an applicable benchmark rate for the denominated currency of the loan, plus a spread. The 2025 Credit Facility requires the Company not to exceed a maximum leverage ratio (ratio of net debt to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, where net debt equals total debt less unrestricted cash) of 3 to 1, which was satisfied with a ratio of less than 1 to 1 at March 31, 2025. At March 31, 2025, the Company had no amount outstanding under the 2025 Credit Facility.

Commercial Paper Program. The Company may issue short-term unsecured commercial paper notes (the "CP Notes") on a private-placement basis up to a maximum aggregate amount outstanding at any time of $5 billion. The payments of the CP Notes have been unconditionally guaranteed by BlackRock Finance, Inc. (formerly known as BlackRock, Inc.) ("Old BlackRock") (the "CP Notes Guarantee"). The CP Notes will rank equal in right of payment with all of BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness, and the obligations of Old BlackRock under the CP Notes Guarantee will rank equal in right of payment with all of Old BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness. Net proceeds of issuances of the CP Notes are expected to be used for general corporate purposes. The commercial paper program is currently supported by the 2025 Credit Facility. At March 31, 2025, BlackRock had no CP Notes outstanding.

Subsidiary Credit Facility. BlackRock Investment Management (UK) Limited ("BIM UK"), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, maintains a revolving credit facility (the "Subsidiary Credit Facility") in the amount of £25 million (or approximately $32 million based on the GBP/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) with a rolling 364-day term structure. The Subsidiary Credit Facility is available for BIM UK's general corporate and working capital purposes. At March 31, 2025, there was no amount outstanding under the Subsidiary Credit Facility.

Long-term borrowings at December 31, 2024 had a carrying value of $12.3 billion and a fair value of $11.7 billion, determined using market prices at the end of December 31, 2024.

See Note 15, Borrowings, in the 2024 Form 10-K for more information regarding the Company's borrowings.

15. Commitments and Contingencies

Investment Commitments. At March 31, 2025, the Company had $1.2 billion of various capital commitments to fund sponsored investment products, including CIPs. These products include various private market products, including private equity funds, real assets funds and opportunistic funds. This amount excludes additional commitments made by consolidated funds of funds to underlying third-party funds as third-party noncontrolling interest holders have the legal obligation to fund the respective commitments of such funds of funds. Generally, the timing of the funding of these commitments is unknown and the commitments are callable on demand at any time prior to the expiration of the commitment. These unfunded commitments are not recorded on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. These commitments do not include potential future commitments approved by the Company that are not yet legally binding. The Company intends to make additional capital commitments from time to time to fund additional investment products for, and with, its clients.

Contingencies

Contingent Consideration Liabilities. In connection with certain acquisitions, BlackRock is required to make contingent payments, subject to the achievement of specified performance targets or satisfaction of certain post-closing events. The fair value of any contingent consideration is estimated at the time of acquisition closing and is included in contingent consideration liabilities on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. The fair value of the remaining aggregate contingent payments at March 31, 2025 totaled $4.4 billion, including $4.3 billion related to the GIP Transaction, which, if any, will be settled, all in stock, ranging from 4.0 million to 5.2 million shares, subject to achieving certain performance targets. See Note 3, Acquisitions, for more information.

Legal Proceedings. From time to time, BlackRock receives subpoenas or other requests for information from various US federal and state governmental and regulatory authorities and international governmental and regulatory authorities in connection with industry-wide or other investigations or proceedings. It is BlackRock's policy to cooperate fully with such matters. In 2023, BlackRock responded to requests from the SEC in connection with a publicly reported, industry-wide investigation of investment advisers' compliance with record retention requirements relating to certain types of electronic communications.

The Company, certain of its subsidiaries and employees have been named as defendants in various legal actions, including arbitrations and other litigation arising in connection with BlackRock's activities. Additionally, BlackRock-advised investment portfolios may be subject to lawsuits, any of which potentially could harm the investment returns of the applicable portfolio or result in the Company being liable to the portfolios for any resulting damages.

Management, after consultation with legal counsel, currently does not anticipate that the aggregate liability arising out of regulatory matters or lawsuits will have a material effect on BlackRock's results of operations, financial position, or cash flows. However, there is no assurance as to whether any such pending or threatened matters will have a material effect on BlackRock's results of operations, financial position or cash flows in any future reporting period. Due to uncertainties surrounding the outcome of these matters, management cannot reasonably estimate the possible loss or range of loss that may arise from these matters.

Indemnifications. In the ordinary course of business or in connection with certain acquisition agreements, BlackRock enters into contracts pursuant to which it may agree to indemnify third parties in certain circumstances. The terms of these indemnities vary from contract to contract and the amount of indemnification liability, if any, cannot be determined or the likelihood of any liability is considered remote. Consequently, no liability has been recorded on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition.

In connection with securities lending transactions, BlackRock has agreed to indemnify certain securities lending clients against potential loss resulting from a borrower's failure to fulfill its obligations under the securities lending agreement should the value of the collateral pledged by the borrower at the time of default be insufficient to cover the borrower's obligation under the securities lending agreement. The amount of securities on loan as of March 31, 2025 and subject to this type of indemnification was approximately $316 billion. In the Company's capacity as lending agent, cash and securities totaling approximately $334 billion were held as collateral for indemnified securities on loan at March 31, 2025. The fair value of these indemnifications was not material at March 31, 2025.

Revenue attributed to future periods could be subject to change due to a change in business activities and actual amounts could differ from amounts disclosed in the table above.

[2] The Company elected practical expedients to exclude amounts related to (a) performance obligations with an original duration of one year or less, and (b) variable consideration related to future service periods.

Revenue attributed to future periods could be subject to change due to a change in business activities and actual amounts could differ from amounts disclosed in the table above.

[2] The Company elected practical expedients to exclude amounts related to (a) performance obligations with an original duration of one year or less, and (b) variable consideration related to future service periods.

In addition to amounts disclosed in the tables above, certain technology services and subscription contracts require fixed minimum fees, which are billed on a monthly or quarterly basis in arrears. The Company recognizes such revenue as services are performed. As of March 31, 2025, the estimated fixed minimum fees for the remainder of the year approximated $890 million. The term for these contracts, which are either in their initial or renewal period, ranges from one to five years.

17. Stock-Based Compensation

Restricted Stock Units ("RSUs")

Time-Based RSUs

RSU activity for the three months ended March 31, 2025 is summarized below.

Outstanding at	RSUs	Weighted-Average Grant Date Fair Value
December 31, 2024	2,297,665	$ 793.08
Granted	630,243	$ 1,001.67
Converted	(577,831)	$ 799.18
Forfeited	(29,476)	$ 813.67
March 31, 2025	2,320,601	$ 847.95

In January 2025, pursuant to the BlackRock, Inc. Third Amended and Restated 1999 Stock Award and Incentive Plan (the "Award Plan"), the Company granted as part of the 2024 annual incentive compensation approximately 332,000 RSUs to employees that vest ratably over three years from the grant date and approximately 216,000 RSUs to employees that cliff vest 100% on January 31, 2028. The Company values RSUs at their grant-date fair value as measured by BlackRock's common stock price. For certain incentive retention RSUs, which were granted in connection with the GIP Transaction in October of 2024, and which are not entitled to participate in dividends until they vest, the grant-date fair value was reduced by the present value of the dividends expected to be paid on the common shares during the vesting period, discounted at a risk-free interest rate. The grant-date fair market value of RSUs granted to employees during the three months ended March 31, 2025 was $631 million.

At March 31, 2025, the intrinsic value of outstanding RSUs was $2.2 billion, reflecting a closing stock price of $946.

At March 31, 2025, total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to unvested RSUs was $1.3 billion. The unrecognized compensation cost is expected to be recognized over the remaining weighted-average period of 2.3 years.

Performance-Based RSUs

Performance-based RSU activity for the three months ended March 31, 2025 is summarized below.

Outstanding at	Performance-Based RSUs	Weighted-Average Grant Date Fair Value	Performance-Based RSUs In Connection with the GIP Transaction	Weighted-Average Grant Date Fair Value	Total Performance-Based RSUs	Weighted-Average Grant Date Fair Value
December 31, 2024	451,042	$ 788.61	210,505	$ 845.48	661,547	$ 806.71

Forfeited	(2,721)	$ 771.55	(3,459)	$ 845.48	(6,180)	$ 812.93
March 31, 2025	458,376	$ 839.35	207,046	$ 845.48	665,422	$ 841.26

In January 2025, the Company granted approximately 136,000 performance-based RSUs to certain employees that cliff vest 100% on January 31, 2028. These awards are amortized over a service period of three years. The number of shares distributed at vesting could be higher or lower than the original grant based on the level of attainment of predetermined Company performance measures. In January 2025, the Company reduced the number of original shares granted in 2022 by 71,866 RSUs based on the level of attainment of Company performance measures during the performance period.

The Company values performance-based RSUs at their grant-date fair value as measured by BlackRock's common stock price. The incentive retention performance-based RSUs granted in connection with the GIP Transaction in October 2024 mentioned above, are not entitled to participate in dividends until they vest, hence the grant-date fair value of the awards are reduced by the present value of the dividends expected to be paid on the common shares during the vesting period, discounted at a risk-free interest rate. The total grant-date fair market value of performance-based RSUs granted (including impact due to performance measures) to employees during the three months ended March 31, 2025 was $76 million.

At March 31, 2025, the intrinsic value of outstanding performance-based RSUs was $630 million, reflecting a closing stock price of $946.

At March 31, 2025, total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to unvested performance-based awards was $397 million. The unrecognized compensation cost is expected to be recognized over the remaining weighted-average period of 2.4 years.

Performance-Based Stock Options

In 2017, pursuant to the Award Plan, the Company awarded performance-based stock option grants to certain employees ("2017 Performance-based Options"). Vesting of 2017 Performance-based Options was contingent upon the achievement of obtaining 125% of BlackRock's grant-date stock price within five years from the grant date and the attainment of Company performance measures during the four-year performance period. Both hurdles have been achieved, and each of the three tranches of the awards vested in equal installments at the end of 2022, 2023 and 2024, respectively. Vested 2017 Performance-based Options are exercisable for up to nine years following the grant date. The expense for each tranche has been amortized over the respective requisite service period. The aggregate intrinsic value of 2017 Performance-based Options exercised during the three months ended March 31, 2025 was $51 million.

On May 30, 2023, pursuant to the Award Plan, the Company awarded performance-based options to purchase 814,482 shares of BlackRock common stock to certain employees as long-term incentive compensation ("2023 Performance-based Options"). Vesting of 2023 Performance-based Options is contingent upon the achievement of obtaining 130% of grant-date stock price over 60 calendar days within four years from the grant date and attainment of a predetermined Company performance measure during the three-year performance period. As of March 31, 2025, the price hurdle was achieved and the Company assumes that the performance measure will be achieved. Accordingly, the awards are expected to vest in three tranches of 25%, 25% and 50% in May 2027, 2028 and 2029, respectively. Vested 2023 Performance-based Options are exercisable for up to nine years following the grant date, and the awards are forfeited if the employee resigns before the respective vesting date. The expense for each tranche is amortized over the respective requisite service period.

Time-Based Stock Options

On May 30, 2023, pursuant to the Award Plan, the Company awarded time-based stock options to purchase 326,391 shares of BlackRock common stock to certain employees as long-term incentive compensation ("2023 Time-based Options"). These awards will vest in three tranches of 25%, 25% and 50% in May 2027, 2028 and 2029, respectively. Vested 2023 Time-based Options can be exercised up to nine years following the grant date, and the awards are forfeited if the employee resigns before the respective vesting date. The expense is amortized over the respective requisite service period.

See Note 18, Stock-Based Compensation, in the 2024 Form 10-K for more information on RSUs, performance-based RSUs and stock options.

18. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is required to maintain net capital in certain regulated subsidiaries within a number of jurisdictions, which is partially maintained by retaining cash and cash equivalent investments in those subsidiaries or jurisdictions. As a result, such subsidiaries of the Company may be restricted in their ability to transfer cash between different jurisdictions and to their parents. Additionally, transfers of cash between international jurisdictions may have adverse tax consequences that could discourage such transfers.

At March 31, 2025, the Company was required to maintain approximately $1.9 billion in net capital in certain regulated subsidiaries, including BlackRock Institutional Trust Company, N.A. (a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, which is chartered as a national bank whose powers are limited to trust and other fiduciary activities and which is subject to regulatory capital requirements administered by the US Office of the Comptroller of the Currency), entities regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and Prudential Regulation Authority in the UK, and the Company's broker-dealers. The Company was in compliance with all applicable regulatory net capital requirements.

19. Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)

The following table presents changes in AOCI for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
(in millions)	2025	2024
Beginning balance	$ (1,178)	$ (840)
Foreign currency translation adjustments[1]	227	(93)
Ending balance	$ (951)	$ (933)

[1] Amount for the three months ended March 31, 2025 includes a loss from a net investment hedge of $34 million (net of tax benefit of $11 million). Amount for the three months ended March 31, 2024 includes a gain from a net investment hedge of $13 million (net of tax expense of $4 million).

20. Capital Stock

Share Repurchases. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company repurchased 0.4 million common shares under the Company's existing share repurchase program for approximately $375 million. At March 31, 2025, there were approximately 3.4 million shares still authorized to be repurchased under the program. The timing and actual number of shares repurchased will depend on a variety of factors, including legal limitations, price and market conditions.

21. Income Taxes

Income tax expense for the three months ended March 31, 2025 included a $149 million discrete tax benefit related to the realization of capital losses from changes in the Company's organizational structure and a $46 million discrete tax benefit related to stock-based compensation awards that vested in the first quarter.

Income tax expense for the three months ended March 31, 2024 included a discrete tax benefit of $137 million recognized in connection with the reorganization and establishment of a more efficient global intellectual property and technology platform and corporate structure. In addition, for the three months ended March 31, 2024 income tax expense included $28 million of additional discrete tax benefits, including a benefit related to stock-based compensation awards that vested in the first quarter.

22. Earnings Per Share

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 under the treasury stock method:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
(in millions, except shares and per share data)	2025	2024
Net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc.	$ 1,510	$ 1,573
Basic weighted-average shares outstanding	155,038,772	148,689,172
Dilutive effect of:
Nonparticipating RSUs	1,111,006	944,335
Stock options	482,245	491,675
Total diluted weighted-average shares outstanding	156,632,023	150,125,182
Basic earnings per share	$ 9.74	$ 10.58
Diluted earnings per share	$ 9.64	$ 10.48

The amount of anti-dilutive RSUs was immaterial for three months ended March 31, 2025. For the three months ended March 31, 2024, 338,300 shares primarily related to stock options were excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS because to include them would have an anti-dilutive effect. Certain performance-based RSUs for the three months ended March 31, 2025, and certain performance-based RSUs and options for the three months ended March 31, 2024 were excluded from the diluted EPS calculation because the designated contingencies were not met.

24. Subsequent Events

In December 2024, BlackRock announced that it had entered into a definitive agreement to acquire 100% of the business and assets of HPS Investment Partners ("HPS"), a leading global credit investment manager with 100% of the consideration paid in BlackRock equity (the "HPS Transaction"). The equity will generally be delivered in units of a wholly-owned subsidiary of BlackRock ("SubCo Units") which will be exchangeable on a one-for-one basis (subject to certain adjustments) into BlackRock common stock (accordingly, the value of each unit delivered will be based on the price of a share of BlackRock's common stock and the specific terms of the SubCo Units). Approximately 9.2 million SubCo Units and RSUs will be paid at closing. Approximately 2.9 million SubCo Units will be paid in approximately five years, subject to the satisfaction of certain post-closing conditions. In addition, there is potential for additional consideration to be earned of up to 1.6 million SubCo Units that is based on financial performance milestones measured and paid in approximately five years. Of the total deal consideration, up to 0.7 million units will be used to fund an equity retention pool for HPS employees. In aggregate, inclusive of all SubCo Units paid at closing, eligible to be paid in approximately five years, and potentially earned through achievement of financial performance milestones as well as BlackRock RSUs to be issued in the transaction, the maximum amount of common stock issuable upon exchange of such SubCo Units would be approximately 13.7 million shares. The Company expects the addition of HPS will create an integrated private credit platform to provide both public and private income solutions for clients across their whole portfolios. The HPS Transaction is anticipated to close in mid-2025 subject to regulatory approvals and customary closing conditions.

In April 2025, the Company issued €1.0 billion (or approximately $1.1 billion based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) in aggregate principal amount of 3.75% senior unsecured and unsubordinated notes maturing July 18, 2035 (the "2035 Notes"). The 2035 Notes are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Net proceeds are being used for general corporate purposes, including the repayment of the €700 million (or approximately $756 million based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) 1.25% Notes in May 2025 at maturity. Interest of approximately €38 million (or approximately $41 million based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) per year is payable annually on July 18 of each year commencing on July 18, 2025. The 2035 Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed (the "Guarantee") on a senior unsecured basis by Old BlackRock. The 2035 Notes and the Guarantee rank equally in right of payment with all of New BlackRock and Old BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness, respectively. The 2035 Notes may be redeemed at the option of the Company, in whole or in part, at any time prior to April 18, 2035 at a "make-whole" redemption price, or thereafter at 100% of the principal amount of the 2035 Notes, in each case plus accrued but unpaid interest. The unamortized discount and debt issuance costs are being amortized over the remaining term of the 2035 Notes.

In April 2025, the 2025 Credit Facility was amended to, among other things, (1) increase the aggregate commitment amount by $500 million to $5.9 billion, (2) extend the maturity date to March 2030 for lenders (other than one non-extending lender) pursuant to the Company's option to request extensions of the maturity date available under the 2025 Credit Facility (with the commitment of the non-extending lender maturing in March 2028) and (3) change the threshold for the maximum leverage ratio to 3.5 to 1. The amended 2025 Credit Facility also permits the Company to request up to an additional $1.4 billion of borrowing capacity, subject to lender credit approval, which could increase the overall size of the 2025 Credit Facility to an aggregate principal amount of up to $7.3 billion.

The Company conducted a review for additional subsequent events and determined that no subsequent events had occurred that would require accrual or additional disclosures.

Three Months Ended March 31, 2025 Compared with Three Months Ended March 31, 2024

GAAP. Operating income of $1.7 billion increased $5 million, while operating margin of 32.2% decreased 360 bps from the three months ended March 31, 2024. Operating income and operating margin reflected higher revenue, including higher investment advisory and administration fees (collectively "base fees"), driven by the positive impact of markets, organic base fee growth, and fees related to the GIP Transaction, as well as higher technology services and subscription revenue, including the partial impact from the Preqin Transaction, partially offset by lower performance fees. The increase in revenue was more than offset by higher expense for the three months ended March 31, 2025, which was impacted by the acquisition-related costs in connection with the GIP and Preqin Transactions, including amortization of intangible assets and other acquisition-related costs, such as retention-related deferred compensation expense and general and administration expense primarily related to a contingent consideration fair value adjustment and professional services.

Nonoperating income (expense) less net income (loss) attributable to noncontrolling interests ("NCI") decreased $110 million from the three months ended March 31, 2024, driven by higher interest expense and lower noncash mark-to-market net gain (loss) on revaluation of investments, partially offset by higher interest and dividend income.

First quarter 2025 income tax expense included a $149 million discrete tax benefit related to the realization of capital losses from changes in the Company's organizational structure and a $46 million discrete tax benefit related to stock-based compensation awards that vested in the first quarter. First quarter 2024 income tax expense included a discrete tax benefit of $137 million recognized in connection with the reorganization and establishment of a more efficient global intellectual property and technology platform and corporate structure. In addition, first quarter 2024 income tax expense included $28 million of additional discrete tax benefits, including a benefit related to stock-based compensation awards that vested in the first quarter.

Earnings per diluted common share decreased $0.84, or 8%, from the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily driven by the impact of higher acquisition-related costs, lower nonoperating income and a higher diluted share count in the current quarter, partially offset by a lower effective tax rate.

As Adjusted. Operating income of $2.0 billion increased $257 million and operating margin of 43.2% increased 100 bps from the three months ended March 31, 2024. The acquisition-related expenses described above have been excluded from as adjusted results. Earnings per diluted common share increased $1.49, or 15%, from the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily reflecting higher operating income and a lower effective tax rate in the current quarter, partially offset by lower nonoperating income and a higher diluted share count. In addition, income tax expense, as adjusted, for the first quarter of 2024 excluded the $137 million discrete tax benefit described above.

See Non-GAAP Financial Measures for further information on as adjusted items and the reconciliation to GAAP.

For further discussion of BlackRock's revenue, expense, nonoperating results and income tax expense, see Discussion of Financial Results herein.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

BlackRock reports its financial results in accordance with GAAP; however, management believes evaluating the Company's ongoing operating results may be enhanced if investors have additional non-GAAP financial measures. Adjustments to GAAP financial measures ("non-GAAP adjustments") include certain items management deems nonrecurring or that occur infrequently, transactions that ultimately will not impact BlackRock's book value or certain tax items that do not impact cash flow. Management reviews non-GAAP financial measures, in addition to GAAP financial measures, to assess ongoing operations and considers them to be helpful, for both management and investors, in evaluating BlackRock's financial performance over time. Management also uses non-GAAP financial measures as a benchmark to compare its performance with other companies and to enhance comparability for the reporting periods presented. Non-GAAP financial measures may pose limitations because they do not include all of BlackRock's revenue and expense. BlackRock's management does not advocate that investors consider such non-GAAP financial measures in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures of other companies.

(1) Operating income, as adjusted, and operating margin, as adjusted: Management believes operating income, as adjusted, and operating margin, as adjusted, are effective indicators of BlackRock's financial performance over time, and, therefore, provide useful disclosure to investors. Management believes that operating margin, as adjusted, reflects the Company's long-term ability to manage ongoing costs in relation to its revenues. The Company uses operating margin, as adjusted, to assess the Company's financial performance, to determine the long-term and annual compensation of the Company's senior-level employees and to evaluate the Company's relative performance against industry peers. Furthermore, this metric eliminates margin variability arising from the accounting of revenues and expenses related to distributing different product structures in multiple distribution channels utilized by asset managers.

- Operating income, as adjusted, includes the following non-GAAP expense adjustments:

  (a) Compensation expense related to appreciation (depreciation) on deferred cash compensation plans. The Company excludes compensation expense related to the market valuation changes on certain deferred cash compensation plans, which the Company hedges economically. For these deferred cash compensation plans, the final value of the deferred amount to be distributed to employees in cash upon vesting is determined based on the returns on specified investment funds. The Company recognizes compensation expense for the appreciation (depreciation) of the deferred cash compensation liability in proportion to the vested amount of the award during a respective period, while the net gain (loss) to economically hedge these plans is immediately recognized in nonoperating income (expense), which creates a timing difference impacting net income. This timing difference will reverse and offset to zero over the life of the award at the end of the multi-year vesting period. Management believes excluding market valuation changes related to the deferred cash compensation plans in the calculation of operating income, as adjusted, provides useful disclosure to both management and investors of the Company's financial performance over time as these amounts are economically hedged, while also increasing comparability with other companies.

  (b) Acquisition-related costs. Acquisition-related costs include adjustments related to amortization of intangible assets, contingent consideration fair value adjustments incurred in connection with certain acquisitions and other acquisition-related costs, including compensation costs for nonrecurring retention-related deferred compensation and general and administration expense primarily related to professional services expense. Management believes excluding the impact of these expenses when calculating operating income, as adjusted, provides a helpful indication of the Company's financial performance over time, thereby providing helpful information for both management and investors while also increasing comparability with other companies.

- Revenue used for calculating operating margin, as adjusted, is reduced to exclude all of the Company's distribution fees, which are recorded as a separate line item on the condensed consolidated statements of income, as well as a portion of investment advisory fees received that is used to pay distribution and servicing costs. For certain products, based on distinct arrangements, distribution fees are collected by the Company and then passed-through to third-party client intermediaries. For other products, investment advisory fees are collected by the Company and a portion is passed-through to third-party client intermediaries. However, in both structures, the third-party client intermediary similarly owns the relationship with the retail client and is responsible for distributing the product and servicing the client. The amount of distribution and investment advisory fees fluctuates each period primarily based on a predetermined percentage of the value of AUM during the period. These fees also vary based on the type of investment product sold and the geographic location where it is sold. In addition, the Company may waive fees on certain products that could result in the reduction of payments to the third-party intermediaries.

(2) Nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted: Management believes nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, is an effective measure for reviewing BlackRock's nonoperating contribution to its results and provides comparability of this information among reporting periods. Nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, excludes the gain (loss) on the economic hedge of certain deferred cash compensation plans. As the gain (loss) on investments and derivatives used to hedge these compensation plans over time substantially offsets the compensation expense related to the market valuation changes on these deferred cash compensation plans, which is included in operating income, GAAP basis, management believes excluding the gain (loss) on the economic hedge of the deferred cash compensation plans when calculating nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, provides a useful measure for both management and investors of BlackRock's nonoperating results that impact book value.

(3) Net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted: Management believes net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted, and diluted earnings per common share, as adjusted, are useful measures of BlackRock's profitability and financial performance. Net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted, equals net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., GAAP basis, adjusted for certain items management deems nonrecurring or that occur infrequently, transactions that ultimately will not impact BlackRock's book value or certain tax items that do not impact cash flow.

For each period presented, the non-GAAP adjustments were tax effected at the respective blended rates applicable to the adjustments. The amount for income tax matters in the first quarter of 2024 included a discrete tax benefit of $137 million recognized in connection with the reorganization and establishment of a more efficient global intellectual property and technology platform and corporate structure. This discrete tax benefit has been excluded from as adjusted results due to the nonrecurring nature of the intellectual property reorganization.

Per share amounts reflect net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted, divided by diluted weighted-average common shares outstanding.

ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT

(4) Average AUM is calculated as the average of the month-end spot AUM amounts for the trailing four months.

AUM increased $33 billion to $11.58 trillion at March 31, 2025 from $11.55 trillion at December 31, 2024, driven by the positive impact of foreign exchange movements and net inflows, partially offset by net market depreciation.

Long-term net inflows of $83 billion were comprised of net inflows of $107 billion and $13 billion from ETFs and retail clients, respectively, partially offset by net outflows of $37 billion from institutional clients. Net flows in long-term products are described below.

- ETFs net inflows of $107 billion were led by equity and fixed income ETFs net inflows of $65 billion and $34 billion, respectively. Active ETFs contributed $9 billion of net inflows and digital asset ETPs generated $3 billion of net inflows in the first quarter.
- Retail net inflows of $13 billion were driven by net inflows into equity products, largely reflecting net inflows in Aperio, multi-asset and systematic liquid alternatives funds.
- Institutional active net inflows of $8 billion were driven by infrastructure private markets, LifePath® target-date strategies and systematic active equity offerings. These inflows were partially offset by several client-specific redemptions from active fixed income, primarily due to re-insurance activity.
- Institutional index net outflows of $46 billion were concentrated in low-fee index equity offerings, partially offset by net inflows into fixed income products.

Cash management AUM increased to $931 billion, reflecting growth in the Circle Reserve Fund, partially offset by seasonal redemptions from US government funds.

Net market depreciation of $136 billion was primarily driven by US equity market depreciation.

AUM increased $92 billion due to the impact of foreign exchange movements, primarily due to the weakening of the US dollar, largely against the euro, the British pound and the Japanese yen.

(4) Foreign exchange reflects the impact of translating non-US dollar denominated AUM into US dollars for reporting purposes.
(5) Average AUM is calculated as the average of the month-end spot AUM amounts for the trailing thirteen months.

AUM increased $1.1 trillion to $11.6 trillion at March 31, 2025 from $10.5 trillion at March 31, 2024, driven by net inflows, net market appreciation, and AUM added from the GIP Transaction.

Long-term net inflows of $496 billion were comprised of net inflows of $431 billion, $35 billion and $30 billion from ETFs, institutional and retail clients, respectively. Net flows in long-term products are described below.

- ETFs net inflows of $431 billion were led by equity and fixed income ETFs, which saw $265 billion and $128 billion of net inflows, respectively. Digital assets ETPs contributed $30 billion driven by flows into the Company's Bitcoin ETP, and Active ETFs generated $21 billion of net inflows.
- Institutional active net inflows of $58 billion were led by multi-asset and infrastructure private markets net inflows. Multi-asset net inflows included the impact of several large outsourcing mandates and continued growth of the Company's LifePath target-date strategies. Inflows were partially offset by the impact of several client-specific redemptions from active fixed income, primarily due to re-insurance activity.
- Institutional index net outflows of $23 billion were concentrated in low-fee index equity offerings, partially offset by net inflows into fixed income products.
- Retail net inflows of $30 billion were led by net inflows into equity strategies reflecting demand for Aperio and net inflows into fixed income strategies.

Cash management AUM increased to $931 billion, primarily due to net inflows into US government and international money market funds.

Net market appreciation of $381 billion was primarily driven by global equity and fixed income market appreciation.

AUM decreased $4 billion due to the impact of foreign exchange movements, primarily resulting from the strengthening of the US dollar against the Canadian dollar, the Mexican peso and the Australian dollar, partially offset by the weakening of the US dollar, largely against the British pound and the Japanese yen.

Three Months Ended March 31, 2025 Compared with Three Months Ended March 31, 2024

Revenue increased $548 million, or 12%, from the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily driven by organic base fee growth, the impact of market beta on average AUM, fees related to the GIP Transaction and higher technology services and subscription revenue, including the partial impact of the Preqin Transaction, which closed on March 3, 2025, partially offset by lower performance fees.

Investment advisory, administration fees and securities lending revenue of $4.4 billion increased $623 million from $3.8 billion for the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily driven by organic base fee growth, the impact of market beta on average AUM and approximately $285 million of fees related to the GIP Transaction, partially offset by the effect of one fewer day in the current quarter. Securities lending revenue of $157 million increased from $151 million for the three months ended March 31, 2024.

Investment advisory performance fees of $60 million decreased $144 million from $204 million for the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily reflecting lower revenue from private markets and liquid alternative products.

Technology services and subscription revenue of $436 million increased $59 million from $377 million for the three months ended March 31, 2024, reflecting the sustained demand for Aladdin technology offerings and the partial impact from the Preqin Transaction, which added approximately $20 million to first quarter revenue.

Employee compensation and benefits expense of $1.7 billion increased $161 million from $1.6 billion for the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily reflecting the impact of the GIP Transaction, including nonrecurring retention-related deferred compensation expense[(1)], partially offset by the impact of lower performance fees.

Sales, asset and account expense of $1.0 billion increased $121 million from $888 million for the three months ended March 31, 2024, driven by higher direct fund expense and distribution and servicing costs, primarily reflecting higher average AUM.

General and administration expense of $711 million increased $182 million from $529 million for the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily associated with acquisition-related costs[(1)], including a contingent consideration fair value adjustment in connection with the GIP Transaction and higher transaction costs recorded in professional services expense. The general and administration expense increase from the first quarter of 2024 also included higher technology expense, marketing and promotional expense, including the impact from higher travel and entertainment expense, and higher occupancy and office related expense.

Amortization of intangible assets[(1)] of $117 million increased $79 million from $38 million for the three months ended March 31, 2024, primarily reflecting amortization of intangible assets acquired in the GIP and Preqin Transactions.

As Adjusted Statement of Financial Condition

The following table presents a reconciliation of the condensed consolidated statement of financial condition presented on a GAAP basis to the condensed consolidated statement of financial condition, excluding the impact of separate account assets and separate account collateral held under securities lending agreements (directly related to lending separate account securities) and separate account liabilities and separate account collateral liabilities under securities lending agreements and consolidated sponsored investment products ("CIPs").

The Company presents the as adjusted statement of financial condition as additional information to enable investors to exclude certain assets that have equal and offsetting liabilities or NCI that ultimately do not have an impact on stockholders' equity or cash flows. Management views the as adjusted statement of financial condition, which contains non-GAAP financial measures, as an economic presentation of the Company's total assets and liabilities; however, it does not advocate that investors consider such non-GAAP financial measures in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Separate Account Assets and Liabilities and Separate Account Collateral Held under Securities Lending Agreements

Separate account assets are maintained by BlackRock Life Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company that is a registered life insurance company in the UK, and represent segregated assets held for purposes of funding individual and group pension contracts. The Company records equal and offsetting separate account liabilities. The separate account assets are not available to creditors of the Company and the holders of the pension contracts have no recourse to the Company's assets. The net investment income attributable to separate account assets accrues directly to the contract owners and is not reported on the condensed consolidated statements of income. While BlackRock has no economic interest in these assets or liabilities, BlackRock earns an investment advisory fee for the service of managing these assets on behalf of its clients.

In addition, the Company records on its condensed consolidated statements of financial condition the separate account collateral obtained under BlackRock Life Limited securities lending arrangements for which it has legal title as its own asset in addition to an equal and offsetting separate account collateral liability for the obligation to return the collateral. The collateral is not available to creditors of the Company, and the borrowers under the securities lending arrangements have no recourse to the Company's assets.

Consolidated Sponsored Investment Products

The Company consolidates certain sponsored investment products accounted for as variable interest entities ("VIEs") and voting rights entities ("VREs"). See Note 2, Significant Accounting Policies, in the notes to the consolidated financial statements contained in the 2024 Form 10-K for more information on the Company's consolidation policy.

The Company cannot readily access cash and cash equivalents, or other assets held by CIPs to use in its operating activities. In addition, the Company cannot readily sell investments held by CIPs in order to obtain cash for use in the Company's operations.

(1) Amounts represent segregated client assets and related liabilities, in which BlackRock has no economic interest. BlackRock earns an investment advisory fee for the service of managing these assets on behalf of its clients.
(2) Amounts represent the impact of consolidating CIPs.
(3) Amount includes property and equipment and other assets.
(4) Amount includes approximately $4.5 billion of deferred income tax liabilities related to goodwill and intangibles.

The following discussion summarizes the significant changes in assets and liabilities on a GAAP basis. Please see the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 contained in Part I, Item 1 of this filing. The discussion does not include changes related to assets and liabilities that are equal and offsetting and have no impact on BlackRock's stockholders' equity.

Assets. Cash and cash equivalents at March 31, 2025 included $340 million of cash held by CIPs (see Liquidity and Capital Resources for details on the change in cash and cash equivalents during the three months ended March 31, 2025). Investments at March 31, 2025 increased $756 million from December 31, 2024 (for more information see Investments herein). Goodwill and intangible assets at March 31, 2025 increased $3.5 billion from December 31, 2024, primarily due to the Preqin Transaction, partially offset by amortization of intangible assets. Other assets at March 31, 2025 increased $3.6 billion from December 31, 2024, primarily related to an increase in unit trust receivables (substantially offset by an increase in unit trust payables recorded within other liabilities).

Liabilities. Accrued compensation and benefits at March 31, 2025 decreased $1.8 billion from December 31, 2024, primarily due to 2024 incentive compensation cash payments in the first quarter of 2025, partially offset by 2025 incentive compensation accruals. Contingent consideration liabilities at March 31, 2025 increased $88 million from December 31, 2024, primarily due to a contingent consideration fair value adjustment in connection with the GIP Transaction, largely related to changes in discount rate and passage of time. Other liabilities at March 31, 2025 increased $3.2 billion from December 31, 2024, primarily due to higher unit trust payables (substantially offset by an increase in unit trust receivables recorded within other assets). Net deferred income tax liabilities at March 31, 2025 increased $341 million from December 31, 2024, primarily due to the effects of temporary differences associated with the stock-based compensation and the Preqin Transaction.

Investments

The Company's investments were $10.5 billion and $9.8 billion at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively. Investments include CIPs accounted for as VIEs and VREs. Management reviews BlackRock's investments on an "economic" basis, which eliminates the NCI portion of investments that does not impact BlackRock's book value or net income attributable to BlackRock. BlackRock's management does not advocate that investors consider such non-GAAP financial measures in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP.

The Company presents investments, as adjusted, to enable investors to understand the economic portion of investments that is owned by the Company as a gauge to measure the impact of changes in net nonoperating income (expense) on investments to net income (loss) attributable to BlackRock.

The Company further presents net "economic" investment exposure, net of deferred cash compensation investments and hedged exposures, to reflect another helpful measure for investors. The economic impact of investments held pursuant to deferred cash compensation plans is substantially offset by a change in associated compensation expense, and the impact of the portfolio of seed investments is mitigated by futures entered into as part of the Company's macro hedging strategy. Carried interest capital allocations are excluded as there is no impact to BlackRock's stockholders' equity until such amounts are realized as performance fees. Finally, the Company's regulatory investment in Federal Reserve Bank stock, which is not subject to market or interest rate risk, is excluded from the Company's net economic investment exposure.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

BlackRock Cash Flows Excluding the Impact of CIPs

The condensed consolidated statements of cash flows include the cash flows of the CIPs. The Company uses an adjusted cash flow statement, which excludes the impact of CIPs, as a supplemental non-GAAP measure to assess liquidity and capital requirements. The Company believes that its cash flows, excluding the impact of the CIPs, provide investors with useful information on the cash flows of BlackRock relating to its ability to fund additional operating, investing and financing activities. BlackRock's management does not advocate that investors consider such non-GAAP measures in isolation from, or as a substitute for, its cash flows presented in accordance with GAAP.

The following table presents a reconciliation of the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows presented on a GAAP basis to the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows, excluding the impact of the cash flows of CIPs:

(in millions)	GAAP Basis	Impact on Cash Flows of CIPs	Cash Flows Excluding Impact of CIPs

Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash, March 31, 2025	$ 7,764	$ 340	$ 7,424

Sources of BlackRock's operating cash primarily include base fees and securities lending revenue, performance fees, technology services and subscription revenue, advisory and other revenue and distribution fees. BlackRock uses its cash to pay all operating expenses, interest and principal on borrowings, income taxes, dividends and repurchases of the Company's stock, acquisitions, capital expenditures and purchases of co-investments and seed investments.

For details of the Company's GAAP cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities, see the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows contained in Part I, Item 1 of this filing.

Cash flows provided by/(used in) operating activities, excluding the impact of CIPs, primarily include the receipt of base fees, securities lending revenue, performance fees and technology services and subscription revenue, offset by the payment of operating expenses incurred in the normal course of business, including year-end incentive and deferred cash compensation accrued during prior years, and income tax payments.

Cash flows used in investing activities, excluding the impact of CIPs, for the three months ended March 31, 2025 were $3.5 billion, primarily reflecting $3.1 billion related to the Preqin Transaction, $330 million of net purchases of investments and $78 million of purchases of property and equipment.

Cash flows used in financing activities, excluding the impact of CIPs, for the three months ended March 31, 2025 were $1.4 billion, primarily resulting from $838 million of cash dividend payments and $657 million of share repurchases, including $375 million in open market transactions and $282 million of employee tax withholdings related to employee stock transactions.

The Company manages its financial condition and funding to maintain appropriate liquidity for the business. Management believes that the Company's liquid assets, continuing cash flows from operations, borrowing capacity under the Company's existing revolving credit facility and uncommitted commercial paper private placement program, provide sufficient resources to meet the Company's short-term and long-term cash needs, including operating, debt and other obligations as they come due and anticipated future capital requirements. Liquidity resources at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 were as follows:

Cash and cash equivalents[1]	$ 7,747	$ 12,762
Cash and cash equivalents held by CIPs[2]	(340)	(169)
Subtotal[3]	7,407	12,593
Credit facility – undrawn[4]	5,400	5,400
Total liquidity resources	$ 12,807	$ 17,993

(1) Amounts exclude restricted cash.
(2) The Company cannot readily access such cash and cash equivalents to use in its operating activities.
(3) The percentage of cash and cash equivalents held by the Company's US subsidiaries was approximately 40% and 65% at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively. See Net Capital Requirements herein for more information on net capital requirements in certain regulated subsidiaries.
(4) In April 2025, the aggregate commitment of the credit facility was increased from $5.4 billion to $5.9 billion. See Short-Term Borrowings herein for more information.

Total liquidity resources decreased $5.2 billion during the three months ended March 31, 2025, primarily reflecting $3.1 billion related to the Preqin Transaction, payments of 2024 year-end incentive awards, cash dividend payments of $838 million, and share repurchases of $657 million, partially offset by cash flows from other operating activities.

A significant portion of the Company's $8.6 billion of investments, as adjusted, is illiquid in nature and, as such, cannot be readily convertible to cash.

Share Repurchases. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company repurchased 0.4 million common shares under the Company's existing share repurchase program for approximately $375 million. At March 31, 2025, there were approximately 3.4 million shares still authorized to be repurchased under the program. The timing and actual number of shares repurchased will depend on a variety of factors, including legal limitations, price and market conditions.

Net Capital Requirements. The Company is required to maintain net capital in certain regulated subsidiaries within a number of jurisdictions, which is partially maintained by retaining cash and cash equivalent investments in those subsidiaries or jurisdictions. As a result, such subsidiaries of the Company may be restricted in their ability to transfer cash between different jurisdictions and to their parents. Additionally, transfers of cash between international jurisdictions may have adverse tax consequences that could discourage such transfers.

BlackRock Institutional Trust Company, N.A. ("BTC") is chartered as a national bank that does not accept deposits or make commercial loans and whose powers are limited to trust and other fiduciary activities. BTC provides investment management and other fiduciary services, including investment advisory and securities lending agency services, to institutional clients. BTC is subject to regulatory capital and liquid asset requirements administered by the US Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

At March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company was required to maintain approximately $1.9 billion and $1.8 billion, respectively, in net capital in certain regulated subsidiaries, including BTC, entities regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and Prudential Regulation Authority in the UK, and the Company's broker-dealers. The Company was in compliance with all applicable regulatory net capital requirements.

Short-Term Borrowings

2025 Revolving Credit Facility. The Company maintains an unsecured revolving credit facility (the "2025 Credit Facility") of $5.4 billion as of March 31, 2025, with a maturity date of March 2029 for lenders other than one non-extending lender and the commitment of the non-extending lender maturing in March 2028. The 2025 Credit Facility is available for working capital and general corporate purposes. The 2025 Credit Facility permits the Company to request up to an additional $1.0 billion of borrowing capacity, subject to lender credit approval, which could increase the overall size of the 2025 Credit Facility to an aggregate principal amount of up to $6.4 billion. Interest on outstanding borrowings accrues at an applicable benchmark rate for the denominated currency of the loan, plus a spread. The 2025 Credit Facility requires the Company not to exceed a maximum leverage ratio (ratio of net debt to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, where net debt equals total debt less unrestricted cash) of 3 to 1, which was satisfied with a ratio of less than 1 to 1 at March 31, 2025. At March 31, 2025, the Company had no amount outstanding under the 2025 Credit Facility.

In April 2025, the 2025 Credit Facility was amended to, among other things, (1) increase the aggregate commitment amount by $500 million to $5.9 billion, (2) extend the maturity date to March 2030 for lenders (other than one non-extending lender) pursuant to the Company's option to request extensions of the maturity date available under the 2025 Credit Facility (with the commitment of the non-extending lender maturing in March 2028) and (3) change the threshold for the maximum leverage ratio to 3.5 to 1. The amended 2025 Credit Facility also permits the Company to request up to an additional $1.4 billion of borrowing capacity, subject to lender credit approval, which could increase the overall size of the 2025 Credit Facility to an aggregate principal amount of up to $7.3 billion.

Commercial Paper Program. The Company may issue short-term unsecured commercial paper notes (the "CP Notes") on a private-placement basis up to a maximum aggregate amount outstanding at any time of $5 billion. The payments of the CP Notes have been unconditionally guaranteed by BlackRock Finance, Inc. (formerly known as BlackRock, Inc.) ("Old BlackRock") (the "CP Notes Guarantee"). The CP Notes will rank equal in right of payment with all of BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness, and the obligations of Old BlackRock under the CP Notes Guarantee will rank equal in right of payment with all of Old BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness. Net proceeds of issuances of the CP Notes are expected to be used for general corporate purposes. The commercial paper program is currently supported by the 2025 Credit Facility. At March 31, 2025, BlackRock had no CP Notes outstanding.

Subsidiary Credit Facility. BlackRock Investment Management (UK) Limited ("BIM UK"), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, maintains a revolving credit facility (the "Subsidiary Credit Facility") in the amount of £25 million (or approximately $32 million based on the GBP/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) with a rolling 364-day term structure. The Subsidiary Credit Facility is available for BIM UK's general corporate and working capital purposes. At March 31, 2025, there was no amount outstanding under the Subsidiary Credit Facility.

Long-Term Borrowings

At March 31, 2025, the principal amount of long-term notes outstanding was $12.5 billion. See Note 15, Borrowings, in the 2024 Form 10-K for more information on overall borrowings outstanding as of December 31, 2024.

During the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company paid approximately $168 million of interest on long-term notes. Future principal repayments and interest requirements at March 31, 2025 were as follows:

(in millions)

Year	Principal	Interest	Total Payments
Remainder of 2025[1]	$ 756	$ 298	$ 1,054
2026	—	461	461
2027	1,500	450	1,950
2028	—	402	402
2029	1,500	374	1,874
2030	1,000	334	1,334
Thereafter	7,700	3,901	11,601
Total	$ 12,456	$ 6,220	$ 18,676

[1] The amounts related to the 2025 Notes are calculated using the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate as of March 31, 2025. In May 2025, the Company fully repaid €700 million (or approximately $756 million based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) of 1.25% Notes at maturity.

2035 Notes. In April 2025, the Company issued €1.0 billion (or approximately $1.1 billion based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) in aggregate principal amount of 3.75% senior unsecured and unsubordinated notes maturing July 18, 2035 (the "2035 Notes"). The 2035 Notes are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Net proceeds are being used for general corporate purposes, including the repayment of the €700 million (or approximately $756 million based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) 1.25% Notes in May 2025 at maturity. Interest of approximately €38 million (or approximately $41 million based on the EUR/USD foreign exchange rate at March 31, 2025) per year is payable annually on July 18 of each year commencing on July 18, 2025. The 2035 Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed (the "Guarantee") on a senior unsecured basis by Old BlackRock. The 2035 Notes and the Guarantee rank equally in right of payment with all of the Company and Old BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness, respectively. The 2035 Notes may be redeemed at the option of the Company, in whole or in part, at any time prior to April 18, 2035 at a "make-whole" redemption price, or thereafter at 100% of the principal amount of the 2035 Notes, in each case plus accrued but unpaid interest. The unamortized discount and debt issuance costs are being amortized over the remaining term of the 2035 Notes.

Supplemental Guarantor Information

BlackRock, Inc. ("New BlackRock") is the issuer of 4.6% Notes due 2027, 4.7% Notes due 2029, 5.0% Notes due 2034, 4.9% Notes due 2035, 5.25% Notes due 2054 and 5.35% Notes due 2055 (collectively the "New BlackRock Notes"), which are fully and unconditionally guaranteed on a senior unsecured basis by Old BlackRock ("Notes Guarantees"). The New BlackRock Notes and the Notes Guarantees rank equally in right of payment with all of BlackRock's and Old BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness, respectively. No other subsidiary of BlackRock or Old BlackRock guarantees the New BlackRock Notes. The Notes Guarantees will be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and Old BlackRock will be released from all obligations under the indenture in its capacity as guarantor, in certain circumstances as described in the separate indentures governing the New BlackRock Notes. See Note 14, Borrowings, in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements for further information on New BlackRock Notes.

In October 2024, in connection with the closing of the GIP Transaction, New BlackRock also entered into a guarantee (the "New BlackRock Guarantee") pursuant to which New BlackRock fully and unconditionally guaranteed, on a senior unsecured basis, the remaining obligations of Old BlackRock with respect to its previously issued senior unsecured notes. The New BlackRock Guarantee ranks equally in right of payment with all of New BlackRock's other unsubordinated indebtedness. In certain circumstances as described in the New BlackRock Guarantee, the New BlackRock Guarantee will be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and New BlackRock will be released from all obligations under the New BlackRock Guarantee.

The following presents unaudited summarized financial information of BlackRock and Old BlackRock (together with BlackRock, the "Obligor Group") on a combined basis as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 and for the three months ended March 31, 2025. Intercompany balances and transactions between BlackRock and Old BlackRock have been eliminated, and balances and transactions with subsidiaries, which are not part of the Obligor Group, have been separately presented, and investments in and equity in earnings related to subsidiaries of BlackRock and Old BlackRock, which are not members of the Obligor Group, have been excluded.

Revenue during this period was not material.

Commitments and Contingencies

Contingent Consideration Liabilities. In connection with certain acquisitions, BlackRock is required to make contingent payments, subject to the achievement of specified performance targets or satisfaction of certain post-closing events. The fair value of any contingent consideration is estimated at the time of acquisition closing and is included in contingent consideration liabilities on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. The fair value of the remaining aggregate contingent payments at March 31, 2025 totaled $4.4 billion, including $4.3 billion related to the GIP Transaction, which, if any, will be settled all in stock, for a number of shares ranging from 4.0 million to 5.2 million shares, subject to achieving certain performance targets. See Note 3, Acquisitions, in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements for more information.

Investment Commitments. At March 31, 2025, the Company had $1.2 billion of various capital commitments to fund sponsored investment products, including CIPs. These products include various private market products, including private equity funds, real assets funds and opportunistic funds. This amount excludes additional commitments made by consolidated funds of funds to underlying third-party funds as third-party noncontrolling interest holders have the legal obligation to fund the respective commitments of such funds of funds. Generally, the timing of the funding of these commitments is unknown and the commitments are callable on demand at any time prior to the expiration of the commitment. These unfunded commitments are not recorded on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. These commitments do not include potential future commitments approved by the Company that are not yet legally binding. The Company intends to make additional capital commitments from time to time to fund additional investment products for, and with, its clients.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expense during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates. These estimates, judgments and assumptions are affected by the Company's application of accounting policies. Management considers the following accounting policies and estimates critical to understanding the condensed consolidated financial statements. These policies and estimates are considered critical because they had a material impact, or are reasonably likely to have a material impact on the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements and because they require management to make significant judgments, assumptions or estimates. For a summary of these and additional accounting policies as well as recent accounting developments, see Note 2, Significant Accounting Policies, in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements. In addition, see Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and Note 2, Significant Accounting Policies, in the 2024 Form 10-K for further information.

Consolidation. The Company consolidates entities in which the Company has a controlling financial interest. The Company has a controlling financial interest when it owns a majority of the VRE or is a primary beneficiary ("PB") of a VIE. Assessing whether an entity is a VIE or a VRE involves judgment and analysis on a structure-by-structure basis. Factors considered in this assessment include the entity's legal organization, the entity's capital structure, the rights of equity investment holders, the Company's contractual involvement with and economic interest in the entity and any related party or de facto agent implications of the Company's involvement with the entity. Entities that are determined to be VREs are consolidated if the Company can exert absolute control over the financial and operating policies of the investee, which generally exists if there is greater than 50% voting interest. Entities that are determined to be VIEs are consolidated if the Company is the PB of the entity. BlackRock is deemed to be the PB of a VIE if it (1) has the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the entities' economic performance and (2) has the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive benefits that potentially could be significant to the VIE. There is judgment involved in assessing whether the Company is the PB of a VIE. In addition, the Company's ownership interest in VIEs is subject to variability and is impacted by actions of other investors such as ongoing redemptions and contributions. The Company generally consolidates VIEs in which it holds an economic interest of 10% or greater and deconsolidates such VIEs once its economic interest falls below 10%. As of March 31, 2025, the Company was deemed to be the PB of approximately 115 VIEs, which are BlackRock sponsored investment products. See Note 6, Consolidated Sponsored Investment Products, in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements for more information.

Fair Value Measurements. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement according to the fair value hierarchy (i.e., Level 1, 2 and 3 inputs, as defined) in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the financial instrument. See Note 2, Significant Accounting Policies, and Note 8, Fair Value Disclosures, in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements for more information on fair value measurements.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets

The Company accounts for business combinations using the acquisition method of accounting, where the purchase price is allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their fair values at the date of the transaction. Any excess purchase consideration over the fair value of net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill.

The Company determines fair value of the tangible and identifiable intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed, using the best available information which incorporates various estimates and assumptions, including, but not limited to, future expected cash flows, fundraising assumptions, useful lives, and discount rates. These estimates are based on historical data, internal estimates, or external sources. Unanticipated events may affect these assumptions. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, BlackRock recorded finite-lived customer relationships and technology-related intangible assets in connection with the Preqin Transaction of approximately $1.1 billion and $125 million, respectively. The acquisition date fair value of customer relationships and technology-related intangible assets were determined using an income approach and a replacement cost approach, respectively, all of which applied certain significant assumptions, which are inherently uncertain and unpredictable. The assumptions used in the income approach primarily included discount rates ranging from 11.0%-11.5%, as well as estimated revenue projections, operating profits and tax rates. The assumptions used in the replacement cost approach primarily included a discount rate of 10.5% as well as estimated reproduction costs and third-party developer's profit and opportunity cost of capital invested. While the Company believes these assumptions to be reasonable and appropriate, changes in these estimates could produce different fair value amounts.

Contingent Consideration Liabilities

In connection with certain acquisitions, BlackRock is required to make contingent payments, subject to the achievement of specified performance targets or satisfaction of certain post-closing events. The fair value of this contingent consideration is estimated at the time of acquisition closing and is included in contingent consideration liabilities on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. The fair value of the remaining aggregate contingent payments at March 31, 2025 totaled $4.4 billion, including $4.3 billion related to the GIP Transaction, which, if any, will be settled all in stock, ranging from 4.0 million to 5.2 million shares, subject to achieving certain performance targets. The fair value of the GIP Transaction contingent consideration is estimated using the income approach, which included certain significant inputs such as a risk-free discount rate of approximately 3.9% as well as current estimates of the timing and amounts of fundraising forecasts, stock and AUM volatility, and correlation between stock price and AUM (Level 3 inputs). As the estimated fair value of the contingent consideration subsequently changes, contingent consideration liabilities are adjusted, resulting in contingent consideration fair value adjustments recorded within general and administration expense of the condensed consolidated statements of income until the contingency is resolved. Accordingly, changes in the key inputs and assumptions described will impact the amount of contingent consideration expense recorded in a reporting period.

Investment Advisory Performance Fees / Carried Interest

The Company receives investment advisory performance fees, including incentive allocations (carried interest) from certain actively managed investment funds and certain separately managed accounts ("SMAs"). These performance fees are dependent upon exceeding specified relative or absolute investment return thresholds, which vary by product or account, and include monthly, quarterly, annual or longer measurement periods.

Performance fees, including carried interest, are generated on certain management contracts when performance hurdles are achieved. Such performance fees are recognized when the contractual performance criteria have been met and when it is determined that they are no longer probable of significant reversal. Given the unique nature of each fee arrangement, contracts with customers are evaluated on an individual basis to determine the timing of revenue recognition. Significant judgment is involved in making such determination. Performance fees typically arise from investment management services that began in prior reporting periods. Consequently, a portion of the fees the Company recognizes may be partially related to the services performed in prior periods that meet the recognition criteria in the current period. At each reporting date, the Company considers various factors in estimating performance fees to be recognized, including carried interest. These factors include but are not limited to whether: (1) the amounts are dependent on the financial markets and, thus, are highly susceptible to factors outside the Company's influence; (2) the ultimate payments have a large number and a broad range of possible amounts; and (3) the funds or SMAs have the ability to (a) invest or reinvest their sales proceeds or (b) distribute their sales proceeds and determine the timing of such distributions.

The Company is allocated/distributed carried interest from certain alternative investment products upon exceeding performance thresholds. The Company may be required to reverse/return all, or part, of such carried interest allocations/distributions depending upon future performance of these products. Carried interest subject to such clawback provisions is recorded in investments or cash and cash equivalents to the extent that it is distributed, on its condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. The Company records a liability for deferred carried interest to the extent it receives cash or capital allocations related to carried interest prior to meeting the revenue recognition criteria. At both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the Company had $1.9 billion of deferred carried interest recorded in other liabilities on the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. A portion of the deferred carried interest may also be paid to certain employees and other third parties. The ultimate timing of the recognition of performance fee revenue and related compensation expense, if any, is unknown. See Note 16, Revenue, in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements for detailed changes in the deferred carried interest liability balance for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

AUM Market Price Risk. BlackRock's investment advisory and administration fees are primarily comprised of fees based on a percentage of the value of AUM and, in some cases, performance fees expressed as a percentage of the returns realized on AUM. At March 31, 2025, the majority of the Company's investment advisory and administration fees were based on average or period end AUM of the applicable investment funds or separate accounts. Movements in equity market prices, interest rates/credit spreads, foreign exchange rates or all three could cause the value of AUM to decline, which would result in lower investment advisory and administration fees.

Corporate Investments Portfolio Risks. As a leading investment management firm, BlackRock devotes significant resources across all of its operations to identifying, measuring, monitoring, managing and analyzing market and operating risks, including the management and oversight of its own investment portfolio. The Board of Directors of the Company has adopted guidelines for the review of investments (or commitments to invest) to be made by the Company, requiring, among other things, that certain investments be referred to the Board of Directors, depending on the circumstances, for notification or approval.

In the normal course of its business, BlackRock is exposed to equity market price risk, interest rate/credit spread risk and foreign exchange rate risk associated with its corporate investments.

BlackRock has investments primarily in sponsored investment products that invest in a variety of asset classes, including real assets, private equity and hedge funds. Investments generally are made for co-investment purposes, to establish a performance track record, to hedge exposure to certain deferred cash compensation plans or for regulatory purposes. The Company has a seed capital hedging program in which it enters into futures to hedge market and interest rate exposure with respect to its total portfolio of seed investments in sponsored investment products. The Company had outstanding futures related to its seed capital hedging program with an aggregate notional value of approximately $1.8 billion at both March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024.

At March 31, 2025, approximately $6.3 billion of BlackRock's investments were held in consolidated sponsored investment products accounted for as variable interest entities or voting rights entities. Excluding the impact of the Federal Reserve Bank stock, carried interest, investments made to hedge exposure to certain deferred cash compensation plans and certain investments that are hedged via the seed capital hedging program, the Company's economic exposure to its investment portfolio is $4.4 billion. See Statement of Financial Condition Overview-Investments in Item 2, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for further information on the Company's investments.

Equity Market Price Risk. At March 31, 2025, the Company's net exposure to equity market price risk in its investment portfolio was approximately $2.1 billion of the Company's total economic investment exposure. Investments subject to market price risk include public and private equity and real assets investments, hedge funds and funds of funds as well as mutual funds. The Company estimates that a hypothetical exposure to a 10% adverse change in market prices would result in a decrease of approximately $214 million in the carrying value of such investments.

Interest Rate/Credit Spread Risk. At March 31, 2025, the Company was exposed to interest rate risk and credit spread risk as a result of approximately $2.3 billion of investments in debt securities and sponsored investment products that invest primarily in debt securities. Management considered a hypothetical exposure to an adverse 100 basis point fluctuation in interest rates or credit spreads and estimates that the impact of such a fluctuation on these investments, in the aggregate, would result in a decrease, or increase, of approximately $71 million in the carrying value of such investments.

Foreign Exchange Rate Risk. As discussed above, the Company invests in sponsored investment products that invest in a variety of asset classes. The carrying value of the total economic investment exposure denominated in foreign currencies, primarily based in the British pound and euro, was approximately $1.4 billion at March 31, 2025. A hypothetical exposure to a 10% adverse change in the applicable foreign exchange rates would result in approximately a $138 million decline in the carrying value of such investments.

Other Market Risks. The Company executes forward foreign currency exchange contracts to mitigate the risk of certain foreign exchange risk movements. At March 31, 2025, the Company had outstanding forward foreign currency exchange contracts with an aggregate notional value of approximately $3.1 billion, with expiration dates primarily in April 2025. In addition, the Company entered into futures to hedge economically the exposure to market movements on certain deferred cash compensation plans. At March 31, 2025, the Company had outstanding exchange traded futures with aggregate notional values related to its deferred cash compensation hedging program of approximately $218 million, with expiration dates during the second quarter of 2025.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Disclosure Controls and Procedures. Under the direction of BlackRock's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, BlackRock evaluated the effectiveness of its disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) as of the end of the period covered by this quarterly report on Form 10-Q. Based on this evaluation, BlackRock's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that BlackRock's disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting. There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended March 31, 2025 that have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect our internal control over financial reporting.

In January 2023, the Company announced that the Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of an additional seven million shares under the Company's existing share repurchase program, for a total of up to approximately 7.9 million shares of BlackRock common stock.

End of year refers to the date used to calculate your regulatory assets under management for purposes of your annual updating amendment . Mid-year is the date six months before the end of year date. Each column should add up to 100% and numbers should be rounded to the nearest percent.

Investments in derivatives, registered investment companies, business development companies, and pooled investment vehicles should be reported in those categories. Do not report those investments based on related or underlying portfolio assets. Cash equivalents include bank deposits, certificates of deposit, bankers' acceptances and similar bank instruments.

Some assets could be classified into more than one category or require discretion about which category applies. You may use your own internal methodologies and the conventions of your service providers in determining how to categorize assets, so long as the methodologies or conventions are consistently applied and consistent with information you report internally and to current and prospective clients. However, you should not double count assets, and your responses must be consistent with any instructions or other guidance relating to this Section.

If "yes," then for each private fund that you advise, you must complete a Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D, except in certain circumstances described in the next sentence and in Instruction 6 of the Instructions to Part 1A. If you are registered or applying for registration with the SEC or reporting as an SEC exempt reporting adviser, and another SEC-registered adviser or SEC exempt reporting adviser reports this information with respect to any such private fund in Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D of its Form ADV (e.g., if you are a subadviser), do not complete Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D with respect to that private fund. You must, instead, complete Section 7.B.(2) of Schedule D.

In either case, if you seek to preserve the anonymity of a private fund client by maintaining its identity in your books and records in numerical or alphabetical code, or similar designation, pursuant to rule 204-2(d), you may identify the private fund in Section 7.B.(1) or 7.B.(2) of Schedule D using the same code or designation in place of the fund's name.

Item 11 Disclosure Information

In this Item, we ask for information about your disciplinary history and the disciplinary history of all your advisory affiliates. We use this information to determine whether to grant your application for registration, to decide whether to revoke your registration or to place limitations on your activities as an investment adviser, and to identify potential problem areas to focus on during our on-site examinations. One event may result in "yes" answers to more than one of the questions below. In accordance with General Instruction 5 to Form ADV, "you" and "your" include the filing adviser and all relying advisers under an umbrella registration.

Your advisory affiliates are: (1) all of your current employees (other than employees performing only clerical, administrative, support or similar functions); (2) all of your officers, partners, or directors (or any person performing similar functions); and (3) all persons directly or indirectly controlling you or controlled by you. If you are a "separately identifiable department or division" (SID) of a bank, see the Glossary of Terms to determine who your advisory affiliates are.

If you are registered or registering with the SEC or if you are an exempt reporting adviser, you may limit your disclosure of any event listed in Item 11 to ten years following the date of the event. If you are registered or registering with a state, you must respond to the questions as posed; you may, therefore, limit your disclosure to ten years following the date of an event only in responding to Items 11.A.(1), 11.A.(2), 11.B.(1), 11.B.(2), 11.D.(4), and 11.H.(1)(a). For purposes of calculating this ten-year period, the date of an event is the date the final order, judgment, or decree was entered, or the date any rights of appeal from preliminary orders, judgments, or decrees lapsed.

Item 12 Small Businesses

The SEC is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act to consider the effect of its regulations on small entities. In order to do this, we need to determine whether you meet the definition of "small business" or "small organization" under rule 0-7.

Answer this Item 12 only if you are registered or registering with the SEC and you indicated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) that you have regulatory assets under management of less than $25 million. You are not required to answer this Item 12 if you are filing for initial registration as a state adviser, amending a current state registration, or switching from SEC to state registration.

For purposes of this Item 12 only:

- Total Assets refers to the total assets of a firm, rather than the assets managed on behalf of clients. In determining your or another person's total assets, you may use the total assets shown on a current balance sheet (but use total assets reported on a consolidated balance sheet with subsidiaries included, if that amount is larger).
- Control means the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through ownership of securities, by contract, or otherwise. Any person that directly or indirectly has the right to vote 25 percent or more of the voting securities, or is entitled to 25 percent or more of the profits, of another person is presumed to control the other person.

Item 5.F.(2)(c) of Form ADV) of $25 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?

(2) controlled by or under common control with another person (other than a natural person) that had total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year? ○ ○
